Moscow's Millions Give Space Hero Roaring Welcome

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev, weeping with emotion, brought spaceman Yuri Gagarin home to Moscow today and the city's millions hailed him as the space age Columbus in a roaring welcome no Stalin or czar ever received.

A near mob scene developed in Red Square and women fainted in the crush as the crowd tried to press toward the marble Lenin-Stalin mausoleum on which Gagarin and Khrushchev stood with other dignitaries.

Gagarin drew roars when he said he and his fellow cosmonauts are "ready at any time" for more space flights. And Khrushchev said the Soviets would send more "space swallows" out and "leave other states behind." He left no doubt he was referring to the United States.

Eyes downcast and modest throughout the tumult, the 27-year-old carpenter's son lost his reserve only when he greeted his wife and clasped her for 30 seconds in a hug and kiss while tens of thousands of Russians cheered.

The Soviet premier jumped up and down excitedly as he greeted Gagarin. He kissed and bearhugged the flier, who was dressed in the uniform of a Soviet air force major. In his speech to a vast crowd in Red Square, Khrushchev compared Gagarin to Christopher Columbus.

"His name will live forever in the history of mankind," the premier said.

After the ceremonies at the airport and a triumphal ride past two million singing, flower-throwing Muscovites to Red Square, Gagarin was guest of honor at a reception in St. George's Hall of the Kremlin.

Foreign observers agreed that never in the 805-year-old tumultuous history of Moscow has there been such an outpouring of public affection. The city belonged to the man who was orbited in space Wednesday for 108 minutes and returned safe and sound.

He arrived at Vnukovo airport a few minutes before the Ilyushin airliner bringing in Gagarin from an undisclosed space center in the interior. Alighting from the plane, Gagarin saluted Khrushchev and reported that he "successfully accomplished my assignment for the Communist Party and government."

Khrushchev kissed him, pounded him on the back and hugged him for 25 seconds while the crowd roared.

Then, with tears streaming down his cheeks, Khrushchev led Gagarin to his waiting wife, Valentina, 26, and his father and mother.

The family burst into tears. Valentina fell into the arms of her husband.

Mrs. Khrushchev came up and she, too, embraced the man hailed as the first space age hero.

Gagarin stood up, looking modest, to receive the accolade.

OIL TRUCK CRASH SOAKS THE MAIL

Twelve hundred gallons of oil poured down the drainage ditch on a steep section of Molino Avenue in Mill Valley at 10:50 a.m. today after truck in background, driven by Ronald Wallis Anderson of 2895 Arundel Way, Mill Valley, went out of control when gears "popped out." Anderson climbed out of the wreck but was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of cuts on right knee and leg. The oil soaked mail in mailbox of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Good of 473 Molino Avenue, seen examining the result. Bryan Fabian of Richmond, the truck owner, said the oil was used crankcase oil from a farm farther up the hill, being taken for sale for re-processing. (Independent-Journal photo)

Blaze Guts Black Point House; Fireman Injured

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero said the blaze which tore through the four-room home at 64 Hillside Terrace was possibly started by a cigarette in the couch in the front room. He estimated damage to the house at $3,500. He made no estimate of damage to the contents.

A/2c Boyce N. O'Coy, stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, was asleep in the bedroom when the fire started.

Ernest Schallinger, sales manager for Western Builders-Empire Glass Co. of San Francisco, who lives at 31 Hillside Terrace, across the street from the burned home, called Novato firemen at 10:12 p.m.

Schallinger said he was in his kitchen reading when he heard a crackling sound. He opened a side door and saw the top of the house across the street "all in flames."

He ran out to the street and was met by O'Coy, who was running towards Schallinger's house. O'Coy shouted: "Can you call the fire department, quick?"

O'Coy and John Carney, also stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, rent the house from Mrs. Della Redding of 47 Lauren Avenue, Novato. O'Coy told firemen Carney was in Calistoga at the time of the fire.

Industry Output Decline Halted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial production held even in March while some other key economic indicators rose, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

After declining for seven consecutive months, the output of mines, mills and utilities in both February and March remained steady at January's level of 102 per cent of the 1957 average, the board announced.

Fire Linked To 'Molotov Cocktails'

Arsonists, using "Molotov cocktails," tried to burn down a Sausalito home yesterday, sheriff's deputies reported.

Firemen said that a few minutes delay might have caused the bottle to exploded and burn down the wood frame home. The rear wall of the home was scorched. Damage was estimated at $200 to $300.

Mrs. Dorothy Fritter of 45 Coloma Street said she saw two youths prowling near the house about 10 a.m. yesterday.

A fire started shortly after that. Deputy William N. McKillop found that two mops had been ignited, placed inside a wooden trash box next to the home, and the bottles placed on top of the fire.

Brown Declares School System Needs Overhaul

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today called for an overhaul of the top level of California's public school system aimed at increasing efficiency.

In a wide-ranging news conference in which he touched on most aspects of public education, the governor recommended:

1. Appointment of the state superintendent of public instruction by the State Board of Education, instead of election by the people.

2. A business manager in the Education Department to supervise purchasing of textbooks and other supplies.

3. A study of a proposal that University of California professors write textbooks for publication by the state rather than private publishing firms.

4. Legislative approval of a bill to increase teachers' training standards to emphasize subject matter instead of techniques.

Brown opposed a legislative proposal for a statewide property tax to increase support of the junior colleges "except as a last resort." Only local governments now levy such taxes.

But he noted that the state's master plan for higher education will shift thousands of new students to the colleges and said new sources of money will have to be found.

Bridge Board Votes To Cut Toll On Trucks

Operators of two-axle trucks will get a 50 per cent toll reduction on the Golden Gate Bridge on May 1.

Reduction in all other tolls will be up for consideration at the next meeting of the bridge board two weeks from today.

That was the decision of the bridge board this morning.

Two-axle trucks will in the future pay 25 cents instead of 50 cents, providing they do not have dual wheels, the directors decided. There will be no immediate change in rates for other trucks.

Directors voted 9 to 2 for the truck reduction, over the opposition of Marin Director Leland S. Murphy and San Francisco Director Phillips Davies. Davies had blocked passage of the reduction last meeting by notifying of his intention to ask reconsideration today.

He said no reduction should be given to one special group, without consideration of all bridge users.

Murphy agreed, saying the bridge's finance committee had had ample time since last meeting to come up with reductions for commuters and cash toll-payers as well. "I feel at this time that the toll reduction should be in a nutshell," he said. "Let's show people we mean what we say when we declare the bridge belongs to the people of the district."

He said the action of reducing only truck tolls would harm the bridge's opposition to the proposed Golden Gate Transportation Commission.

Brown Won't Save Life Of Young Cop-Killer

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov Edmund G. Brown announced today that he will not intervene to save Alexander Robillard, Burlingame killer scheduled to be executed at San Quentin Prison April 26.

Robillard, 20, was convicted by a San Mateo County jury for the murder of Eugene Doran, a Hillsborough police officer, Aug. 5, 1959. His conviction was upheld unanimously by the State Supreme Court.

San Quentin authorities said Robillard was notified of Brown's decision but showed "no reaction" whatever. He merely said, "Thank you," and turned away, they reported.

Brown announced his decision less than 24 hours after conducting a clemency hearing for Robillard in Sacramento.

Late yesterday, during the hearing, Brown indicated that Robillard's "extreme youth" bothered him. He said that if Robillard were "over 21, there wouldn't be any question" about letting him be executed.

At his news conference later, Brown declined to comment on his reasons for refusing to intervene in the case.

'City Of Tiburon' Drive Advances

MARIN ENJOYS BIG RETAIL SALES VOLUME

The greatest volume of Marin County sales in history was chalked up during the final quarter of 1960, according to a report today from the California State Board of Equalization.

The board reported taxable retail sales for last year's final quarter in Marin totaled $43,587,000, Carroll Snyker, executive vice president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, said this was the highest total ever reached in the county.

The record fourth quarter was recorded in Marin despite a statewide dip of seven-tenths of 1 per cent below the final quarter of 1959. The year's taxable sales statewide were up 2½ per cent over the previous year.

Petitions To Seek Incorporation Vote

The proposal to incorporate the entire Tiburon Peninsula moved ahead on several fronts today.

The Marin County Boundary Commission received a notice from the Tiburon Coordinating Council that it intends to circulate petitions for an incorporation election. The council also submitted a map outlining the proposed boundaries of the area to be included.

The area runs in general from Corte Madera to Strawberry Point, but does not include Belvedere, which is already incorporated. Several public meetings to discuss the pros and cons of incorporation have been set up. One is set for tonight at 8 o'clock in the Reed School auditorium, with the Tiburon Coordinating Council as sponsor. At it, both the incorporation proposal and the counter-proposal for annexing part of Tiburon to Belvedere will be discussed.

The group decided to urge all property owners to attend an open meeting next Friday at 8 p.m. in the Bel Aire School multi-purpose room. Members of the Strawberry and Reedlands property owners groups also will attend to hear a report on the recent study of Tiburon incorporation problems.

Civic Center P.O. Agreement Made

The construction-lease agreement for the Marin County Civic Center branch post office was signed today, Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera) announced in a telegram to Mary Summers, county planning director.

Successful bidder was John J. McDonnell of Upper Darby, Penn. Miller said construction of the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed building will cost $120,000.

Completion deadline is six months from now.

Jury Refuses To Study 2 County Issues

It is not the job of the grand jury to investigate such matters as staffing needs at juvenile hall or space allocation at the civic center; these matters should be handled by the supervisors.

That, in effect, was the terse reply that the Marin County Grand Jury decided to draft last night in a letter to the supervisors.

On April 4, just after the grand jurors had scolded the supervisors for last January's stop-work at the civic center, Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman suggested that the grand jury be given other matters to investigate, to wit; staffing needs at juvenile hall, and what space to allocate to various departments at the new civic center building near Santa Venetia.

Last night, the grand jurors tossed the ball right back at the supervisors.

"We decided that those matters are not within our province," said Jury Foreman William L. Hughes. "They should handle it themselves."

A letter to that effect, drafted by secretary Harry Heifetz, says the jury took up the supervisors' request to investigate the two matters.

"The answer orn both requests is a very definite 'No,'" wrote Heifetz. "The jury feels that these matters are not

New NATO Force May Include Some Nuclear Weapons

Kennedy-Adenauer Statement Calls For 'Military Means'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have agreed that the North Atlantic alliance must be prepared to defend itself with all military means.

This agreement was set forth in a joint communique issued yesterday by the two Western leaders on the conclusion of their third meeting.

The formal statement did not spell out what "military means" Kennedy and Adenauer had in mind. But, U. S. officials said nuclear as well as conventional weapons are included.

Kennedy and Adenauer had discussed proposals for giving the North Atlantic Treaty Organization a nuclear striking force under its own command. The United States and Britain would furnish the weapons.

This project is still under review in the Kennedy administration. He and Adenauer were reported to have reached no final conclusion, although Adenauer was understood to have expressed support for such an undertaking.

In the communique Kennedy and Adenauer reaffirmed their support of NATO as the keystone of the common defense of the North Atlantic area.

This was their reference to NATO weapons: "They underlined the conviction of their governments as to the necessity for the alliance to maintain and develop further all military means required to enable them to deter effectively a potential aggressor from threatening the territorial integrity or independence of any ally."

At the same time, the leaders of the two other NATO members challenged the Soviet Union to join in disarmament and other negotiations to lessen the danger of war and work toward a general and total peace.

And, Kennedy and Adenauer "renewed their pledge to preserve the freedom of the people of West Berlin pending the reunification of Germany in peace and freedom and the restoration of Berlin as the capital of a reunified country."

Agreement was expressed, also, on these points:

The North Atlantic alliance should coordinate the aid policies of Western nations while aid itself should be administered by the prospective Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development and by the Development Assistance Group.

They would welcome Britain's joining the six-nation European Economic Community provided such a step would not interfere with the community's ultimate goal—Europe's political integration.

"Continuing attention" will be paid to the problem of the balance of payments. In recent years the United States has been spending more abroad than it has been taking in.

The two leaders also were rejorted to have agreed that there seems to be no immediate danger that the Soviet Union will renew its 1958 threat on West Berlin and Germany.

The official phase of Adenauer's visit ended yesterday afternoon. He will remain in Washington until Sunday, when he flies to Texas to stay at the ranch of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Goldwater 'Socialism' Hit By Birch Member

Kent Courtney, chairman of the Independent American Forum, pushed aside a suggestion of Goldwater's presidential candidacy for the third party yesterday at the opening of a three-day "convention of conservatives."

Courtney, of New Orleans, has expressed hopes a rally on "new party day" tomorrow will produce the nucleus of a political organization he said would show "conservatives are in a majority in this country."

He said he would be "glad to run" for the presidency "if we can't get anyone better." But he said Goldwater, acknowledged spokesman for the GOP conservative wing, had drifted too far to the left.

The Arizona Republican "tainted himself with socialism when he backed Richard Nixon in 1960," Courtney said.

Today's sessions on participating groups that Courtney said normally are not classified as "patriotic." They were the national committee for economic freedom, the trades policy committee and the national right-to-work committee.

The convention also heard from University of Wisconsin student Roger W. Claus, listed as a rejresentative of the "young conservatives."

Spain Exchange Student Honored

Fifteen Terra Linda students will attend the international dinner for all exchange students in Marin on April 25 at the San Rafael High cafeteria. The event is sponsored by the Junior Red Cross, American Field Service and Experiment in International Living.

Bonn Observer Hits Threat By Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann's defense attorney said today he would demand that the West German government "protect" the former Gestapo colonel from the judgment of Israel's right to judge Eichmann on charges of having a major part in the mass murder of Jews under Hitler.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius declared: "Eichmann has a claim against the German state to protect him. If the state remains impassive, he can sue the state and he will do that."

WARNS COURT

Servatius warned the special Israeli court trying Eichmann that "intervention is still possible" by West Germany in the case.

The chief defense counsel made the statement as he heatedly contended that Eichmann should be tried by a German court. He asserted that appropriate German courts and laws are available to handle the case and denied that Eichmann came freely to Israel to stand trial.

But immediately after the court session, the West German government's observer at the trial, Dr. Hans Stercken, said West Germany will stick to its refusal to ask for Eichmann's extradition and will fight in the courts any suit in which he claims legal protection from the Bonn government.

FIFTH SESSION

Servatius' announcement came after he and Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner made their concluding arguments on the right of the Israeli court to try Eichmann with the prosecutor refuting the defense challenge.

The fifth session of the trial lasted only an hour and 45 minutes and then recessed over the weekend.

Supreme Justice Moshe Landau, who is presiding over the special court of three Israeli judges, announced that its decision—on whether it is competent to try Eichmann—would be delivered Monday.

Eichmann, wartime chief of the Jewish affairs section of the Nazi Gestapo, is charged with responsibility in the death of six million Jews during World War II and other crimes.

Labor Party Suffers

LONDON (UPI) — The dissension-torn Labor Party suffered serious reverses in the first day of county council elections throughout Britain, unofficial returns showed today.

One of the hardest blows, according to returns compiled by the conservative party's central office in London, was loss of control of the council in the important county of Middlesex, just outside of London.

The conservatives won 15 council seats — 10 more than the net gain they needed to wrest control away from the Laborites.

Voting Rights Suit

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—The Justice Department yesterday charged that Dallas County, Ala., has registered only 156 of the county's estimated 15,115 prospective Negro voters.

The suit, filed in U.S. district court here, was the first voting rights complaint by the Kennedy administration. It was the seventh filed against Alabama counties, however. The previous suits were brought by the Eisenhower administration.

The Justice Department asked a permanent injunction halting the alleged discrimination and demanded that Dallas County registrars surrender voting records for inspection by federal agents.

Aid From Bonn

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany has decided tentatively to provide about 2.5 billion marks (625 million dollars) a year in aid to underdeveloped countries, informed sources reported today.

The figure is roughly in line with the U.S. recommendation that the more advanced Western nations devote about 1 per cent of their gross national product annually to development aid.

Tax Spread Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Supporters of a proposal to double the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District tax rate have agreed to spread the increase over two years.

Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) yesterday amended his bill which sought to raise the rate from one cent to two cents per each $100 of assessed valuation. The bill now provides that the rate would be 1.6 cents the first year and 2 cents the second.

Crewmen Rescued

BOSTON (AP) — All 35 crewmen were rescued today, apparently uninjured, from the Liberty ship Marine Merchant, which broke her back in rough seas last night 40 miles southeast of Portland, Maine, lightship.

The Coast Guard said the 8,294-ton vessel, en route from Louisiana to Portland with a cargo of sulphur, split in two after the rescue.

Nazi Meeting Raided

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A group of about 30 Jewish university students last night broke up a meeting of the local chapter of the American Nazi Party, but police insisted the neo-Nazis were within their rights and nobody was arrested.

Some students tried to enter the apartment where the meeting was being held but were forced out at gunpoint.

The students then called the police, blocked the doorway and surrounded the building to prevent the Nazis from escaping.

Anti-Castro Forces Linked To Store Fire

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's biggest department store was a blackened ruin today, destroyed by Fidel Castro's growing opposition in fiery answer ot his pledge to wipe out terrorism.

A blaze of "suspicious origin" also damaged a paper warehouse last night, and at least nine explosions rocked Havana suburbs during and after the two fires.

NO DEATHS

The fires resulted in no deaths, but 27 persons were hurt. Six of them were firemen whose engine overturned as it raced to the warehouse blaze. Three were in critical condition.

Government radio stations said U. S. central intelligence agents were responsible for the lightning-fast blaze that consumed the six-story nationalized El Encanto department store, estimated worth more than seven million dollars.

The night's incidents happened amid an atmosphere of anxiety throughout the island nation, whose leaders have been quietly mobilizing a huge military force against sporadic but growing armed resistance from within and an invasion threat from abroad.

NEW VIOLENCE

The anti-Castro terrorists struck anew less than 24 hours after armed forces minister Raul Castro urged increased vigilance against saboteurs. Prime Minister Fidel Castro, his brother, said a week ago that terrorists would be liquidated.

The flames leveled El Encanto in little more than two hours and firemen spent hours after that keeping the smouldering ruins from touching off nearby buildings.

Just a week ago saboteurs blasted the store's display windows. They were repaired within two days in an obvious effort to shield the explosion's effect from the curious.

French A-Bombs May Have Contributed To Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP)—New research indicates that the French contributed somewhat to world-wide radioactive fallout.

That was reported by a team of Arkansas scientists who said the tests may also have confirmed a tentative theory about atmospheric circulation in the tropics.

Researchers P. K. Kuroda, H. L. Hodges and H. E. Moore of the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, told about it in a report to the technical journal Science.

Hitherto, they said, it has been generally accepted that atom bombs, such as those detonated by France in the Sahara in February and April, 1960, inject their debris solely into the troposphere—with the fallout being largely localized or regionalized. The troposphere is that part of the atmosphere below the stratosphere and extends only about 90 miles above the earth.

But they said studies of radioisotopes collected in rain and snow at Fayetteville indicate that there was a small rise in the stratosphere's content of radioactive strontium after the French tests.

Four years ago, they said, a team of scientists suggested that there is an upward flow of air in the tropical region.

The fallout research, the Arkansas researchers said, would appear to bear out that theory. The evidence suggests that part of the debris from the French tests was carried into the stratosphere by this upward flow of air.

General Denies Feeding Birch Line To Troops

GEN. EDWIN WALKER
Says reports untrue

AUGSBURG, Germany (UPI)—The commanding general of the 24th Infantry Division today denied that his troops are indoctrinated under a program based on the principles of the controversial John Birch Society.

Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker also rejected as "untrue" reports that he had labeled former President Harry S. Truman, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Franklin D. Roosevelt "definitely pink."

AFFIDAVITS

The reports were published by the Overseas Weekly, an American-owned newspaper aimed at U.S. troops in Europe. John Dornberg, the paper's editor, said he had sworn affidavits from witnesses who attended a Jan. 24 Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting in Augsburg at which Walker allegedly made the remarks.

The newspaper said Walker told the meeting that "60 per cent of the American press and radio-TV industry are Communist controlled."

It alleged that the General named as "confirmed Communists" columnist Walter Lippmann, Edward R. Murrow, former Columbia Broadcasting System newsman and now director of the U.S. Information Service, and Columbia Broadcasting System commentator Eric Sevareid.

INDOCTRINATION

The Overseas Weekly, in an article yesterday, also said that Walker's program of indoctrination was based on the "philosophy of the controversial John Birch Society."

Walker, in a written statement today, replied that the allegations against his indoctrination program and about his statements at the P-TA meeting were "untrue."

"The program is not associated or affiliated with any organization or society," the General said. "It is designed to develop the understandings of American military and civil heritage, responsibilities toward that heritage, and the objectives of those enemies who would destroy us."

Bishop's Home Wrecked By Trujillo Mob

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Pro-Trujillo mobs have driven a Roman Catholic bishop to this capital after wrecking his diocesan residence 100 miles west of here. Nuns and priests are also fleeing the district.

Bishop Thomas J. Reilly, 52, in trouble before with Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo, said police and soldiers put him in protective custody for a while Thursday after terrorists ransacked his home.

"I am going to deal with the government over these acts of terrorism," the prelate from New Bedford, Mass., said after arriving in Ciudad Trujillo to take refuge in a Catholic school.

He said he will demand that the government guarantee the safety of priests and nuns in the western part of the country, where his diocese of San Juan de La Manguana is located.

The mobs smashed doors and windows, destroyed furniture and records and battered three automobiles at the bishop's office and residence. Police and soldiers ended the attack.

Arbor Day is American in origin and was first observed in Nebraska in 1872.

Senate Passes Rights Bill For Juveniles

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A "little bill of rights" for California youngsters who get into trouble has reached the halfway mark in the legislature.

The Senate passed the measure yesterday without a word or a vote against it. Widely supported by peace officers and Parent-Teacher Assns., alike, it now goes to the Assembly for expected final passage.

The legislation, sponsored by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and his special commission on juvenile justice, represents the first major overhaul of the juvenile court law in 45 years.

Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville) who introduced the bill, said it would collect ambiguities and contradictions in the present statute and set up a uniform juvenile court system throughout the state.

More important, he said, it would "restore traditional constitutional rights and guarantees" to all juveniles.

The governor's commission, in a three-year study, found it wasn't uncommon for a minor to be jailed for 30 days pending a hearing.

The bill would require a hearing within 10 days after a youngster is ordered held, within 21 days where he isn't held.

No minor could be taken into custody or detained without reasonable cause for believing he committed a crime, showed delinquent tendencies or was an abandoned or neglected child.

Arrest records could not be furnished federal and state crime agencies unless a petition has been filed and the case disposed of.

The bill further provides that juveniles must be informed of right to counsel and their parents served with notice of any hearing.

The law would apply generally to youngsters under 18, but 16 is established as the minimum age for transferring a minor to criminal court when he's deemed unfit for juvenile court.

BURIAL BILL TESTIMONY

Dead Man's Ashes Shown Lawmakers

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A dead man, the late "John Doe" of San Francisco, has made perhaps the strongest argument in the California legislature in favor of a dying man's right to have his remains disposed of as he pleases.

The late "John Doe," dead for nearly two years, was presented to the Senate Public Health Committee in his present form—the ashes of a man cremated at Home of Peace Cemetery, Colma, on Aug. 15, 1959.

He was presented by Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel), author of a bill to permit persons to have their ashes scattered to the winds, over the ocean, in a flower garden or any place else. Present law requires that cremated remains must be kept in a cemetery or taken out of state.

Whether it was legal to bring "John Doe's" ashes to Sacramento and scatter a few of them around the committee room was not discussed.

The committee heard 90 minutes of testimony on the bill, as the ashes of the late "John Doe" laid silently by in a four-by-six-inch box, then decided to vote on the issue next week.

Major opposition to the bill came from Monrovia City Attorney Homer H. Bell. "You're saying here that it's okay to throw bones out of an airplane on somebody's head," he told the committee.

"Do you want a dead body on your lawn?" he asked.

As Farr showed the ashes to the committee members, some of the dust of "John Doe" wafted from the box, hung in the air momentarily then settled on a highly polished committee room table.

No one said anything, or even seemed to notice, the scattering of the dead man.

"When all of the people of the cities become aware that people are going up in airplanes and dropping human remains in their drinking reservoirs, they're not going to like it," Bell said.

Dr. Ellis D. Sox, San Francisco public health director, told the committee that the late "John Doe's" ashes were sterile and in that form he presented "perhaps less of a health hazard than when he was alive."

Farr, who said he knew the name of the dead man, preferred not to identify him.

He said that it is illegal now to scatter ashes in California, but he said many people use the ruse of taking the ashes out of California, then they scatter them according to the request of the deceased person anyway.

Senate Group Approves Jail, Fines For Secret Meetings

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation providing fines and jail terms for local government agencies which transact business behind closed doors was approved by the Senate Local Government Committee yesterday.

The approval came after the committee rejected a key provision prohibiting informal discussions by a majority of the government bodies.

The bill is designed to clarify the Brown Act barring secret meetings by specifying that a violation of the law is a misdemeanor and providing for injunctions against such meetings.

It originally would have prohibited informal discussions by a majority of members of government groups, regardless of the time and place, but was amended after strong opposition was expressed by cities and counties.

Honor Dinner Slated

The Grace Lutheran Church of Novato will hold a dinner in honor of new members of the past year, Sunday at 5:30 p.m. at the church. Rubin Kaehler is the chairman of the event and the pastor of the church is Rev. Arthur Koehler.

Large groups planning outings in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park are advised to make arrangements with the park office in McLaren Lodge.

Supervisor Redistrict Measure Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP)—County boards of supervisors would be required to reapportion their districts according to population under legislation approved by the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee last night.

Assemblyman Clark Bradley (R—San Jose), the author, said Santa Clara County has not redistricted itself in 75 years and one of Monterey County's five districts has 50 per cent of the population.

To make representation more equal, Bradley's bill would require districts to be nearly equal in population with no one district more than 25 per cent larger than the average in the county.

First reapportionment would be due by mid-January, 1962. Boards which fail to act would be required to set up redistricting commissions to get the job done by March 1.

New reapportionment would be due after each federal census.

Bradley's measure applies only to general law counties. He said he has a proposed constitutional amendment which would require redistricting in chartered counties.

Bill MacDougall, representing the County Supervisors Assn., said his group does not oppose the bill but thought it should be studied until the next regular legislative session.

Bradley said there was nothing to study.

Form Is Needed For Tax Refund

Refund payments of federal income taxes withheld from wages are paid only upon filing of a proper federal income tax return, announces Joseph M. Cullen, district director of the Internal Revenue Service.

"While everyone whose income was $600 or more during 1960 must file a return, we find frequent cases of people apparently believing that because their tax withheld was greater than their tax owed, they will automatically get a proper refund," he said.

Paint, Rags Fire Put Out In Sausalito

Spontaneous combustion yesterday in a box of paint and rags outside the house of Fred Hoffman of 675 Olima Street, Sausalito, caused $50 damage when fire charred an outside wall of the home.

No one was at home at the time. The fire was reported by a neighbor, Mrs. Dorothy Fritter of 45 Coloma Street.

Parenthood Group Plans Marriage Education Series

"Education for Marriage" will be offered by the Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin County and the Marin County Council of Churches at lectures scheduled for May 2 and May 9 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

Both lectures will begin at 8 p.m., and will be open to the public.

The first lecture, "Relationships in Marriage," will feature Dr. John R. Bodo, professor of practical theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo. Dr. Bodo, who is widely known as a writer and lecturer in the field of counseling, will speak of the personal adjustments required in the transition to the married state.

Second lecture will be given by Dr. John W. Brinckley, chairman of the medical advisory committee to the local planned parenthood group, and director of the Planned Parenthood Clinic in Marin County. Dr. Brinckley's topic will be "Sexual Harmony in Marriage."

According to Mrs. James McNab, president of the Marin County association, the two lectures will be especially designed for young couples who are planning marriage or in their early years of marriage. "The discussions will be frank and to the point," she said.

Postal Rate Hike Asked Of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration asked Congress today to increase postal rates, including a one-cent boost in first class regular aind airmail letters and postcards. The move was aimed at trimming the postal deficit of 741 million dollars.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day submitted a program which follows very closely the recommendations of the Eisenhower administration. President John F. Kennedy announced in his State of Union Message he would seek the increase.

If approved by Congress, first class letters would go from four to five cents an ounce; airmail letters would be increased from seven to eight cents an ounce; postcards would go up from three cents to four, and airmail postcards would be hiked from five to six cents each.

Day took action under his administration power yesterday to increase rates on mail sent abroad after July 1. These increases are expected to bring in an additional 15 million dollars annually.

SALOONS, SLOT MACHINES

Early Larkspur Days Recalled At Meeting

The days when slot machines were licensed in Larkspur and saloons did the biggest business in town were recalled at last night's meeting of Marin County Historical Society at E Street School in San Rafael.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Richard Keating and Florence Donnelly was built around the early days of Larkspur and Corte Madera. First speaker, Larkspur City Councilman Dan Allen, reported on the minutes of early council meetings. He said the policy then was to make taxes on improvements low and put bigger taxes on land on the theory that this would hasten building. He said the first city meetings were held in Lynch Hall where prize fighters, including Jimmie Britt and Battling Nelson trained.

The social life of the community was outlined by Helen Wilson, Larkspur librarian. She said two saw mills, one owned by the Baltimore Co. and the other by the United States government, operated in Larkspur so the population was predominantly male. At the Fourth of July celebration in 1851 entertainment was provided by bull fights and horse races. For the barbecue, beeves were roasted whole in pits. When Larkspur Woman's Club was founded in 1913, the town had 25 business houses and 11 saloons. The members of the club started to clean up the town, actually and in theory. They cleaned up the streets so the organization was derisively called the Ash Can Society.

The building of the Corte Madera tunnel for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad was the beginning of good transportation for the area, Roy Graves said. The tunnel was built by Chinese labor.

The Fall of the Bastille celebration was always a big event at Escalle's, Graves reported, and he told of the trainloads of celebrants joining Jean Escalle and his countrymen for the celebration.

Mrs. Lulu Horne, whose father was a caretaker on the Pixley Ranch (Owlswood), which was then in Corte Madera, told of a "land grab." She said that over the objections of Mrs. Frank Pixley, widow of the famous attorney-publisher, Larkspur, which had incorporated before Corte Madera, extended its boundaries to include the Pixley property (now Chevy Chase).

The program concluded with a talk by Mrs. Raymond Robson (Catharine Pixley), grandniece of Frank Pixley. Her grandmother was Amelia Van Reynegom, daughter of Captain Van Reynegom, who brought his wife aboard his ship, the Linda, to California. When the crew deserted to go to the gold fields, the Linda was beached at Ring's Point and the captain and his wife built a home in Owlswood. Many of articles in the captain's cabin furnished the home. Frank Pixley published the Argonaut in San Francisco and he and his wife lived on the ranch in Corte Madera.

His nephew, Morrison Pixley, published the Golden Hinde in a little house on the ranch. The Golden Hinde was printed on Chinese lantern paper. The type was hand set and no advertising was printed. The publisher dedicated the magazine to the preservation of Marin's natural beauty.

Falls Off Scaffold

Milton Miles, 49, of 52 Jewell Street, San Rafael, was treated in San Rafael General Hospital yesterday for bruises to his left hip and elbow after he fell six feet from a scaffold while painting a house under construction on Devon Street in Terra Linda. Miles, employed by J. L. Novak, Novato contractor, was released from the hospital after treatment.

County Plan To Survey Hospital Criticized

Sharp admonition for the Marin County Board of Supervisors to get on with the job of providing a new county hospital will be read to the board at Monday's session in a letter from Dr. Bruce R. Merrill of Belvedere, chairman of the hospital committee of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs.

Merrill takes strong exceptions to last Monday's 4-1 decision of the supervisors to conduct another survey of the present hospital. Supervisors Chairman William D. Fusselman stood alone Monday against further surveys.

The letter says the council's board has "unanimously instructed me to convey to you their complete disapproval of your action (in voting another survey) and their serious concern over what might be the results of a needless delay while you further 'study' this problem."

Studies of the hospital problem began in October, 1956, says the letter, and have been made by the state, by two county committees, by the firm of Crawford and Banning, by the council and "by numerous other individuals and agencies"—all these studies being matters of public record and available in public files of the county.

"To have familiarized yourself with these records long before now was your duty as supervisors," Merrill goes on, adding: "We consider your demand for further study a tacit admission that you have not so familiarized yourself.

"All of these reports have been quite specific as to the need for action—prompt action."

Saying that the county has already spent $115,000 for study and plans "for the so-badly-needed new hospital," the letter asks whether further study squares with pledges of "economy." It reinforces Merrill's initial letter of last month which spoke of possible "disaster" by saying:

"While you 'study,' patients' lives are endangered; while you 'study' building costs rise. It was your duty to have 'studied' before now."

Board action in applying for federal housing units which might lighten the hospital burden, a Fusselman idea, is termed "a commendable step, but one which must not obscure the crying need for a new hospital unit and rehabilitation unit . . . We urge you to delay no longer. You were elected to make decisions, not to evade them."

Organized last January in protest against Fusselman-instigated work stoppage at the civic center, the council has swung into being lined up with Fusselman for quick action on a new hospital. Fusselman finds this a logical situation because, he points out, his motive on the work stoppage was if possible to change administration building into hospital.

Supervisor Walter R. Castro protested today that his support of Supervisor J. Walter Blair's proposal for a new survey didn't mean that he felt the board should delay.

"I think the board should consider action for a new hospital," said Castro. "While I don't object to the survey to get us up-to-date, that in no way changes my mind about our need for space and safety. So we ought to make a decision as soon as possible and go ahead."

Supervisor George Ludy said he went along with the Blair motion on the theory that "if a doctor says you have cancer, you're likely to investigate what other doctors may have to say on such a serious matter."

Supervisor William Gnoss was not available as he had meetings in Ukiah both yesterday and today.

Chairman Fusselman, on learning of the letter, chuckled, "They're not talking to me."

JOHN A. BUSTERUD

Young GOP Schedules Busterud

John A. Busterud, state Assemblyman from San Francisco, will speak Tuesday night at a meeting of the Young Republicans of Marin at Bermuda Palms Hotel in San Rafael.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. Gordon L. Ness, president of the Young Republicans, said that Busterud will discuss current government activities in Sacramento with emphasis on reapportionment.

Busterud is a San Francisco attorney. He was president of the San Francisco Young Republicans in 1953 and state president of Young Republicans in 1955. He was first elected to the Assembly in 1956. One of his chief interests in the Legislature has been constitutional reform. From 1959 to 1960, he was chairman of the Assembly Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

At the Marin Young Republicans board meeting on April 3, charters were granted to groups at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and College of Marin.

Ness said all Republicans are welcome to meetings of the Young Republicans.

Tax Increase Vote Slated In Kentfield

Voters in the Kentfield School District will be asked on Tuesday to increase the general tax rate from the present $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to a ceiling of $2.25.

The new rate, if approved at the polls, would go into effect for an indefinite period, but the board of trustees have pledged not to go beyond $2 for the 1961-62 school year. The present rate was set in May, 1957, but was kept at $1.61 until July, 1959.

Override taxes, set by the state and county for specific purposes, including retirement funds, building loan redemption, social security and bond redemption, will not be determined until July 1. This year the additional tax is 76 cents.

Also on the ballot will be the names of three unopposed trustees: John R. B. Ellis, George E. McKenna and Mary E. Bingham.

Ellis, of 225 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, is a chemical engineer with Standard Oil. He was elected to the board for a three-year term in 1957. A change in the state code, setting trustee elections every other year, extended his term by one year.

Ellis is the father of three children, Marilee, 17, Redwood High School senior; Richard, 14, attending school in Arizona, and Jan, 12, sixth grader at the Adaline E. Kent School. He holds a master's degree in chemical engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a master's degree in business administration from Stanford University, where he also took his undergraduate work.

McKenna is an administrative assistant with the Crown Zellerbach Corp. in San Francisco. He resides at 505 Los Cerros in Greenbrae and has two children attending the Wolfe Grade School: Jim, 11, and Jan, 8. A resident of Marin for the past 15 years, McKenna is also a graduate of Stanford.

Mrs. Bingham, of 29 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, is the mother of two children, Edward Jr., 15, Redwood High School sophomore, and Thomas, 13, Adaline E. Kent School eighth grader. A resident of Marin for 14 years, Mrs. Bingham is a graduate of Mills College.

The five members of the board were unanimous in urging the proposed tax increase.

According to Supt. Harold R. DePue, the operating tax is needed primarily to maintain the district's present educational program. Because deficit spending has been necessary this year, the purchase of instructional materials has been seriously curtailed, he said.

Increasingly large classes, which DePue calls the "bugaboo" of today's schools, is inevitable without operating capital, he said. Present Kentfield district classes go as high as 34 students for a single teacher.

DePue estimates some $101,500 would be raised by the $2 rate. Of this, $43,450 would go directly toward instructional materials and teacher salaries. And $30,000 would be set aside in undistributed reserve funds for the following year.

Of the remainder, $19,500 would go for books "to give us the beginning of the working library that should be the heart of an elementary school," plus a librarian to manage both the Wolfe Grade and Greenbrae libraries, and a clerk.

None of the tax money will go toward construction of the Wolfe Grade library-kindergarten to be built this fall, DePue said. This unit, part of the school's master plan, will be financed out of bonds authorized by the voters in May, 1958. It was for this purpose the trustees voted last February to sell $110,000 in bonds.

Books most needed by the district, DePue said, are nonfiction works to supplement and enrich classroom materials. Authorities place recommended library size at from 8 to 20 volumes per pupil, exclusive of kindergarten, DePue said. Kentfield currently has four and one-half volumes per pupil.

SAN RAFAEL'S NEW PG&E BUILDING

This is a sketch of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s new office at Third and Brooks Streets, San Rafael, designed for service to the growing number of customers in PG&E's North Bay Division and Marin district. Construction will start this summer. Among design features incorporated by the architects, Gromme and Priestley of San Rafael, are a aluminum sun screen and wide use of glass, porcelain-enameled steel panels and Sonoma fieldstone. PG&E gas holders and the old gas plant on the site are being torn down.

North Coast Water Plan Is Outlined

I-J Special Report

UKIAH—A massive program of water development in the north coastal counties was outlined here today by William E. Warne, director of the State Department of Water Resources.

Five major projects, involving construction of 15 to 20 dams, are being studied to provide all locally needed water and five million acre feet annually for export to other parts of the state, he said.

Warne gave this preview of a preliminary three-year study not due for completion until 1963, to a meeting of the Eel River Assn. here. The plan envisions adequate local water supplies, he declared, as well as flood control, fish life and recreational enhancement.

The projects, on the Trinity, Eel, Mad, Van Duzen and smaller streams, will become the major source of export water after 1990.

However, Warne went on, the North Bay Aqueduct still is being looked to by the department to provide new water supplies to the Marin-Sonoma-Napa-Solano area "at less cost, we believe, than any other alternative possibility."

The department at present, he went on, has "intensive work in progress now testing the present demand for service in that area."

"Whether we proceed, or continue to hold the project in abeyance, depends on the demand for new water supplies by prospective North Bay water users," he declared.

He said the department also intends to encourage local water districts, public utilities and others to undertake facilities compatible with their needs and the California Water Plan."

Also the department will urge the federal government and its agencies "to continue to expand and develop water projects in their sphere of responsibility."

INCOME TAX FACTS

More Withholding Can Be Arranged

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Do you have a big tax bill to pay this year in addition to what your employer had already withheld from your 1960 paychecks?

Peter J. Wikel

If you do, then consider making a written agreement with your employer to have a greater amount withheld from your 1961 paychecks so that you will not have a big bill to pay in 1962.

Withholding, at the regular rates, only covers the tax on your income from salary or wages and is inadequate if you have a large salary or earnings from sources not subject to withholding.

The law provides that you can agree with your employer to have him take more than the regular rate of withholding out of your paycheck so that you will have your taxes fully paid at the end of the year.

Your employer must be willing and you and your employer must make an agreement, in writing, in such form as your employer may require, to have your employer take a stated extra amount of withholding from your wages.

Your employer handles this just exactly the same way as other withholding and you also handle your reporting of this extra withholding on your tax return the same as any other withholding. This will let you pay your 1961 income tax in 1961, as you receive your income, and not all in a lump sum in 1962.

If this applies to you, then make such an arrangement with your employer now, so that you can spread the payment over as long a period as possible.

Transit Group Rejects Stand On Gate Plan

Caught in the middle of a legislative battle, the Bay Area Rapid Transit District yesterday sidestepped a stand on the proposed Golden Gate Transportation Commission.

Director Harry L. Morrison of Contra Costa County brought the matter before the district directors. He suggested the district should take a stand before a State Senate committee hears the transportation commission bill in less than two weeks.

Marin Director M. J. Lamperti, chairman of the district's committee on rules and policies, reported his committee had discussed the matter for three hours and voted 3-to-2 to keep it in committee for further consideration.

The commission legislation "is in too unfinished a form to make a decision on it," insisted district president Adrien Falk. "We don't want anything to interfere with our timing. This could seriously interfere and delay getting our proposal before the supervisors and the voters."

Morrison wanted to know, "What are we trying to gag this for?"

Director Arthur J. Dolan moved that the meeting adjourn, and it did.

The problem facing the district is that it is included by reference in the commission bill. It is also negotiating with the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District for the right to cross the bridge with transit. Bridge directors are fighting the commission.

It was announced yesterday that the transit district's bridge committee would meet jointly with the bridge district's transit committee next Thursday at 10 a.m. in the transit district office to start formal discussions of transit-on-the-bridge feasibility.

Absentee Ballots Show School Vote Interest

Heavy interest in bond issues before Tamalpais High School and Mill Valley Elementary School District voters in next Tuesday's election is indicated by large numbers of absentee ballots.

No such surge of interest is indicated, however, in Dixie Elementary School District, where a big state loan proposal is on the ballot.

Yesterday was the final day for issuing absentee ballots for the election. Frank A. Cassou, director of business services for Tamalpais High School District, reported "at least 350" absentees had been issued by the district office. He noted that last October, when a similar bond issue failed to muster the necessary two-thirds approval for passage, only 75 absentee ballots were issued.

Tamalpais High School District is asking authorization to bond for three million dollars to build additions to the present three high schools (principally at Redwood) and purchase another school site.

In Mill Valley District, 134 absentee ballots have been issued, reported Supt. G. Robert McConnell. This compares with 38 absentees for the September, 1959, election and 44 for the May, 1959, election, he said. Bond issues failed of the necessary two-thirds "yes" votes in both of these elections.

Mill Valley is asking $550,000 bond issue to add 19 classrooms to various schools.

Dixie District seeks authorization to borrow up to four million dollars from the state to build three new schools and additions to four existing schools. But only four absentee ballots have been issued there, reported Joseph R. Goff, assistant superintendent.

Bay Crossing Study Bill Due Today

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) said he will introduce today a bill setting up a $500,000 appropriation for an engineering study of a second crossing from San Francisco to Marin County. Co-author is Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy.

The bridge is contemplated to stretch from a point between Battery and Stockton Streets in San Francisco to Alcatraz, to Angel Island, thence to Point San Quentin. McAteer said he is seeking a reversal of the federal decision against abandoning the federal prison on Alcatraz.

He said such a bridge would lead to appropriate development of both Alcatraz and Angel Island. Such a bridge, he continued, would be designed specifically for rapid transit and would eliminate the need for a Marina District freeway in San Francisco to connect with the Golden Gate Bridge.

McCarthy has his own bill in the hopper calling for continued studies of a bridge from the Russian Hill area to Marin. McAteer said McCarthy would drop his bill in favor of the new bridge study.

Meat Company Files For Incorporation

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced the Marin Meat Co. has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $50,000 in $100 par shares.

Directors of the company were listed as Robert S. Schenone, 143 Jewel St., John P. Mangini, Rt. 1, Box 724, Bayside Acres, and Willard S. Ward, 20 Warner Court, San Rafael.

PEAS, CARROTS REPLACE BREAD, WATER

Now it's nothing but peas and carrots for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

"They hate it," says State Prison Director H. G. Cochran. "Bread and water was nothing to this."

And the treatment apparently works, he says. In the old bread and water era, the prison usually had 140 to 150 convicts on the restricted diet on any given day.

Now the average is about 75 convicts.

Five Convicts Indicted By Grand Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury last night indicted five San Quentin convicts, three for escape and two for attempted escape.

Two of the escaped convicts are still at large. They are George Allen Brice, a San Diego burglar and rapist, and Frank Lee Jr., a Glenn County forger. Prison officials said the two men were working on the prison ranch outside the walls and vanished last Feb. 5.

The other convict charged with escape is Alex Martinez, a Los Angeles robber, who was found about a mile away from prison last Dec. 6. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who presented the cases to the grand jury last night, said Martinez apparently climbed over a barbed wire fence while cutting a lawn outside the prison walls.

Two inmates who did not get as far are David H. Robinson and Joseph Arnold Steinaker, both robbers from Los Angeles. Prison officials told the jury they found the two hiding in a sewer hole near the prison laundry room last Dec. 30. They had cigarettes and bread stored in the hole when found.

Temporary City Planned Named

James R. Garrett, assistant to the city manager in San Rafael, this week was named temporary city planner by City Manager Dan E. Andersen.

Garrett is filling the position vacated by Don Newmark, who resigned last month, until the city hires a new planner.

Baker Claims Lehi Raft Was Burned

HONOLULU (AP)—DeVere Baker complained today that someone had burned his historic raft, Lehi IV, on which he floated from California to Hawaii in 1958.

Baker arrived Wednesday to claim his eight-ton raft for a museum. He said he found only a pile of ashes.

"My wife had sold her home and furniture to build that raft," the Redondo Beach man lamented.

The Lehi IV had been kept in a weedy lot near Honolulu International Airport, surrounded by old cars, buses and rusty machinery.

"It's the only thing in the whole storage yard that has been destroyed," he complained. "But they say they need the yard for other uses. There's nothing I can do. There was no agreement on paper."

He is planning another voyage on Lehi V, a larger raft financed by Redondo Beach. He plans to drift two years through the Indian Ocean, China Sea, Pacific Ocean and, he hopes, to Guatemala, almost 14,000 miles.

He hopes to prove a migratory theory that the Jews could have drifted from ancient Israel to Guatemala.

Gets Medal

Army Pfc. Jay A. Carlow, 24, son of Mrs. Ethel Irwin, Bolinas, recently was awarded the Good Conduct Medal while serving with the 25th Artillery in Germany.

County Housing Group Approves Application

The Marin County Housing Authority yesterday unanimously authorized application to the Public Housing Administration for 300 low-rent housing units and for a preliminary loan with preference for the elderly.

"There is a need for low-rent housing for the elderly to meet needs not being adequately met by private enterprise," the resolution said. It also said "it is the intent of the authority to coordinate low-rent housing developed for the elderly with local health, recreational and community facilities essential to the needs of elderly citizens with low income."

The amount of the loan, according to executive director Bert Klahn, has not been established but will be set by the public housing administration. "If granted," he said, "it is direct to the housing authority and becomes no obligation to the county."

Incentive Payments Given 3 Marinites

Three Marinites were among 20 civilian employees of the Presidio of San Francisco who were awarded cash incentive payments by Col. Richard F. Zeoli, post executive officer.

Mrs. Beverley V. Balconis of 615 Locust Road, Sausalito, a clerk for the S-4 (supply) section, was awarded $100; Michael L. Girard of 525 Virginia Drive, Belvedere, electronics equipment inspector for the supply section, was awarded $20; and T. Lee Butler of 19 Monterey Street, San Anselmo, equipment inspector for the supply section, was awarded $10.

The stride of the dinosaur was more than 12 feet, according to tracks discovered in the Navajo Reservation north of Phoenix, Ariz.

Belvedere Names Three Captains To Fire Dept.

Three new captains have been appointed in the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department, it was announced today by John A. Ericson, president of the volunteer organization.

The new captains are Lawrence F. Coleman, Robert Rey and Raymond Coleman, replacing Burbeck Johnson, Kenneth A. Frost and Howard B. Allen. The captains will be in charge of the training operations and equipment maintenance, Ericson said.

He also announced the appointments of William McLean, as secretary of the association, replacing Lawrence F. Coleman. Continuing to serve as assistant chief, under Belvedere Fire Chief Lawrence (Bunk) Mersereau are George Coleman and Donald F. McLean.

The date of the annual firemen's ball has been set for Friday night, Aug. 25 at the Corinthian Yacht Club, Ericson said.

Projects On Display At Museum Tonight

Science projects ranging from a seismograph to two study skins of a rat and mouse are among exhibits entered in the Junior Museum's "Project Night," which will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the museum.

"Project Night," although it is aimed primarily at those who have studied at the Junior Museum, is open to all young people, according to Mrs. Diane Williams, acting museum director.

Awards will be given to the best entry from a member and a non-member in the physical science field and in the biological science field.

Judges will take the entrant's age into consideration in making the awards.

Judges for the project are S. Thompson Walker, former director of the museum, and Willis Evans, program chairman of the board of directors for the museum.

Badges will be presented to those who have completed the requirements for the ranks of apprentice, junior assistant and senior assistant.

He reports to his new assignment today.

He will be succeeded here by J. J. Nichols, currently a business office unit manager in San Francisco.

Madrigali, 31, has been with Pacific Telephone 14 years. He joined the company at the age of 17 in the Plant Department.

Madrigali, his wife, Grace, and sons, Mark, 6, and Jeffrey, 5, will continue to live on Redwood Avenue in Ross.

Air Base To Take Part In Mock War

Hamilton Air Force Base will be part of a mock war this weekend.

A "tactical evaluation" of the 28th Air Division (Sage) with headquarters at the base will be conducted by officers from Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo. The "war" may mean increased jet plane activity around the base.

Other officers, all re-elected for second terms, to serve with Mrs. Hoxie, were Richard S. Hahn, M.D., of Belvedere, vice president; John Gaidano of San Anselmo, secretary, and Clifford Bartlett of San Rafael, treasurer.

New members elected to the volunteer board of directors were Mrs. Theo Barron Sr. of Marin City, John C. Bettinger, M.D.; Leroy Rudolph and Rev. Bliss Bellinger, all of San Rafael.

Albert C. Daniels, M.D., of Ross, president of the Tuberculosis and Health Assn. of California, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting. Dr. Daniels' topic was "Tuberculosis 1960-1970."

Another highlight of the evening was the presentation by the winners of the association's high school speech contest. Finalists Lani Moore of San Rafael High and Joel Storss of Marin Catholic High gave their winning speeches for the members and guests. Their chosen topics were on tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Honored for their volunteer work at the association's offices were Mrs. William Phreanor of Corte Madera, Mrs. George Scott of Mill Valley, Mrs. George Gregory and Mrs. Hap Banfield, both of San Anselmo, and Miss Ada Thompson of San Rafael.

New Editor Named

A new editor has been named to succeed Richard L. Harcourt of 33 Redwood Drive, Larkspur, on the Foghorn, student newspaper at the University of San Francisco. Taking over as editor will be Edward Stephan of Paso Robles.

RESEARCH ENGINEER — Herbert Schuyten of 11 Circle Drive, San Rafael, has been appointed senior research engineer at the Richmond Laboratory of California Research Corp. He is engaged in developing the use of highly complex electronic computers.

Terra Linda Medical Unit Half Finished

When completed about June 1, the building will house four doctors and one dentist, Jacobs said. There is room for future expansion of three or four other medical offices, he said.

In addition, there will be off-street parking for 24 cars, Jacobs stated.

The modern functional building was designed by Harold Blewett of 405 Holly Drive and Peter MacGowan of Ranch Road, both Terra Linda, who have offices in San Francisco.

Marinite Helps Design Rubber Heart Valve

A Tiburon research engineer and sculptor has helped design and develop an artificial rubber valve to replace a defective aortic valve in the human heart.

He is David Moore of 1860 Vistazo West, who works for the University of California medical center research and development bureau.

Moore was co-designer and developer of the valve with Dr. Benson B. Roe, the heart surgeon who worked out the technique for implanting the artificial valve in the heart.

Because of their work, a 55-year-old Fresno man, Don R. Butts, is alive and healthy today. About a year ago he had no more than weeks or months to live because of a defective aortic valve.

Dr. Roe operated on Butts, stitched in the rubber replacement for the valve, and it worked.

Moore was assigned to work on the problem of the artificial valve shortly after he came to the research bureau about five years ago. His part was to do research into materials and test them.

He is now working on a replacement for the mitral valve of the heart, which is also subject to disease. The substitutes are being tested on experimental animals.

A native of San Francisco, Moore has lived in Tiburon about eight years. Sculpture is a "side profession" for him. He has exhibited throughout the United States. His wife, Claire, is a painter.

Painter 'Fair'

Owen H. Dittmore, bridge painter who fell from a scaffold on the Golden Gate Bridge, was reported still in "fair condition" at Franklin Hospital, San Francisco, today. His injuries were sustained from a 30-foot fall from the scaffold Monday.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Fleur d'Lys Has Champagne Dinner For Under $5; Other Dinners Less

Are you a $5 dinner patron? Then may we suggest that an excellent choice in this bracket lies in the $4.95 champagne cocktail dinner at Fleur d'Lys, San Anselmo. It's the most favored of all menu divisions with several selections, though there's a very good dinner for $3.75 and numerous a la carte items to choose from. And with spring, Fleur d'Lys is returning to one delectable dish—cold cucumber soup.

Now hosting at the San Anselmo haut dinery is vibrant Cherie Charles; husband Robert is still giving much of his time to the San Francisco house.

But whether you join Fleur d'Lys for an evening of it or just for a late nightcap, perhaps not enough has been said about the cocktail bar and its wide range of after dinner liqueurs, classically served by Aldo Di Pasqua, truly an expert, and who has more fancy glasses within reach to contain them than I've ever seen.

If you were one of those who said Fleur d'Lys won't last in Marin, be reminded that it will celebrate its second anniversary on the hill next month.

WHAT A CHANGE! We looked in on the Embers, Corte Madera spot being redecorated by Yolanda Apostoli for a possible opening in another 10 days or so, and found it vastly different from before.

This location was previously operated as Joe's Village Patio and later as the Captain's Room, but beyond a geographical identity there is a diminishing resemblance daily.

Walls and ceiling have been redone, floors are carpeted and the bar background is undergoing a clever metamorphosis with Sonoma flagstones and a live waterfall setting.

When ready, food will be in the line of good prime rib, steaks and chops. Yolanda says she has a chef coming from a well known San Francisco spot to take over the cuisine.

MARIN ARTIST Alfred Owles of Santa Venetia is currently displaying some of his paintings in the restaurant at the Napa Airport if you get up that way. Among them are many scenes from around Marin County.

Airplanes are among his favorite subjects. He probably has one of the most impressive collections of such paintings in the country — clear back to World War I.

IF YOU REMEBER Dorothy Dillinger, the Irish girl with the Spanish routine who appeared last year at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon, you can catch her singing act Friday and Saturday nights at Horton's in Palo Alto—a little restaurant with Mexican and Aztec atmosphere. She's teamed with the Gil Barnes Duo, guitar and marimba artists.

NEW SUNDAY HOURS for Bellucci's Spaghetti House, Ignacio are from noon until 9 p.m. Closed Mondays.

WE NOTICE that a San Francisco paper recently extolled the virtues of a "millionaire's salad" which contains as its basic ingredient imported hearts of palm, and claimed it as a new discovery.

Maybe it is for the city, but Rancho Nicasio has been serving it for more than two years and we believe it's now on the menu of some other Marin County restaurants.

REOPENING of the Ranch House, San Anselmo is now set for Monday, April 24.

Bill Duthie, former owner of the Coffee Office in San Anselmo is slated to take over the dining room where, he says, the fare will be strictly American — fried chicken, steaks, prime rib and the like. Prices will be moderate—a complete chicken dinner will be featured at $1.95.

Since last November when Bill gave up the Coffee Office he's been managing the Senator Club in Carson City. He's had 10 years with Grisson's in San Francisco to his experience credits.

SOON to be on the menu at Ramona's, San Rafael is a small dessert tamale filled with pineapple, or lemon or strawberries. A few served at random have been enthusiastically received and are now being requested by regular customers. They'll be prepared to take out, too.

AND WHILE this is last on this week's report it is by no means the least in importance, for I have just come from an evening at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club honoring its new manager Fenwick (Bud) Witt who brings with him 14 years experience at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco and two years with the Green Hills Country Club in Millbrae—as manager at both places.

Best testimony on Bud's capabilities comes from chef Jean Joaquin who worked with him nine years and rates him high in qualities which should help to make the Marin Bay development a wide attraction.

From an outsider's viewpoint with a glimpse of the inside workings I should add that nowhere have I seen such enthusiastic teamwork in an organization bent on making it a success, stemming from James Lee representing the Latipac Corp. Terry Van Gorder who has carried the management on his shoulders these last several months, through Jean Joaquin, golf pro Harry Lawrence down to every waitress and other employee.

If you have not already included this place on your dining or luncheon schedule, be sure to do so. Dinners Saturdays and Sundays, lunches daily—closed Mondays.

FILM FARE

Pat Boone Heads Cast In Musical

By LES DARD

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Singer Pat Boone and comedian Buddy Hackett head the cast of "All Hands on Deck" (CinemaScope, DeLuxe Color), a new service farce with music which comes to the Hub screen Sunday.

Boone portrays a Navy lieutenant whose ship is captained by Dennis O'Keefe, with attendant problems. And True Love is represented by the very pretty Barbara Eden. Hackett is cast as an oil-rich Indian, a sailor at that, and provides this film with its best moments.

In the manner of all such films, there are plenty of songs, some of them pretty fair, and one semi-production number.

RAFAEL T HEATER

Oakland's Steve Reeves, wearing more clothing than usual, is the star of "White Warrior," a blood and thunder tale about an uprising of Caucasian villagers against Russia's czar (around 1850). It opens Sunday.

The former Mr. Universe portrays Hadji Murad, who escapes the Czar's troops, conquers opposition among his own people and leads them against the foe.

Reeves is absolutely heroic in this tale. He's stabbed in the back with bayonets, but is up and at 'em the next day. He also survives torture with hot irons and whippings.

In his struggles, Reeves is helped by two leading ladies. One, Scilla Gabel, is the wife of Prince Sergei, an evil, effeminate man. The other is Georgia Moll, as a tribeswoman who, like most of the other woman in the cast, wear pantaloons, very sheer.

NOVATO AND SEQUOIA THEATERS

Once upon a time there was a rich witch who hungered for a coat made of Dalmatian pelts. Her name: Cruella de Vil.

And there were two purebred Dalmatians, Pongo and Perdita, who produced a litter of 15 beautiful pups. Cruella sends a pair of dognapers after the 15, and they join 84 other puppies in captivity.

The dog world rallies to rescue the 99 innocents.

This, basically, is the story of "101 Dalmatians," which opens Sunday on the Novato and Mill Valley screens.

LARK THEATER

"Never On Sunday" has been held over on the Larkspur screen.

A roaring comedy in its best moments, it is also a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who tries to reform a virtuous prostitute (Meline Mercourt). He considers her the symbol of Greek decline and reasons that if he can save her, he can save the world.

Homer, our hero, initiates his reforms. But the final disenchantment is his, for he learns there is more satisfaction in the simple job of living than in search for absolute truth.

Note: An "Oscar" nominee. For adults.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Facts of Life" is a better than average comedy which pokes fun at middle age and country club life.

Bob Hope and Lucille Ball star as a pair wed to Ruth Hussey and Don DeFore, respectively. The couples are suburban neighbors who decide to vacation together in Mexico.

Hope and Ball tumble for each other and, once back home, try to continue the flirtation on a more serious level. Trouble is, they're rank amateurs, incapable of deceit.

The idea isn't new, but what is important is the way it's presented. Miss Ball is a delight from start to finist, Hope expert.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Esther and the King" (color, CinemaScope) stars Richard Egan and Joan Collins in a retelling of the biblical story. It is showing this weekend in San Rafael.

Miss Collins portrays Esther, the woman who wed the Persian King Ahaseurus to save her kinsmen. Egan plays the monarch who rescues Esther's Uncle Mordecai (Dennis O'Dea) while his own evil henchman Haman (Sergio Fantoni) is properly dispatched.

This Old Testament story was filmed in Italy by Hollywood veteran Raoul Walsh, who also had a hand in the sex-and-sand script.

Estimate: Plenty of spectacle.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Suddenly Last Summer," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Katherine Hepburn and Montgomery Clift, is a strange brand of mystery and horror.

Among the questions it raises:

What was it that drove Miss Taylor insane, suddenly, last summer?

What is the terrible secret Miss Hepburn wants cut from the girl's mind by surgery?

What was the real character of Sebastian, the young man with whom this story deals?

This adult film is now showing.

Army Schedules Cemetery Closing

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Army announced today Golden Gate National Cemetery at San Bruno has been fully developed and will be closed to further burials in 1965.

The only interments thereafter will be for spouses in reserved sites or double burials in occupied graves.

Additional facilities for burials of military veterans in San Francisco National Cemetery at the Presidio will be provided.

Rhubarbians In Tam Valley Are Great

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The thing about the Rhubarbians is that they are all people—people you would like to get up on the stage and join.

But, according to a new law in Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club hall if you don't live there you must sit in the audience, eat your popcorn at the long tables and laugh in your beer.

Rhubarb Revue of 1961, showing tonight and tomorrow and next weekend, is a take-off on the 1930s, with Guy Lombardo and his orchestra, gangsters, the Andrew Sisters, Major Bowes, NRA and Little Orphan Annie.

Bernie Healey directs the revue and also wrote a lot of the laughs for it. His take-offs on Jeanette MacDonald (Cathy Radke) and Nelson Eddy (Joe Allen) singing "Sweethearts"; Karl Zipf as Shirley Temple; Lois Snow as Ma Barker, and Nick Monteleone as Trigger Noonan are excellent and have more than a touch of satire. The players are great.

The Rhubarb folk, as always, give you some red hot numbers with professional material such as Shirley Taldo. She is an excellent mime in "School Days" and, likewise, as Charlie Chaplin.

Our finds also include Kim Badger and Art Crebassa, comic dancers; hilarious Glad Baker presenting a liquid cooking school on the air: Bob Glessner as Ted Lewis; Morrie Batz as the mad medic; Leo Jones as the homey philosopher, and Karl Zipf in "One for the Road." And to all the others, God bless you.

The unusual is represented by the movie "Love Is A Simple Thing." Very special, it is professionally done by Milt Kerr.

Spade Cooley Found Responsible In Death

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—"You're going to watch me kill her, Melody. If you don't I'll kill all of us."

Spade Cooley's daughter, Melody, 14, on the verge of tears, so testified at an inquest yesterday in the slaying of her mother, Ella Mae Cooley.

Cooley, 50, onetime Western bandleader star of television, is held on suspicion of murder. A coroner's jury of nine men took only 11 miutes to find Cooley responsible for the April 3 slaying.

Cooley, sitting in a wheelchair, bowed his head and shuddered as his daughter told how she saw her father pull the nude body of her mother from a shower at the Cooley ranch home.

Melody said she watched in terror as her father pounded her mother's head against the floor, stomped on her stomach and put out a burning cigarette on her mother's flesh, saying: "We'll just see if you're dead."

Melody said she ran from the house after her father made improper advances to her.

Cooley has been held in the prison ward hospital for a heart condition. After the brief hearing, his attorney, Morris B. Chain, said: "He was definitely insane at the time of the crime."

Kennedy Less Red Captive Than Ike, Says Welch

"Kennedy has done many things considered soft on communism in a political way, such as his speech as a U.S. senator in support of the Communist-controlled Algerian rebels. I was sorry to see anyone in our government take such a stand," Welch said.

Welch appeared on a local TV panel show to end his Southern California stay. He refused permission to have the taped program shown on networks. He said the society would have no control over fragments taken out of context.

There are 17 scientific and educational departments in the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park.

MOCK ATTACK ON U.S. SET FOR APRIL 28

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will undergo a simulated attack at 1 p.m. Pacific Standard Time April 28.

At that hour, a Conelrad radio alert drill will silence all normal television and radio broadcasting for 30 minutes. Sirens will be sounded in many areas, traffic will be halted and take-cover exercises will be carried out in some states.

This will be part of the Civil Defense annual training exercise, Operation Alert 1961, defense mobilizer Frank B. Ellis announced Thursday.

Laos Army Pulls Paratroops Back

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The royal Laotian army has evacuated some 500 paratroopers it dropped northwest of Muong Kassy April 5.

Moscow Radio had reported the paratroopers were encircled a few days ago and it was believed they found their position untenable.

Spitework Seen In Cuban Kidnap Plot

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service, says four Cubans who were questioned about the reported kidnap plot against Caroline Kennedy may have been victims of spitework.

Baughman said it appeared that the four suspects, one reportedly a woman, were telling the truth when they denied hatching any plot against Caroline. Baughman said the four were questioned "somewhere near Miami" about a week ago and denied everything.

Baughman said the four were kept under close surveillance by the Secret Service.

A reported remark of a Cuban employee in a Miami garment plant touched off the alarm while the Kennedy family was in Palm Beach, Fla.

U.S. security officials were told the worker had said: "We ought to abduct Caroline Kennedy to force the United States to stop interfering with Cuba's government."

During the Ice Age the moose, caribou, musk oxen, mountain sheep, bear and wolverine came to America across the Bering land bridge.

Disability Retirement Payments Questioned

San Francisco's City Retirement System has received reports that some former policemen and firemen are receiving disability pensions they are no longer entitled to, Daniel Mattroce, secretary of the system, said yesterday.

One of the disability-retired is Frank VanDervort, former police inspector who is now city sales manager for the Regal Pale Brewing Co. He lives at 12 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax.

He left the police department two years ago because of a bad back, and reportedly receives a city pension of $442.25 a month. This amount is three quarters of the pay he would have had if he had remained on duty.

Under the city charter a disability-retired employee may not receive jointly from his pension and private employment more than the pay he had been getting while a city employee.

VanDervort said he didn't think his income was the city's business. His salary is put into a corporation, he said, and almost all of it is paid out in dividends to his wife.

He was in the police department 13 years, had four meritorious citations, 21 captain's commendations, and was in four shootings, VanDervort said.

BROWN

a shakeup of education's high command, Brown said he was opposed to legislation to give the governor power to appoint the school chief.

"I believe public education should be completely out of politics," he said.

Brown said the proposed business manager in the Department of Education should be a "top-flight purchasing agent."

A legislative committee charged that the state lost millions of dollars through inefficient purchasing of textbooks and supplies.

Brown said he has asked President Clark Kerr of the University of California to study a proposal that U.C. faculty members write elementary textbooks for publication by the state.

He said the authors still would get royalties, but big royalty payments to publishing houses would end.

Asked if this would strike at private enterprise, Brown said:

"I don't think so. I want to get the best textbooks at the cheapest price."

He said he has no intention of seeing the state printing plant closed down. Until last year, the plant had printed all the state's texts from plates leased from publishers.

The governor reiterated his opposition to provide for multiple adoption of state textbooks in which districts are given a choice of several books approved by the state.

But he declined again to say whether he would veto the proposal if it reaches his desk.

He said that when he blasted off, he thought of the Communist Party, "about our Socialist mother country, love for the glorious party, for our heroic toiling people."

His fellow astronauts were ready to join him in space, he said.

He thanked Khrushchev, dedicated his flight to the forthcoming 22nd party congress and ended with "glory to the Soviet Communist Party and to its Leninist Central Committee headed by Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev."

and 18 volunteers—had the blaze under control at 10:49 p.m., 37 minutes after they received the call.

Volunteer George Gnoss, who is deputy county clerk, slipped on the hillside while feeding water to the blaze. He was taken to Novato Medical Center where his bruised ribs were taped. He was to have X-rays taken today.

O'Coy told firemen he had gone to bed about 9 p.m. while two visitors remained in the front room. When he was awakened by the blaze he said the two friends were not in the house.

Cavallero said five trucks poured more than 3,300 gallons of water on the fire before any of the hydrants in the area were used.

Cavallero voiced much concern over water shortage in the Black Point area. "There are a lot of trees in the area which could have caught fire and there is not much water in the main lines," he said.

Cavallero said the house was insured but O'Coy told him the contents were not.

Dentist Jailed After Break-In

A San Francisco dentist was jailed today on suspicion of breaking into his ex-wife's home in Mill Valley and attacking her after an argument.

James Leon Fuller, 35, of 3254 Pierce Street, San Francisco, was held without bail on suspicion of assault, battery and burglary.

Fuller's former wife, Elizabeth Blanche Aldrich, 30, a secretary, began screaming for help about 3 a.m. when Fuller climbed in through the bedroom window at 990 Redwood Highway. Damon C. Burris of 19 Knoll Lane, a neighbor, called the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Boyd Burnham made the arrest.

granted since 1950, although there have been "three or four" commuter and cash toll cuts since that time.

He said that bridge traffic engineer Arthur Jenkins has under study "three or four plans" for other toll cuts. He said the proposals would be completed before the next finance committee meeting Thursday, April 27, and a recommendation would be presented to the full board at its meeting on the 28th.

One plan under study is a 15-cent toll for all automobiles, casual or commuter. Hadeler said this might "cost the bridge" as much as a million dollars a year. Another plan, proposed by Murphy, was for a 10-cent toll for commuters and a possible reduction to 20 cents for cash toll payers.

Oakland Man Leaps From Span

An Oakland man of Chinese racial origin jumped from the mid-span of the Golden Gate Bridge early today to become the 208th known suicide from the structure.

The California Highway Patrol said witnesses observed the man hobbling briskly to the railing at 6:45 a.m. and throwing himself over before anyone could take action.

Coast Guard searchers recovered the body from waters near the bridge at 7:10 a.m. Papers in the clothing identified the suicide as Joseph L. Fong, 39.

The reason for the victim's peculiar gait then became evident. He had an artificial right leg.

Governor Asks Tam Youth To Plan P arley

Stewart Hindley, 18-year-old Tamalpais High School senior, was named today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown as one of a 25-member committee of young Californians to plan a youth conference Nov. 6-7 in Sacramento.

The committee will work with the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth in connection with service projects to make their communities better places to live.

Brown said the conference would seek to develop ways in which youth of California could meet President John F. Kennedy's challenge of "ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country."

Hindley, son of Mrs. H. H. Hindley of 48 Carmelita Avenue, Mill Valley, is on the executive board of the governor's advisory committee and chairman of its subcommittee on "the image and internal structure." He will attend a committee meeting Thursday in Los Angeles to plan for the conference.

He took part in the weeklong White House Conference on Children and Youth last spring in Washington, D.C.

Hindley was student body president at Tamalpais High School for the 1960 fall semester, president of his junior class and sports editor of the Tamalpais News, the school paper, in the spring of 1960. He was a representative to California Boys State in Sacramento last June.

Hearing Slated On Ross Plan

Planning consultant James M. Campbell showed a proposed Ross master plan to the Ross Town Council sitting as a planning commission last night.

After discussion of his work and required procedures, the members set for 8 p.m. April 27 a first public hearing on the plan.

There must be a total of three hearings, of which the first two will be of the council sitting as planners and the third will be in the normal capacity as city council.

Subsequently revised zoning will be taken up, with one hearing as planning commission and another as council.

The meeting adjourned to 8 p.m. Monday, when the group as town council will consider action on recommendations made by former Berkeley Police Chief John Holstrom concerning the Ross police force.

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing*—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a far costlier car.

AND JUST ONE JET-SMOOTH RIDE WILL SHOW YOU WHY!

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

Marin's Top Prep Athletes Named

Two outstanding, all around athletes from each of the six Marin County Athletic League schools for 1960-61 were announced today in an annual poll conducted by the Radio KTIM Sportsmen's Club.

The 12 heroes will take their bows next Wednesday night at the sportsmen's club's annual banquet at Bermuda Palms Hotel in San Rafael, KTIM Manager Hugh Turner announced this morning.

Drake — Sam Johnson and Mike Bresnan;

San Rafael — Randy Petrini and Billy Roberts;

Marin Catholic—Jerry Crowe and Ed O'Connell;

Most of the athletes starred in three sports and many won all-star recognition.

Redwood's Hoffman was the only one of the dozen to win All-Northern California laurels as star tackle on the Giants' championship football team.

Johnson of Drake was a Marin League winner of a National Hall of Fame Football Foundation award for all-around outstanding ability in sports, school activities, scholarship and outside school interests.

San Rafael's Petrini and Tam's Kreuter and Dornbach were All-League selections in two sports.

A brief rundown of each athlete's major sports:

Hoffman, All-Northern California, All-League football; basketball and track.

Brear, All-League basketball; football and baseball.

Haas, All-League football; baseball and basketball.

Wilt 'The Stilt' Performs In Marin Cage Feature Tonight

Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, of the Philadelphia Warriors, greatest scorer in the history of basketball, leads his barnstorming all-star squad into Marin County tonight to take on the popular San Francisco 49er hardwood team at Redwood High School gymnasium.

With advance ticket sales going fast, indications are for a sellout crowd of approximately 2,000 fans for Chamberlain's first performance in Marin starting at 8:30 o'clock.

This is one of 12 exhibitions between the Chamberlain squad and the 49ers scheduled in northern California. The tour has been arranged by Don Barksdale, former college and pro great himself, who served his basketball apprenticeship at College of Marin several years ago. He'll play on Wilt's team tonight.

Tonight's exhibition has been arranged by the Redwood Benchwarmers Club.

According to Bob Troppmann of Redwood High School's athletic department, tickets have been scaled at $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for teen-agers and $1 for children 12 and under.

SCORING CHAMP

Chamberlain, fabled 7-foot 2-inch giant of the Warriors, is the leading single-season scorer and rebounder in the history of the National Basketball Assn. During the season just concluded he broke both records he set himself the previous year.

Other members of Chamberlain's squad include Harold Perry, a regular and great outside shooter on USF's NCAA championship teams of 1955 and 1956; "Jet Stream" Smith and Charlie Hardy of the Oakland Raiders, both of whom were basketball regulars in college; Barksdale, promoter of the series, who was a seven-time AAU All-American, a member of the 1948 United States Olympic team, and for three years with the Boston Celtics; and the fabulous Gardere brothers, Joe, Harold and Lulu, of Oakland. Joe, a standout at St. Mary's until declared ineligible, is an amazing jumper. He can dunk the ball deep down into the basket with two hands despite the fact he's only 5-feet-9-tall.

49ER STARS

At least three of the 49er gridders were outstanding collegiate basketballers. They are R. C. Owens, whose basketball background includes stardom at College of Idaho and in AAU competition, plus a tour with the Harlem Globetrotters; John Thomas, leading scorer of the California Basketball Assn. during his playing days at College of Pacific; and Clyde Conner, Thomas' teammate at COP. Other members of the 49er cage squad are Capt. Gordy Soltau, Bob St. Clair, Ed Henke, Y. A. Tittle, John Brodie and Matt Hazeltine.

The game will be played according to pro rules, which means the 24-second rule and four 12-minute quarters will be in force.

PLENTY OF TICKETS

Plenty of tickets are still available for tonight's basketball game and will go on sale at the Redwood gym starting at 7:15 o'clock, it was announced this morning.

Tamites Down Marin; Redwood '9' Also Wins

Sophomore Fred Mack of Tamalpais High School and Redwood High's Mike Cooney each went the distance yesterday in pitching his team to victories in non-league competition.

Mack twirled the Indians to a 4-2 victory over Marin Catholic at Tam while Cooney also was a 4-2 winner over San Francisco's Washington High at San Francisco's Washington High at San Rafael's Albert Field.

Tam opened its scoring fast in the first inning when Bob Melbern doubled, Norm Kreuter walked and Dave Perlis drove them home with a double for a 2-0 lead.

In the fifth Tam made it 4-0 when Russ Adams singled home Ed Collins, who had singled, and Melbern, who was on via a fielder's choice.

Marin Catholic ruined Mack's shutout in the seventh inning when an error, a bloop single and a walk loaded the bags and pitcher Hank Ryan drove home one run on a sacrifice fly and Chris Ahearn singled home the second marker.

Mac, who also had a double to his credit (half of Tam's six hits went for doubles), struck out six, including the side in the seventh, and walked three. Tam thus completed its practice schedule with five wins and five losses. The indians have won three of their last four.

Ahearn had two of Marin's five hits. Marin's pitchers were Ryan, who gave up two runs in four innings, and Ken Bowerman, who gave up two in two.

At San Rafael, meanwhile, Cooney was striking out 10 Washington batters and walking only two. Washington took a 2-0 lead early, but then blew it when three errors and singles by Jim Troppmann and Don Simons highlighted a four-run third inning rally by Redwood. Coach Al Endriss of the Giants gave everyone on his squad a chance to see action.

Don't Get Too Sold On Giants Yet; Remember Flops Of '59, '60

CONNOLLY

When a sports writer makes a guess and misses, he is wrong.

You've read where a movie critic, reviewing a new picture, declares, "This is a masterpiece; it'll probably win the Academy Award." So pretty soon the public stays away in great numbers, and the picture is withdrawn as quietly as possible, and the studio writes it off.

That happened to Abie's Irish Rose as it swung into its fifth year, AFTER the critics said it wouldn't last two weeks.

The baseball critics got all hot and bothered about the S.F. Giants in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

So I say do not get too sold on the 1960 Giants. At least not yet, although right now they're hotter than a .45.

TOM HALLER is hitting and catching well; Chuck Hiller is playing second base and looks set; Jim Duffalo, the rookie pitcher, is looking like another Christy Matthewson.

So all the sports writers get a breezy slant in their writing. I'm just hoping nobody, including myself, says they are a shoo-in for the pennant.

For example, let the sports writers remember that none of the starting Giant pitchers has yet finished a ball game. So it took the reserve or the bullpen staff to save the aces, they guys who get most of the money in salaries.

That good?

LET'S FIGURE Haller makes good as a catcher.

Imagine Duffalo working in relief the rest of the year as he has done the first two games he pitched.

All the critics got hot and somewhat disgusted when Sam Jones, didn't last out the opener. Likewise they were squelched when Mike McCormick got charged with his first defeat on a one pitch homerun.

I'D SAY that if the season continues as it has so far Dark is a 100 to 1 shot for an ulcer clinic. He is nervous, too devout, too sensitive to stand the rigors of the action packed game of big league managing. I hope I'm wrong.

If you saw him as I did after the opening game, his chin hanging on his knee and his voice sounding like a radio out of order, you'd wonder what you could say to make him feel happy. I had a lot of questions I wanted to throw at him but I'm too old to run and too fat to fight, so I let the other youthful critics needle him.

THE ONLY reason I second guess Dark is that the time element in a ball game differs on an afternoon paper. There is no use of an afternoon paper telling you how the Giants lost. It is much better to try and analyze why they lost and leave the morning papers to give you the horrifying details of the game itself.

The gossip in baseball is much more interesting than the story of how the game was played or how the game was won or lost.

Al Dark, The 'Mad Scientist,' Batting 1.000 In Strategy

They're calling Alvin Dark the "Mad Scientist" and, boy, does he come up with some startling effects.

The quiet rookie manager's internal computing system was batting a thousand yesterday when his San Francisco Giants beat the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates 6-5 in 12 innings at Candlestick Park.

The Giants won the season's initial series, two games to one, and each of the three battles was decided on a single run.

You could hardly select one hero yesterday, but most of the players expressed admiration for 24-year-old Jim Duffalo, a rookie right-handed pitcher who spent last season with Springfield in the Class A Eastern League.

Duffalo, who came on in the 11th with two Pirates on base and one out, walked over a run before he struck out Bob Skinner for the third out.

But Hobie Landrith, batting for the first time this season, smacked a home run on the first pitch Roy Face threw him in the bottom of the 11th and tied the score for the third time at 5-5.

That shot matched Hobie's entire home run output last season.

Shortstop Eddie Bressoud belted a three-run homer over the right field fence in the fourth inning and put the Giants ahead 3-2.

Duffalo, the youngster who preserved Billy Loes' victory Wednesday, got through the 12th without giving up a run. Then Dark sent him up to lead off the Giants' 12th.

"The kid's a good swinger," Dark said, "and I liked the way he was pitching."

Duffalo swung so good he won his own game. He lashed a double to the right field corner, then was taken out for pinch runner Ernie Bowman.

There were other moves by Dark. With two out in the eighth and the Giants trailing 4-3, Willie Mays beat out a single to shortstop. On the first pitch to Willie McCovey, Mays stole second and continued to third when Pirate catcher Smoky Burgess threw the ball into center field. With the count 1-0 on McCovey, Dark yanked his cleanup batter for Joe Amalfitano, a singles hitter. So Amalfitano singled, scoring Mays with the run that sent the game into extra innings.

There were 12,474 fans at Candlestick Park, including 1,837 women for the first Ladies Day. And there were a lot of late dinners after the three hour, 38 minute game.

The Philadelphia Phils move into Dark's windblown laboratory tonight. Right-hander Art Mahaffey is scheduled to pitch against southpaw Mike McCormick, the only Giant robot who has failed to obey the Mad Scientist.

McCormick, used in relief on opening day, saw his first pitch clouted for a three-run, game winning homer by Bill Virdon.

McCORMICK AGAINST PHILS

Mike McCormick, a potential 20-game winner who currently sports a 27.00 earned run average gets a chance to do something about it tonight when he starts for the San Francisco Giants against classy Art Mahaffey of the Philadelphia Phillies in the first night game of the season at Candlestick Park, 8:15 o'clock.

Candlestick Park patrons will recall Mahaffey as the rookie right-hander who mortified the Giants with a two-hitter in his initial appearance against them last season.

McCormick only has thrown one ball so far this season, and that was a home run pitch to Bill Virdon which ruined the Giants' opener in the ninth inning last Tuesday.

Deaf Athletes Need Helping Hand; State Semi-Pro Tourney Dates Set

Ever hear of the World Games for the Deaf? Well, they exist and will take place in Helsinki, Finland Aug. 6-10 and two young athletes with local connections will be participating.

They are Susan Pier of San Anselmo, an outstanding swimmer, and Ronald Wood of Newark, nephew of Mrs. Anthony Iacopi of San Anselmo. Wood is a star runner for the California School for the Deaf in Berkeley. His best times are 9.8 seconds in the 100-yard dash and 51.3 in the 440.

Miss Pier, 20, a graduate of Drake High School and daughter of Mrs. Emily Knapp, 31 Bayview Avenue, currently attends Gallaudet College in Washington, D. C., the only college for the deaf in the world. She formerly attended the Berkeley school and has developed into a fine swimmer.

What brings the subject up today is finances. To transport each contestant to the International Games costs $1,350. A fund to help pay the expenses of the California team has been set up at P.A. Box 5044, Berkeley 5, and your donations will be gratefully accepted.

One interesting thing about this world event: There is no language barrier; theirs is an international language.

S. L. "Brick" SWEGLE, the man in charge of the Californit State NBC Baseball Tournament, has announced dates for the 1961 championships to be played again in San Rafael this summer.

The tournament has been divided into two halves, the first running from June 30 to July 11 and the second half from July 28 to Aug. 9.

Swegle said the Hatzell Radio team of El Cerrito, the 1960 champion, and San Jose Nesbig-Masonry, runner-up, will return along with representative clubs from throughout the state.

Marin once again will be represented, Swegle said, with the Tiburon Pelicans, Ongaro Plumbers, Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders and a new San Rafael club under the direction of Charley Pinza scheduled for action.

LEON ADAMS of 51 Montemar, Sausalito, who has authored books on the habits of striped bass, recently practiced what he preaches and hauled in a 12-pound striper off Pt. San Quentin. He picked up a Schenley Sportsmen's Club prize for the effort.

IRVING CHAPMAN, the San Rafael shoe merchant and avid sports fan, including (or especially) golf, said last Sunday's Ames Invitation Golf Tournament at the Marin Club was "the best conducted tournament I've ever seen."

Chapman said the remarkable thing was that all 46 of the "celebrity" guests showed up on schedule — not one "scratch."

Sponsor Doug Cowan of Ames Ford and tourney chairman Fred O'Bannon did a magnificent job, and all hands agreed the tournament was a big boost for Marin golf. One of the guests, San Francisco's Bob Roos, was among those who praised the smooth function of the tournament.

IF SOMEONE had hollared, "Hey, Williams" at the Marin Athletic League baseball tournament last weekend, it would have caused all kinds of confusion. There were three of 'em on the rosters . . . Steve and Robert of Marin Catholic and Tom of San Rafael.

A COUPLE of Marin County high school graduates are currently listed on the athletic rosters of the University of California Santa Barbara Gauchos.

Michael H. Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Watts of 25 La Cuesta, San Rafael, is on the frosh track team. He's a graduate of Redwood High and is a mathematics major.

Dodgers Errors Costly; Braves Nip Cardinals

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National League moves into its "second openers" today with Cincinnati's unbeaten Reds in first place after the Philadelphia Phillies managed to take advantage of Los Angeles mistakes and hand the Dodgers their first loss .

The Phils, scoring four runs in the last two innings, three of them gifts, salvaged the final game of their three-game set at Los Angeles last night, winning 8-7. That left the Reds, who rapped the Chicago Cubs again, 5-2, alone on top.

San Francisco made it two in a row over the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, winning 6-6 in 12 innings for the Giants' first decision over relief ace Elroy Face in three years. The Milwaukee Braves went 11 innings before downing the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4.

The Cardinals, who split the two-game series at Milwaukee, open their home schedule tonight against Cincinnati with Curt Simmons facing Jay Hook of the Reds. The Cubs open their Wrigley Field season in an afternoon game against Milwaukee as Bob Anderson opposes the Braves' Bob Buhl. The Giants and Dodgers swap foes.

A. L. WASHED OUT

The American League's expanding schedule, so far restricted to just five games because of bad weather, counted another complete loss yesterday with rain, snow and cold barring play. Only three games are scheduled today. Cleveland moves to Washington and Minnesota to Baltimore for night games with the Chicago White Sox at Detroit this afternoon.

After blasting from behind on two-run homers by Pancho Herrera and Tony Gonzalez, the Phillies dropped back again in the seventh at Los Angeles when the Dodgers scored three for a 6-4 lead. The Phils then moved ahead again with three in the eighth on a double by Tony Curry and a single by Gonzalez.

The Dodgers tied it 7-all in their eighth on an unearned run. The Phils then put it away when winning reliever Dick Farrell singled and scored on a two-out error by losing reliever Ed Palmquist in the ninth. It was the first decision for each.

SNIDER HOMERS

Duke Snider drove in the first three Dodger runs off Phillie starter John Buzhardt with a home run and a double. The homer was the Duke's 369th, giving him a tie with Ralph Kiner for seventh place on the all-time list.

Both Phillie home runs came off Dodger starter Roger Craig.

Lindy McDaniel, the Cards' relief ace, forced in the winning run at Milwaukee by walking pinch-hitter Mel Roach on a 3-2 pitch with the bases loaded in the 11th. Seth Morehead was the winner. Ken Boyer and Joe Cunningham, who drove in three runs, homered for the Cards.

Tacoma Finally Beats Springfield On Rhodes' Homer

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—The Tacoma Giants of the Pacific Coast League yesterday finally edged their little brothers from the Class-A Eastern League.

The Giants won out 7-5 after having lost three straight to Springfield.

The colorful veteran, Dusty Rhodes, unloaded a three-run homer in the fifth to decide the issue.

Despite their difficulties with Springfield, Tacoma has had a good spring season, with 13 wins in 19 starts.

Small Boat Skippers Launch Racing Season This Weekend

By ALFRED MATSON

Lake Merced Sailing Club gets top billing this weekend as the sponsors of the first regatta of the season for the many classes of diminutive windjammers that race under the aegis of the Small Boat Racing Assn.

Needless to say, Lake Merced will be the locale of the naval warfare and, as programmed, the action will be in evidence both tomorrow and Sunday. Divisions Three and Four will have the honors of drawing first blood with races at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. tomorrow and Divisions One and Two being withheld from the fray until 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Being the initial contest of the season, there should be a heavy turnout of the multitude of sailing buffs with the itchy tiller fingers who have just emerged from their long winter hibernation.

JUNIOR HONORS

As an added attraction, the first race for the Delmas Perpetual Trophy will be held tomorrow at high noon. Marinites Peter and Len Delmas, a yachting duo of long standing and a father and son combo, donated the trophy to the SBRA with a covering deed of gift that it is to be a seasonal award for junior skippers, boy or girl, who will not attain their 18th birthday until after Sept. 1.

There are six sets of races scheduled through May 28 and the top contenders will be eligible to participate in the eliminations for the bay representative in the Sears quarter finals for the North American junior sailing championship race.

The Belvedere Sailing Society's colors will be carried by Jim Davies, skipper, Bob and Bill Ferguson as crew and Steve Taft, the alternate.

HONOLULU ENTRY

Local representation in the Honolulu race was heavily bolstered with the announcement by Ron MacAnnan of the entry of his Big M Class sloop, Pursuit.

Prior to shoving off for San Pedro at the end of May, MacAnnan plans on getting the Pursuit into racing trim as a participant in local races starting with the Vallejo wingding on the weekend of May 6-7.

Hamilton Rod-Gun Club Meet Monday

Next regular meeting of the Hamilton Rod and Gun Club will be held next Monday, 8 p.m., in the clubhouse on the small arms range at Hamilton Air Force Base, it was announced today by Col. Pearl Roundy, USAF Ret., president.

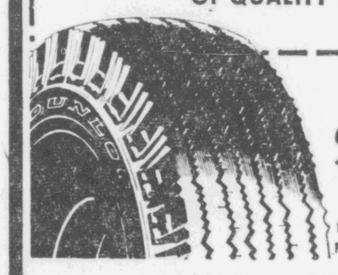

Col. Roundy said the club has initiated a class in skeet shooting, under the direction of Col. Waddell Smith. The next class is scheduled Saturday, April 29, 12:30-4:30 p.m.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Anglers Chased Back Into Port By Wednesday's Rough Weather

STEVENS

Wednesday was a wet, windy and white-capped day. The many hopefuls who decided to stock their larders with freshly caught striped bass in the China Camp-Santa Venetia area of San Pablo Bay were forced back to the barn, cold and grumpy. A few, a very few, who braved the elements and were on the job early proved, however, that the fish are still around. Grace Quan of China Camp told me one chap came in around 11 a.m. with two beautiful 15-pound bass and a 54-inch sturgeon.

Asked about thte results of Tuesday out of China Camp, Grace repeated her statement that most anglers made the grade with the fish taken running much smaller in the morning than in the afternoons.

JOE NERVIANI of Santa Venetia reported 15 boats out on Tuesday and fair to good results in the morning with the wind coming up in the afternoon. "Not so good as Monday, Ralph," said Joe, "and the fish ran much smaller, from just legal to about 18 inches. All boats had fish but not all had limits." He snorted when describing the weather and water Wednesday. "Very rough and very foolish to try fishing," he lamented.

I TALKED with Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett. Wanted the low-down on what has been doing in the upper San Pablo Bay. As I stated in Tuesday's column fishing has been, to say the most for it, spotty. During the middle of last week it has been good, then it fell off. One party boat came in with nine bass to 10 pounds and another party boat only had six fish on Sunday. On Monday it was no faster nor yet on Monday and Tuesday. However there is good reason to believe the schools of bass are moving upstream and in the very near future the picture may change radically.

I UNDERSTAND the party boatsmen have inaugurated a sort of contest. The angler getting the largest fish in a two-week period wins a prize. Ralph Gutierrez won the last one with his 18-pounder caught aboard the Milielin.

The report that the Crockett boats had been fishing the China Camp area was in error it appears. Nadine said it was not so. "Too far for our boats to travel," she explained.

THERE IS evidence that the back country bass fishing has come to life in the past week. Joe Navarro of the Sportsmen's Center in Castro Valley reported Pete Martin and friend, along with Cliff Torres taking limits from four to eight pounds off Blind Point; Tony Nunes and two buddies accounted for four bass to 14 pounds off the Venice Island Sounding Board; Carl Wucherer had a 12-pounder from Frank's Tract; Ed and Diana Allen came home with 24 catfish from old river and Charlie Weimer and son, Bud, limited with black bass at Berryessa. Black bass ran to a pound and a half, and Charlie reported that weighed over a pound, on catching an 11-inch bluegill, the trip.

SALMON TROLLERS, according to the talk over my radio, are annoyed over the sea lions grabbing off fish from their hooks. If it isn't jellyfish it has to be something else, eh?

DOWN SANTA CRUZ way, the Stagnaros report the average salmon per troller has picked up to two to the rod. Mostly taken from three to eight miles southeast of the Santa Cruz Whistling Buoy. Salmon are running quite fair as to size. Rock fishing out of Santa Cruz has been fair in the New Year Island long distance trip and equally so in the local waters. Not too many ling but an abundance of assorted rockfish.

SALMON trollers working the waters near the Farallones were having a field day Wednesday. "Market" fish and lots of them!

Sifford Sets Early Pace At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Charlie Sifford carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $22,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament, and if the Los Angeles Negro professional continues his daily improvement pattern over the Sedgefield Country Club course he will be hard to catch.

Sifford shot a three under par 68 to lead a field of 115 by a stroke in yesterday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament. Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., was next at 69.

SNEED FIFTH

Six pros carded par 71s to tie for fifth place. Heading the lot was Sam Snead, defending champion from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and seven-time winner here. Tied with him were Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif.; Carolinas PGA champion Avery Beck from Kinston, N.C., and Don Messengale, Jacksboro, Tex., and Bob Shave, Willoughby, Ohio.

Sifford, the first Negro to play a major PGA tournament in the Deep South ,is 38 and has been a part-time touring pro since 1953. A sturdy 175-pounder, he takes great pride in his long drives, but his short game was the key to his first round success. He had 12 one-putt greens, matching the year's low in PGA circuit play, and used only 24 putts.

Playing in 19 PGA tour events last year, he won $8,800, missing the money only once and the 36-hole cut only once. This year he picked up $4,000 in six California and southwest tournaments early in the year before dropping out for six weeks when the caravan headed into the Deep South.

Brunswick Fails To Take ABC Lead

DETROIT (AP)—Stroh's Beer of Detroit breathed easier today as leaders in the classic division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Brunswick of Miami, Fla., failed to dislodge Strohs in a challenge last night. Brunswick, working on 3,036 from the night before, hit onl 2,837 for an overall six-game count of 5,873 for seventh place. Stroh's leads with 5,978.

Stroh's has to sweat out the performances of 29 more teams before it can claim the title and $4,000 first prize.

MACHEN FUTURE ALL SET: WIN TITLE, RETIRE

REDDING (AP)—Eddie Machen has his future all mapped out.

Machen, resting in Redding after winning a unanimous decision over Mike DeJohn in San Francisco last Monday, said he wants to fight world heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, win the title, defend it four or five times and retire.

"I want to get enough money to live a comfortable life, set myself up in business and see that my family is taken care of," Machen said yesterday.

He plans to wait and see if he can get a fight with Patterson before scheduling any more bouts.

In New York yesterday, Patterson was quoted as saying Machen now has a better chance of getting a title fight next September than Britain's Henry Cooper.

Machen said he started bearing down on conditioning about five months ago.

"I wanted to really give myself a chance to get in shape. You have to work a long time to get in shape and stay there," he said.

Roaring 20s Golders Join Hall Of Fame

Little League Meeting Set At Santa Venetia

The Gallinas Valley Little League group will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at McPhail School in Santa Venetia, announces Barbara Walker, secretary of the group.

Mill Valley Golfers Play Tourney Sunday

Members of the Mill Valley Men's Golf Club will compete Sunday in the Vice President's Day tournament at the Mill Valley Municipal Course with the vice president's cup up for grabs.

This marks another in a series of tournaments conducted by the busy southern Marin club. Last Sunday the Mill Valleyans as a team scored an 18-point victory over the Ukiah Golf Club team at Mill Valley in a special match.

Mill Valley shooters winning prizes for low net scoring were Andre Hahn, Keeler Nash, Charlie Price, Frank Terriault, Gary Johnson and Hugh Corthell.

Tryouts Tomorrow For Pony League

Tryouts for the Twin Cities Pony League baseball teams will be held tomorrow, 1 p.m. at Redwood High School, it was announced today by Dick Jewett, president of the Twin Cities Boys Club.

San Rafael's Fred Stoke Races At Fremond Sunday

Fred Stoke, with the Stoke and Azevedo B-Open gas dragster from San Rafael, drives a speedy 340-inch supercharged Chevy engined machine that is a frequent winner.

Roger Harrington, wheeling the Harrington and McFall A-Open gas dragster from San Pablo, uses a 352-inch Olds engine to travel the quarter-mile in near record time. Bob Bales and Len Freitas of Salinas take turns driving their B-Open gas machine through the clocks. The dragster is powered by a 292-inch Chevy engine, that is blown (or supercharged).

A gas dragster uses service station fuel, rather than the slightly more potent rocket-types, but can attain speeds only a little lower than the fuel dragsters turn. Fremont Drag Strip has a large turn-out of these speedsters every week, since drivers have found that the bite off the starting line, and the accurate and dependable timing are unmatched anywhere.

Sunday will again see dozens of drivers of stockers in competition for the cash awards given to class winners the first and third Sunday of the month. The only requirement is that there must be 10 or more in the class to qualify for a cash award.

Racing for time runs in the morning hours at Fremont gets underway at 9 a.m. The dragsters often make runs as early as possible, since many drivers feel that the early morning damp air gives them an advantage. Eliminations start at 1:30 p.m. Spectators have large viewing, parking and grand stand areas available at Fremont.

College All-Stars, Trotters Clash In S.F. Tonight

Doug Moe and York Larese, North Carolina's "one-two" punch that has been surprising the famous Harlem Globetrotters, hits the Cow Palace tonight at 8 o'clock when the hoop magicians resume their cross-country tour against the College All-Americans.

Moe and Larese, as their North Carolina coach, Frank McGuire, predicted are outshining the stars while keeping comic Meadowlark Lemon and Trotters cohorts playing desperately to protect a 6 to 4 series lead.

Bolstered by a galaxy of All-American cagers, namely St. Mary's Tom Meschery, Indiana's Walt Bellamy, Gonzaga's Frank Burgess, Houston's Gary Phillips and California's Bill McClintock, the Tar Heels twins have proved the Globetrotters' "nemesis."

Also cavorting with the most formidable team in the classic's 12-year-run will be William & Mary's Jeff Cohen, UCLA's John Berberich and DePaul's Carl Nowie.

Tryouts Tomorrow At Marin Diamond

Tryouts for Kentfield-Greenbrae's Pony League varsities are scheduled for tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock on College of Marin's baseball field in Kentfield.

More than 70 boys have signed up for berths on the four Pony League teams that Kentfield-Greenbrae will field this year. Two of the teams will participate in the major division of the Southern Marin Pony League along with teams from Mill Valley, Tiburon, Sausalito, Strawberry and the Twin Cities of Larkspur and Corte Madera.

Marin High School Senior Girls Will Be Feted At College Tea

Plans for the annual College of Marin Fashion Show and Tea to be given in honor of graduating senior girls of Marin County high schools on April 19 at Olney Hall, are complete and the Associated Women Students in charge of the event are adding the final touches that will carry out the theme of "A Fashion Bouquet to Remember."

Particularly busy are the 12 models: Bonnylin Adami, Drucilla Brown, Joy Ivancovich, Eleanor Jensen, Marilyn Kinsel, Charlotte Pennington, Ellen Scott, Barbara Simontacchi, Shirley Tietjen, Sally Wilder, Elizabeth Yore and Kitty Yore. They will present clothes from a San Francisco store.

Six men on campus also have been chosen as models: Barry McGough and Thomas Schulz, ASCOM president and vice president; El Cartie Barnes, Rally chairman; and Bill Rude, Scott Zimmerman and Roger Hermsmeyer.

The models have been selected and trained by Jan Siemens and Karen Hirst, both of whom are graduating sophomores and Alpha Gamma Sigma academic honor students who gained experience in last year's fashion show. They have planned a program of fashions to illustrate the daily social, academic and recreational life at the College of Marin. The high school spectators will see what is worn to classes, club meetings and campus social events. Also featured will be appropriate dress for off-campus activities from play clothes and beachwear to date dresses and formals. The climax will be the presentation of the wedding gown, symbol of every college girl's future.

The bouquet theme of the event will be carried out through a stage trimmed in banks of flowers cut from the beautiful gardens of the College of Marin and by nosegays carried by some of the models. These touches will be coordinated by Rita Sturm, decorations chairman.

Coordination behind scenes is being worked out by Carolyn Graefe, stage manager. Karen Hirst will cue the models in with the commentator, Lynne Farmer, and Jan Siemens will direct the fitters, Beverly Dismukes, Mary Bennett and Nina Wachs.

The big event of the year for the Associated Women Students will be attended by several hundred girls graduating from Tamalpais, Drake, Redwood, San Rafael, Novato, Tomales and Marin Catholic High Schools.

Brunch In Athearn Home For Show Antique Dealers

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Athearn in Mill Valley was an appropriate setting for the brunch given today for the 27 antique dealers present at this year's Marin County Antiques Show and Sale, opening today in Sausalito.

Co-hostessing the traditional "dealer's brunch" with Mrs. Athearn were the Mesdames Leslie Wellington and Jay Chilton. All are members of the committee of women of the Church of Our Saviour, Mill Valley, sponsors of the ninth annual show.

The appropriateness of the Athearn home for this affair stems from the fact that these men and women who deal in heirlooms and antiques will have an opportunity to examine and admire the many examples of early Americana handed down from the families of both Mr. and Mrs. Athearn.

Mrs. Athearn's great-grandfather was Dr. Hugh Glenn, after whom Glenn County, where he first settled in 1848, was named. The original family home is "Jacinto"—an estate a few miles outside the town of Glenn. The house, low and rambling, was brought around the Horn on shipboard in two parts. Originally built in Virginia, it is still well kept, although not now owned by a member of the settling family.

An Empire sofa, a Queen Anne coffee table, and some silver are Mrs. Athearn's remnants of that original home. Other antiques that will prove of interest to the visitors will be those from Mr. Athearn's family, for his forebears traveled to California in covered wagon days, settling in southern California.

The Antiques Show, now at the IDESST Hall in Sausalito, will continue through Sunday, is open from noon until 10 p.m.

Mrs. James Pike Will Address Episcopal Women

"Who Is My Neighbor" will be the subject of Mrs. Pike's talk. The subject is also the title of a book which Mrs. Pike edited and which was published last year.

A short business meeting will follow the program. Refreshments will be served during the evening by Mrs. Russ and her co-hostess, Mrs. Robert Winniford.

Twin Represent College At Meet

Mary K. and Mary T. Malley, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Malley of No. 2 Welcome Lane, San Rafael, are members of Dominican College's delegation representing Laos at the Model United Nations, April 12-16. The M. U. N. will be held at the University of Oregon and will be attended by 800 students from Western colleges and universities.

This is the annual fund raising event, and the proceeds from this luncheon will be used to further charity projects of the church women.

Mrs. F. G. Burt, president of the chapter, has appointed Mesdames David Little, Eugene Robinson, W. G. Smith, Elizabeth Jaros, H. D. Bowen and Clarence Mette committee chairmen of this event. A salad luncheon and an afternoon devoted to bridge or other card games is planned.

Joyce Gross
HOUSEWIFE — CIVIC LEADER
Candidate For
Mill Valley Elementary School
BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Mrs. Gross, as a Candidate for the Board, What Concerns You Most?

The fact that in ten short years today's sixth grade children will be voting. In those ten years, the home, the school, and Mill Valley have an obligation to provide an education that will enable these children to find a way to a peaceful world and to live a full and productive life. These goals can only be achieved through well-balanced education. We cannot overlook a single child.

An America of technicians and specialists is not enough. There must be training in the arts and humanities, in public affairs, and in the science of teaching itself.

How Important Are the 3 Rs?

A child not well grounded in these essential tools is a handicapped child. But—let us not confuse the learning of the 3 Rs with the true meaning of education. A truly educated person is one for whom the 3 Rs are a stepping stone, not the sole objective. Let us teach reading so that we inspire our children to read. Let us teach writing, but encourage our children to write thoughtfully and creatively. Let us teach arithmetic to promote imagination and scientific thinking which is so important in the world today.

Should We Attract and Keep Good Teachers?

We should strive to employ and retain the best qualified personnel we can. Our Mill Valley School District has and should keep a high standard among its teachers.

With 85% of our budget composed of salaries, obviously wise planning must be employed in maintaining standards. A beginning teacher must have an adequate income to live decently, and the maximum salary must be enough to encourage a good teacher to remain with our district.

Where Do Our School Dollars Go?

Decisions and policies concerning class size, teachers' salaries, transportation, and materials determine our Mill Valley School District budget. Public-minded Mill Valley people should be aware of budget figures and should help the Board of Trustees to determine alternatives if enough money is not available.

It is not efficient or economical to budget from crisis to crisis. The Board cannot meet its financial obligations by wrestling with current budgets and hoping costs will go down.

How Do You Feel About Unification?

Unification is the operation of elementary and high schools in a given area under a single administration and board. There is no doubt that this is the most efficient and economical method of operating schools and I think the citizens of Mill Valley should have these advantages as soon as practical.

What Is the Most Important Function Of a School Board?

It is policy making—forming general rules that apply to all foreseeable types of situations. They should be worked out carefully and impersonally before the crisis or problem arises. They should involve long-range planning, and should allow the Superintendent to handle administrative decisions and details of execution.

Is This Enough?

No, the members of the Board of Trustees must not merely set policies—they must see that the policies have been executed properly, and they must determine how effective they have been.

A major responsibility of the Board is providing for an exchange of inquiry and report between the staff, the Board, and the community, thus maintaining a healthy atmosphere of mutual information.

Tam District Voters Should Approve Sensible Bond Plan

On Tuesday all voters of Marin go to the polls to vote on school matters. There will be trustee elections in every part of the county. (San Rafael, which elected its high school and elementary trustees last Monday, will vote on College of Marin trustees.)

In addition, most of the voters will be asked to decide one or more of three bond issues, a state loan or four tax rates.

Affecting the most Marin students is the $3,000,000 bond issue proposed by Tamalpais Union High School District. Nearly two thirds of the county's population live in this district.

The reason for the bond issue is obvious—too many students. Tamalpais High, already handling more than capacity, would add 12 new classrooms, including a new six-room science building, increasing its capacity by 254 students.

Drake High, only one of three not now at capacity, will be overcrowded if the expansion of Redwood is not carried out. It will be forced to take the overflow. No new classrooms are planned here, but an electric shop and a teachers workroom would be added.

Remodeling is planned for Tamalpais, oldest (1909) of the three schools. Both the science facilities and the main building are scheduled for major overhaul, long needed.

Each of the three schools will have improved luncheon facilities, a snack bar at Tam and Redwood and a covered eating area at Redwood and Drake.

These major improvements, plus purchase of two sites for needed new schools of the future, make up the great majority of the bond issue.

Three million dollars sounds like a lot of money, and it is. But because the Tamalpais district is such a huge one, it doesn't cost each taxpayer much. To the owner of a home with a $25,000 market value, the cost would be only $4.60 per year; for a $40,000 home, just $7.36 in added taxes.

Certainly that isn't too much to pay for improved educational facilities for most of the county's children.

Last October a similar bond issue won 60 per cent of a small voter turnout, but failed to pass because it needed 66⅔ per cent. We hope the other 6⅔ per cent turn out to vote this time.

And while they are voting, we hope they vote also for Dr. John Siemens for a seat on their board of trustees. He's one of the 11 candidates seeking four vacant seats. He's also an effective, hardworking, dedicated man who'd do a fine job.

Mill Valley School District

Mill Valley School District, which has failed with four construction bond issues in the last four years, goes to the voters Tuesday with a $550,000 "classrooms only" proposal.

It's a simple proposal, made on the recommendations of the district's "Committee of 40," to build 19 new classrooms at Alto, Edna Maguire, Marin Terrace, Tamalpais Valley and Old Mill Schools. No new additions would be made at Park and Strawberry Point, but the new rooms should relieve some of the crowding there too.

It is hard to understand opposition to such a minimum program. There is nothing that could be called a frill; there's an obvious need for new school rooms. We hope Mill Valley has finally found the combination which will authorize needed construction.

San Anselmo District

Back in 1957, San Anselmo school trustees began to tell residents of the district money was needed to run their schools. But that year, the voters said No to a proposal to raise the tax rate from $1.35 to $1.90.

The following year in May, the trustees were even more concerned, but sought only part of what they thought necessary. They asked for an increase to $1.45. Again the voters said No, but by only six votes. So the trustees tried again in November 1958 with the same request—"Brother can you spare a dime?" They won by 42 votes.

In October 1959, the trustees tried again. This time they asked for an increase to $2.00. It was resoundingly defeated.

Now they are asking for an added 35 cents, to make the basic tax $1.80. This would raise approximately $65,000 more each year for school operations. It would allow hiring of two needed new teachers plus some parttime help; improved salary schedules for all teachers; added supplies for more children; needed ground and building maintenance, and an adequate reserve fund.

Dixie School District

Largest request on the ballot is being made of the Dixie School District voters. The district seeks authority to borrow up to four million dollars from the state as the need arises.

Constructed with the funds would be three completely new schools, additions to four others over a period of years, and purchase of two new sites.

Dixie, because it grew from a one-room school to an enrollment of 2,300 in less than five years, has had to look ahead. Thus far the voters have supported this kind of planning.

It looks as though the next five years will be just as hectic for the school planners as the last five. This plan would not add to the tax rate but would extend the time of the district's indebtedness. A neat solution for an exploding population.

Kentfield District

A 50 cent increase from Kentfield School District's $1.75 tax rate is being sought on Tuesday, but the trustees have pledged not to spend more than 25 cents of it next year.

Under the district's plan the funds would be used entirely for the educational program, including an increased teacher salary schedule. But it also includes a beefed-up curriculum which could include such subjects as foreign languages and economic education in the schools' offerings.

Decision to guarantee not to use the whole total next year was reached because more study is needed before some of these additions are made. It seems like a sensible way to approach the problem.

Tomales Bay District

Tomales Bay Union School District is asking passage of a $100,000 bond issue but allowing a lowered tax rate to stand.

The bond issue of the recently-formed district would be to finance addition of at least three classrooms on the present Tomales School.

Tomales and Marshall districts went together to form the new unionized district, a move we applauded at the time. Tomales had had an 88 cent tax rate; Marshall had had an 85 cent rate including override taxes. The trustees are allowing the 80 cent basic rate to stand. The override will be more than 5 and less than 8 cents more.

They hope the people will approve the bond issue. So do we.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

FBI Must Hear Of 'Reds In School'

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have received a letter from P. J. Rowland of San Anselmo, a self-styled "real tax economist" who is president of a group known as the Marin County Taxpayers Association.

Rowland apparently feels it necessary in his letter to defend a recent newspaper ad opposing the Tamalpais Union High School District bond issue at the April 18 election.

Although he signed the ad as president of the MCTA, his letter opens with the comment that "at the time you spoke to me I had not yet seen the ad you referred to." This admission makes it difficult for you to give much credence to the rest of his letter.

After plowing through an undocumented mass of figures, I was astonished to read this statement by Mr. Rowland:

"I also take this opportunity of stating to you in black and white that Marin County is one of the hotbeds of communism in these United States where it has infiltrated into all classes of our society — schools, elementary, high and college, lawyers, doctors and dentists, etc."

He then elaborates:

"I am seriously alarmed at the insidious penetration into our school system of communistic inspired literature and publications, as well as actual infiltration, in some cases, of personnel (sic) itself." The emphasis are mine.

If P. J. Rowland is a responsible person, I suggest it is his immediate duty to disclose to the FBI the complete details of these cases of "actual infiltration" of Communists among the "personnel" of our Marin County school system.

Mr. Rowland has made a grave accusation. Let him prove it. If he does not—or will not—then I can only assume that the other portions of his letter attacking our schools and the forthcoming school bond issue are completely unreliable and irresponsible.

Don't write or call me again, Mr. Rowland. Write or call Mr. J. Edgar Hoover or your nearest FBI office at once.

Why One Man Favors Bonds

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It has been brought to my attention that there is a prevailing impression that I am against the Tam district bonds. I would appreciate it if you would allow me this opportunity to inform your readers that I am unalterably in favor of the bonds.

Possibly the misconception arose because I did indicate that I favored a "pay-as-you-go" program in preference to bonds because of the interest cost involved in bonding. However, it is now too late to consider a "pay-as-you-go" policy for the Tam District and bonds are o u r o n l y solution . . .

About 10 years ago the Tam board informed the people of the district that at that time it was possible to finance all future needs without bonds by increasing the tax limit to $2.25. The board was careful to point out that the full amount need not be necessary, but there might be occasions when unforeseen circumstances might necessitate such a rate. The voters of the district rejected that program.

It is now too late for any such method for solving the district's financial needs. We have no time leeway left within which to accumulate funds. We are already within a few students of total capacity for the district and by this September we shall exceed present capacity for all three high schools, and most seriously at Redwood. It would take about 15 to 18 months to complete any expansion at Redwood, so any further delay simply compounds the seriousness of the situation . . .

Hence, I am unalterably in favor of the bond issue.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

She was purchasing her first life insurance policy and found a few of the questions thrown at her a bit baffling. "What's your maximum weight?" She answered easily enough with "About 150 pounds," but the next query, "What's your m i n i m u m weight?" stopped her. After some hesitation, however, she brightened. " think," she said, "it was seven pounds, four ounces."

Slouched over a bar, a disgruntled race track patron confessed he couldn't even pick the kind of drink he desired. "I'd order a pony of brandy," he explained to the bartender, "but I know it would come in last."

A smart, upcoming young musical c o m e d y starlet, wearied of parrying the maneuvers of an uninhibited stage manager and a bald-headed producer, hung this sign outside her dressing room:

Union School District

Trustees of the Union School District in North Marin are asking an increase from 80 cents to $1.10. There won't be many votes cast and there won't be many taxpayers affected.

There are only about 20 families in the district, mostly, ranchers. There are only 18 students in the school. Yet the cost of school operation goes up anyway. The teacher needs a raise, the school building needs a roof and tuition is needed to help pay for district students attending Petaluma High School.

Every district has problems.

Bolinas-Stinson District

The Bolinas-Stinson Beach Union School District is setting a tax rate for the first time.

The voters are being asked to approve a $1.20 rate. If it does not pass, the rate will be 80 cents, the state-set rate.

Last year Stinson Beach could have set a $1.40 rate; instead it set $1.25. Bolinas could have set $1.10, but it set just $1.09 cents.

For the combined district is seems fair to put the rate at $1.20. With the same people running the district, perhaps they won't need that much either.

Everybody's A Tax Economist Looking At Bonds In Own Way

Well, here it is school bond issue time again in Tamalpais Highlands and come next Tuesday, old acquaintances won't be forgot at the polls, that being the only place many of the voters ever get a solid chance to spit in one another's eye.

"Hmmph, you again? Don't you ever give up?" a childless lady, about to vote No, will hmmph to her Yes-voting neighbor, the mother of three teen-agers.

The non-mother will often be accompanied by her elderly, retired aunt who came to Marin County last year from Muncie, Ind., where she voted "No" on every school bond issue for 28 years.

"YOU AND YOUR bond issues will bankrupt us all!" the childless lady will shout, waving a page of irrefutable figures in the face of Mrs. Yes.

"These irrefutable figures were drawn up by a friend who is a tax economist," she will say with assurance, as she licks the stub of her pencil, preparatory to voting No.

"Tax economist indeed," will hmmph her neighbor, hinting darkly by her tone that just because one says he is a tax economist, it is not necessarily so.

Which I think is most unfortunate. Because tax economists are all about us these days, even lurking in the garb of garage mechanics, real estate salesmen, gardeners and unemployed wood-butchers. In fact, I am somewhat of a tax economist myself, almost always getting a slice of my tax bite back from uncle along about the middle of May.

AND IF I EVER run for school trustee, I am certainly going to list myself as such. Just compare the authoritative ring of the titles "tax economist" and "writer." Like "chocolate eclair" and "mud pie."

"Writer," he will probably snort to himself. "What does a writer know about good old-fashioned education!" Promptly he votes for my opponent, a tax economist who pulls weeds as a sideline.

Only the other day a tax economist friend of mine, who dabbles as a housewife when not economizing on taxes, told me she and her husband were going to vote Yes on the bonds.

"I HAVE IT ALL figured," my tax economist friend said, wiping her hands on her apron so as not to soil her computing machine with meat loaf drippings.

"If the bonds pass, it will only cost John and me $4.60 a year to keep the kids from going on double sessions."

Being very mathematical, in the manner of all of us tax economists, she quickly converted this sum to nine martinis and a 10-cent tip for a bartender, luxuries she felt her John could well do without during the next 12 months.

But, being a form player (as well as a tax economist) six won't get you five that the bonds will pass.

IT'S A MATTER of simple arithmetic. For every No-voting lady and her aunt (some aunts have been known to retire to Marin from as far away as Pawtucket, R. I.), it takes four Yes votes to pass the issue, the house rules calling for a two-thirds majority.

Judging on past performance of the district voters, all four of the would-be Yes votes do not hustle down to the polls. At least one of them stays home and listens to "Queen For a Day" or curls up with "Peyton Place."

So, like I say, six won't get you five . . .

Political Peace Corps Could Help Assure Fair Elections

WASHINGTON — We have still to tighten the election laws against fraud and carelessness and, even more important, to provide for real enforcement.

There are two essential ingredients for this reform.

The first is for Republicans and Democrats to quit pointing at each other as the guilty one. Both should recognize that better enforcement of the election laws will benefit everyone by insuring that every vote will count.

There is no doubt that over the years both parties have engaged in illegal and unfair practices at the polling booths, voting dead men and counting out the living.

BUT NO PARTY has had a monopoly on these evils. Obviously when a national election is as tight as last fall, the fact that some 3,000,000 Americans were deprived of their ballots, undermines confidence in the democratic process and underlines the need for reform.

Interparty recrimination, however, will get us nowhere. The assumption that one party is more culpable than the other will simply delay reform. Richard Nixon might have picked up strength if all the votes had been secure, but it is also true that President Kennedy might have won by a greater plurality.

The second ingredient for election reform is for the Republican and Democratic parties to recruit and train adequate manpower to guard the polls. Rep. William B. Widnall (R, New Jersey) has a helpful suggestion. He says:

"It appears to me that a tremendous service could be performed by some of the colleges in providing watchers and challengers for election day."

THIS GOES TO the heart of the problem. The greatest protection to the integrity of the ballot—safeguarding both the right to vote and the fairness of the count — comes from the ability of the two parties to put competent, voluntary workers at every polling place in every district in every state.

In areas where one party is weak, adequate watchers are unavailable. Often they are untrained, do not know the laws, are quite useless.

It seems to me that a right and workable answer is staring us in the face:

Why not a political peace corps of volunteer college students? They would gladly give their services in at least one election. They would serve the better functioning of democracy in the U. S. the way the international peace corps is preparing to help build democracy in other countries.

On the basis of conversations with undergraduates on many campuses, I am sure that large numbers of college students would be willing and eager to volunteer if given a significant job to do.

Stinson, Bolinas Vote Tuesday On Proposed School Tax Increase

Bolinas and Stinson Beach residents will go to the polls Tuesday to vote on a proposed $1.20 tax rate for their newly formed Bolinas-Stinson Union School District.

The election is necessary because the district is new, having been voted in overwhelmingly Dec. 13, 1960, to combine Bolinas and Stinson Beach school districts and go into actual operation July 1.

It is also necessary because, if the tax rate is not changed, the rate reverts by law to 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The increase is not an increase over the present separate district maximums voted by residents which are $1.40 for Stinson Beach and $1.10 for Bolinas. The $1.20 is proposed as a maximum for the combined district, according to Arthur L. Carpenter clerk of the interim board. "In proposing this, we will have brought the rate down 20 cents at Stinson Beach and raised it 10 cents at Bolinas," said Carpenter.

Bolinas school district has now a $1.01 basic tax rate with eight cents override to total $1.09.

Stinson Beach has a $1.19 basic with six cents override to total $1.25.

"Essentially the purpose of the tax rate is to keep the school plants in repair," Carpenter said, "and to pay our personnel reasonable salaries."

He added that "the proposed tax rate does not increase the income of the district but rather, keeps it where it was. Neither district has been able to operate on 80 cents for many years, and to do so now would cut about $13,000 off our income with no place to take it out of the expenses."

Carpenter said that a $1.16 tax rate has been set by the interim school board with an extra four cents included so that if additional expenses should arise, it would not be necessary to hold another tax election in the near future.

Bolinas has a lower tax maximum at the moment than Stinson Beach, the clerk said, because the radio corporation of American Communications, Inc. transmitting station is located at Bolinas.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, April 14, the 104th day of the year with 261 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the first abolition society was organized in Philadelphia with Benjamin Franklin as president.

In 1828, the first edition of Noah Webster's dictionary was published.

In 1890, delegates of 18 republics of North, Central and South America met in Washington to adopt a resolution creating the first International Bureau of American States, which came to be the Pan American Union.

A thought for today: Benjamin Franklin said: "Remember that time is money."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Critics Find Faults Galore With Today's Parents, But Don't Worry

We're bad parents. Did you know that?

I've been reading what our critics are saying. Never have so many people been so busy telling us parents what not to do.

They say we're bad because we love our children. We are guilty of "momism," and "popism," whatever they mean. But we're bad also because we don't show our children enough love. Our kids grow up insecure and lonely, starved for affection. Confusing, isn't it?

We're terrible because we spank, raise our voices, and yell. At the same time we're failures because we are too easy. We don't lay down the law and aren't strict enough.

It's our fault if our kids get poor grades. We haven't helped them. We didn't provide a proper place for them to study. But also we should be ashamed if they get straight "A" grades. The high grades prove we've pushed them too hard!

We are to blame when they catch cold. But if we keep them indoors, we're making softies out of them. We can't win, can we? We can't win if we take the critics seriously.

Who are the critics? A surprising number of them are childless. They've no real understanding of parenthood.

Many of the others are oldtimers. They think in terms of grandchildren, or great-grandchildren rather than in terms of real live kids of their own.

The critics have to be spectacular. They can't sell their articles if they don't dig up some horrendous new complaints about us.

So? So don't worry. Keep on loving your children. Rely on your own good judgment. Give them the wisest mixture of affection and guidance, freedom and discipline you can arrange. They'll get along.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Should an 8-year-old have an allowance? If so, how much?" L.S.

(A) Yes, an 8-year-old should have an allowance. It is best to give children about the same allowances their friends receive. Not much more, and not much less.

Sausalito Youth Given Fellowship

John Wilkinson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson of 93 Cazneau Avenue, Sausalito, has just won a three-year fellowship under the National Defense Education Act to continue studies at California Institute of Technology.

Young Williamson will graduate this June with a mathematics major. A 1956 graduate of Tamalpais High School, he won a merit scholarship to Cal Tech that year. The new fellowship means he gets about $6,600 plus tuition during the next three years.

CINDERELLA AND CAT RETURN TO STAGE

Marin Teacher Named Winner For TV Use

A Novato school teacher has been named by the National Education Assn. as the winner of a travel award for imaginative use of television as a teaching aid.

Howard O. Doughty, a Santa Rosa resident who teaches a sixth grade class at Novato's Olive School, has chosen a two-week tour of the Rocky Mountain area with a $100 expense grant over a two-week trip through historic New England.

Doughty was one of but two Bay Area winners in the nationwide competition. Mrs. Blanche M. Striker of San Francisco was awarded a special plaque.

Winners were selected from among 1,640 finalists on the basis of their imaginative use of the ABC television public service series, "Expedition," seen in this area on KGO, plus their ability to bring to their students "a better understanding of the world they live in and a belief in the value of educational travel."

Doughty has been at the Olive School for only one year. Prior to that he taught at Greenbrae and in Sonoma County.

He is a graduate of Chico State College and holds a Master's Degree from San Francisco State College. He is married and the father of three children.

Formal announcement of award winners in the competition will be made tomorrow at a luncheon in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C. where Ewald Turner, president-elect of the National Education Assn., will be the keynote speaker.

Ross Valley Teachers Assn. Names Officers

William Hartley, assistant principal of the Adeline E. Kent School, has been named president of the Ross Valley Teachers Assn., it was announced today.

Committee heads and officers also elected are Dave Raffo, Isabel Cook School, professional and public relations; Merle Conant, Manor School, social and welfare; Val Travaglini, Sleepy Hollow School, legislation and finance; Mrs. Joy Cowan, Deer Park School, recording secretary; Enid Schapiro, Adeline E. Kent School, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Corinne Giampaoli, Greenbrae School, treasurer.

The association is made up of teachers in the Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax school districts.

Protest Meeting On Gate Plan Set

A public meeting, protesting the creation of a proposed Golden Gate Transportation Commission, will be held at the San Rafael High School auditorium Friday at 8 p.m.

Sponsor of the session will be the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

"The Golden Gate Bridge has not cost the taxpayers of the district one cent since the day it was opened for business," Philip J. Rowland, president of the taxpayers group, said. "This proposed Commission would take the profits, retain the power to tax—all without a vote of the people."

On the median line of Pacific Coast population, industry and finance, the San Francisco Bay Region is the hub of the Western market.

Kiwanis Club Rodeo Queen To Be Chosen

A queen for the fourth annual rodeo of the San Rafael Kiwanis Club, set for June 4, will be chosen April 30 in a contest to be held at the Smith Brothers' Circle V Ranch at Fairfax.

Competitors must be girls aged 12 through 18, Marin County residents and able to ride a horse. They will be judged on riding ability, western attire and care of their mounts.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used in the club's work for children in Marin County. N. A. Ballantine is chairman of the rodeo and Dr. Virgil Hollis is chairman of the queen committee.

The rodeo will be held at the Circle V Ranch.

FADED... WEAK... "SNOWY" TV Pictures usually mean
YOU NEED A NEW ANTENNA
DON'T BLAME YOUR TV SET for poor reception... have your antenna checked first. After 3 years, your antenna is probably over-aged. You may not see anything wrong, but its original power has been lost due to corrosion and weather damage... resulting in faded, weak, or "snowy" reception.

If you have any of these problems, then it's a good idea to have your antenna replaced. But this time install an antenna that you can rely on to provide more years of peak performance. The antenna we recommend is the famous Channel Master T-W. No other antenna is so ruggedly built to give you extra years of trouble-free viewing pleasure.
For the best reception on any TV set...
CHANNEL MASTER T-W
The world's only "TRAVELING WAVE" antenna

Landmark Unit Seeks Railroading History

Any historical material on railroading hidden away in your attic?

The Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society is looking for such material, including old photos, for exhibit during the weekend of May 6 and 7. Mrs. Robert Bastian of 19 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, is collecting the material.

Scene of the exhibit will be old St. Hilary's Church, built in 1888 when Tiburon was a new railroad town. The church was purchased by the Landmarks Society in 1959 and rededicated last fall as a historical monument.

In connection with the event, the society will sponsor two round trips from Tiburon to San Rafael on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Both trips are scheduled for the afternoon of May 6, with one planned especially for children.

Also on the program will be a color moving picture of a trip by ferry boat and train from San Francisco to Marin, to be shown through courtesy of the Pacific Coast Chapter, Railway and Locomotive Historical Society.

All events will be open to the public. The exhibit also will be open by appointment for classes of school children during the week of May 8.

George Morrison, vice president and general manager of Northwestern Pacific, also is cooperating with the society in collecting material for the exhibit, Mrs. Bastian said.

Included will be a memorial exhibit of the photo collection of Walter Howe, retired railroader who died in January. It is said by railway hobbyists to be one of the best in existence of old locomotives. Other collections to be seen include that of P. H. Kane of Mill Valley.

Members of the Railway and Locomotive Historical Society helping with plans for the event include Roy D. Graves, curator of the Marin County Historical Society in San Rafael; Willis Silverthorn, Sausalito; Don Howe, San Rafael. Louis L. Stein Jr., Berkeley; Fred A. Stindt, Redwood City, and Frank Rigney, Oakland, society chairman for the Tiburon exhibit.

Reserved seat tickets for "Sinbad the Sailor" are available at the Sherman Clay box office in San Francisco, or can be obtained by writing the San Francisco Children's Opera Assn., 245 Tenth Avenue, San Francisco.

Moscow's Millions Give Space Hero Roaring Welcome

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nikita Khrushchev, weeping with emotion, brought spaceman Yuri Gagarin home to Moscow today and the city's millions hailed him as the space age Columbus in a roaring welcome no Stalin or czar ever received.

A near mob scene developed in Red Square and women fainted in the crush as the crowd tried to press toward the marble Lenin-Stalin mausoleum on which Gagarin and Khrushchev stood with other dignitaries.

Gagarin drew roars when he said he and his fellow cosmonauts are "ready at any time" for more space flights. And Khrushchev said the Soviets would send more "space swallows" out and "leave other states behind." He left no doubt he was referring to the United States.

Eyes downcast and modest throughout the tumult, the 27-year-old carpenter's son lost his reserve only when he greeted his wife and clasped her for 30 seconds in a hug and kiss while tens of thousands of Russians cheered.

The Soviet premier jumped up and down excitedly as he greeted Gagarin. He kissed and bearhugged the flier, who was dressed in the uniform of a Soviet air force major. In his speech to a vast crowd in Red Square, Khrushchev compared Gagarin to Christopher Columbus.

"His name will live forever in the history of mankind," the premier said.

After the ceremonies at the airport and a triumphal ride past two million singing, flower-throwing Muscovites to Red Square, Gagarin was guest of honor at a reception in St. George's Hall of the Kremlin.

Foreign observers agreed that never in the 805-year-old tumultuous history of Moscow has there been such an outpouring of public affection. The city belonged to the man who was orbited in space Wednesday for 108 minutes and returned safe and sound.

He arrived at Vnukovo airport a few minutes before the Ilyushin airliner bringing in Gagarin from an undisclosed space center in the interior. Alighting from the plane, Gagarin saluted Khrushchev and reported that he "successfully accomplished my assignment for the Communist Party and government."

Khrushchev kissed him, pounded him on the back and hugged him for 25 seconds while the crowd roared.

Then, with tears streaming down his cheeks, Khrushchev led Gagarin to his waiting wife, Valentina, 26, and his father and mother.

The family burst into tears. Valentina fell into the arms of her husband.

Mrs. Khrushchev came up and she, too, embraced the man hailed as the first space age hero.

Gagarin stood up, looking modest, to receive the accolade.

OIL TRUCK CRASH SOAKS THE MAIL

Twelve hundred gallons of oil poured down the drainage ditch on a steep section of Molino Avenue in Mill Valley at 10:50 a.m. today after truck in background, driven by Ronald Wallis Anderson of 2895 Arundel Way, Mill Valley, went out of control when gears "popped out." Anderson climbed out of the wreck but was taken to Marin General Hospital for treatment of cuts on right knee and leg. The oil soaked mail in mailbox of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Good of 473 Molino Avenue, seen examining the result. Bryan Fabian of Richmond, the truck owner, said the oil was used crankcase oil from a farm farther up the hill, being taken for sale for re-processing. (Independent-Journal photo)

Brown Declares School System Needs Overhaul

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today called for an overhaul of the top level of California's public school system aimed at increasing efficiency.

In a wide-ranging news conference in which he touched on most aspects of public education, the governor recommended:

1. Appointment of the state superintendent of public instruction by the State Board of Education, instead of election by the people.

2. A business manager in the Education Department to supervise purchasing of textbooks and other supplies.

3. A study of a proposal that University of California professors write textbooks for publication by the state rather than private publishing firms.

4. Legislative approval of a bill to increase teachers' training standards to emphasize subject matter instead of techniques.

Brown opposed a legislative proposal for a statewide property tax to increase support of the junior colleges "except as a last resort." Only local governments now levy such taxes.

But he noted that the state's master plan for higher education will shift thousands of new students to the colleges and said new sources of money will have to be found.

Turning to his proposals for

Bridge Board Votes To Cut Toll On Trucks

Operators of two-axle trucks will get a 50 per cent toll reduction on the Golden Gate Bridge on May 1.

Reduction in all other tolls will be up for consideration at the next meeting of the bridge board two weeks from today.

That was the decision of the bridge board this morning.

Two-axle trucks will in the future pay 25 cents instead of 50 cents, providing they do not have dual wheels, the directors decided. There will be no immediate change in rates for other trucks.

Directors voted 9 to 2 for the truck reduction, over the opposition of Marin Director Leland S. Murphy and San Francisco Director Phillips Davies. Davies had blocked passage of the reduction last meeting by notifying of his intention to ask reconsideration today.

He said no reduction should be given to one special group, without consideration of all bridge users.

Murphy agreed, saying the bridge's finance committee had had ample time since last meeting to come up with reductions for commuters and cash toll-payers as well. "I feel at this time that the toll reduction should be in a nutshell," he said, "Let's show people we mean what we say when we declare the bridge belongs to the people of the district."

He said the action of reducing only truck tolls would harm the bridge's opposition to the proposed Golden Gate Transportation Commission.

Petitions To Seek Incorporation Vote

The proposal to incorporate the entire Tiburon Peninsula moved ahead on several fronts today.

The Marin County Boundary Commission received a notice from the Tiburon Coordinating Council that it intends to circulate petitions for an incorporation election. The council also submitted a map outlining the proposed boundaries of the area to be included.

The area runs in general from Corte Madera to Strawberry Point, but does not include Belvedere, which is already incorporated. Several public meetings to discuss the pros and cons of incorporation have been set up. One is set for tonight at 8 o'clock in the Reed School auditorium, with the Tiburon Coordinating Council as sponsor. At it, both the incorporation proposal and the counter-proposal for annexing part of Tiburon to Belvedere will be discussed.

The group decided to urge all property owners to attend an open meeting next Friday at 8 p.m. in the Bel Aire School multi-purpose room. Members of the Strawberry and Reedlands property owners groups also will attend to hear a report on the recent study of Tiburon incorporation problems.

MARIN ENJOYS BIG RETAIL SALES VOLUME

The greatest volume of Marin County sales in history was chalked up during the final quarter of 1960, according to a report today from the California State Board of Equalization.

The board reported taxable retail sales for last year's final quarter in Marin totaled $43,587,000. Carroll Snyker, executive vice president of the Marin Industrial Development Foundation, said this was the highest total ever reached in the county.

The record fourth quarter was recorded in Marin despite a statewide dip of seven-tenths of 1 per cent below the final quarter of 1959. The year's taxable sales statewide were up 2½ per cent over the previous year.

Jury Refuses To Study 2 County Issues

It is not the job of the grand jury to investigate such matters as staffing needs at juvenile hall or space allocation at the civic center; these matters should be handled by the supervisors.

That, in effect, was the terse reply that the Marin County Grand Jury decided to draft last night in a letter to the supervisors.

On April 4, just after the grand jurors had scolded the supervisors for last January's stop-work at the civic center, Supervisor Chairman William D. Fusselman suggested that the grand jury be given other matters to investigate, to wit; staffing needs at juvenile hall, and what space to allocate to various departments at the new civic center building near Santa Venetia.

Last night, the grand jurors tossed the ball right back at the supervisors.

"We decided that those matters are not within our province," said Jury Foreman William L. Hughes. "They should handle it themselves."

A letter to that effect, drafted by secretary Harry Heifetz, says the jury took up the supervisors' request to investigate the two matters.

"The answer orn both requests is a very definite 'No,'" wrote Heifetz. "The jury feels that these matters are not

Blaze Guts Black Point House; Fireman Injured

Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero said the blaze which tore through the four-room home at 64 Hillside Terrace was possibly started by a cigarette in the couch in the front room. He estimated damage to the house at $3,500. He made no estimate of damage to the contents.

A/2c Boyce N. O'Coy, stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, was asleep in the bedroom when the fire started.

Ernest Schallinger, sales manager for Western Builders-Empire Glass Co. of San Francisco, who lives at 31 Hillside Terrace, across the street from the burned home, called Novato firemen at 10:12 p.m.

Schallinger said he was in his kitchen reading when he heard a crackling sound. He opened a side door and saw the top of the house across the street "all in flames."

He ran out to the street and was met by O'Coy, who was running towards Schallinger's house. O'Coy shouted: "Can you call the fire department, quick?"

O'Coy and John Carney, also stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, rent the house from Mrs. Della Redding of 47 Lauren Avenue, Novato. O'Coy told firemen Carney was in Calistoga at the time of the fire.

Industry Output Decline Halted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial production held even in March while some other key economic indicators rose, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

After declining for seven consecutive months, the output of mines, mills and utilities in both February and March remained steady at January's level of 102 per cent of the 1957 average, the board announced.

ARSONISTS

Fire Linked To 'Molotov Cocktails'

Arsonists, using "Molotov cocktails," tried to burn down a Sausalito home yesterday, sheriff's deputies reported.

Firemen said that a few minutes delay might have caused the bottle to exploded and burn down the wood frame home. The rear wall of the home was scorched. Damage was estimated at $200 to $300.

Mrs. Dorothy Fritter of 45 Coloma Street said she saw two youths prowling near the house about 10 a.m. yesterday.

A fire started shortly after that. Deputy William N. McKillop found that two mops had been ignited, placed inside a wooden trash box next to the home, and the bottles placed on top of the fire.

Brown Won't Save Life Of Young Cop-Killer

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov Edmund G. Brown announced today that he will not intervene to save Alexander Robillard, Burlingame killer scheduled to be executed at San Quentin Prison April 26.

Robillard, 20, was convicted by a San Mateo County jury for the murder of Eugene Doran, a Hillsborough police officer, Aug. 5, 1959. His conviction was upheld unanimously by the State Supreme Court.

San Quentin authorities said Robillard was notified of Brown's decision but showed "no reaction" whatever. He merely said, "Thank you," and turned away, they reported.

Brown announced his decision less than 24 hours after conducting a clemency hearing for Robillard in Sacramento.

Late yesterday, during the hearing, Brown indicated that Robillard's "extreme youth" bothered him. He said that if Robillard were "over 21, there wouldn't be any question" about letting him be executed.

At his news conference later, Brown declined to comment on his reasons for refusing to intervene in the case.

New NATO Force May Include Some Nuclear Weapons

Kennedy-Adenauer Statement Calls For 'Military Means'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have agreed that the North Atlantic alliance must be prepared to defend itself with all military means.

This agreement was set forth in a joint communique issued yesterday by the two Western leaders on the conclusion of their third meeting.

The formal statement did not spell out what "military means" Kennedy and Adenauer had in mind. But, U. S. officials said nuclear as well as conventional weapons are included.

Kennedy and Adenauer had discussed proposals for giving the North Atlantic Treaty Organization a nuclear striking force under its own command. The United States and Britain would furnish the weapons.

This project is still under review in the Kennedy administration. He and Adenauer were reported to have reached no final conclusion, although Adenauer was understood to have expressed support for such an undertaking.

In the communique Kennedy and Adenauer reaffirmed their support of NATO as the keystone of the common defense of the North Atlantic area.

This was their reference to NATO weapons: "They underlined the conviction of their governments as to the necessity for the alliance to maintain and develop further all military means required to enable them to deter effectively a potential aggressor from threatening the territorial integrity or independence of any ally."

At the same time, the leaders of the two other NATO members challenged the Soviet Union to join in disarmament and other negotiations to lessen the danger of war and work toward a general and total peace.

And, Kennedy and Adenauer "renewed their pledge to preserve the freedom of the people of West Berlin pending the reunification of Germany in peace and freedom and the restoration of Berlin as the capital of a reunified country."

Agreement was expressed, also, on these points:

The North Atlantic alliance should coordinate the aid policies of Western nations while aid itself should be administered by the prospective Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development and by the Development Assistance Group.

They would welcome Britain's joining the six-nation European Economic Community provided such a step would not interfere with the community's ultimate goal—Europe's political integration.

"Continuing attention" will be paid to the problem of the balance of payments. In recent years the United States has been spending more abroad than it has been taking in.

The two leaders also were reported to have agreed that there seems to be no immediate danger that the Soviet Union will renew its 1958 threat on West Berlin and Germany.

The official phase of Adenauer's visit ended yesterday afternoon. He will remain in Washington until Sunday, when he flies to Texas to stay at the ranch of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Goldwater 'Socialism' Hit By Birch Member

Kent Courtney, chairman of the Independent American Forum, pushed aside a suggestion of Goldwater's presidential candidacy for the third party yesterday at the opening of a three-day "convention of conservatives."

Courtney, of New Orleans, has expressed hopes a rally on "new party day" tomorrow will produce the nucleus of a political organization he said would show "conservatives are in a majority in this country."

He said he would be "glad to run" for the presidency "if we can't get anyone better." But he said Goldwater, acknowledged spokesman for the GOP conservative wing, had drifted too far to the left.

Today's sessions on participating groups that Courtney said normally are not classified as "patriotic." They were the national committee for economic freedom, the trades policy committee and the national right-to-work committee.

The convention also heard from University of Wisconsin student Roger W. Claus, listed as a representative of the "young conservatives."

Spain Exchange Student Honored

Fifteen Terra Linda students will attend the international dinner for all exchange students in Marin on April 25 at the San Rafael High cafeteria. The event is sponsored by the Junior Red Cross, American Field Service and Experiment in International Living.

Bonn Observer Hits Threat By Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann's defense attorney said today he would demand that the West German government "protect" the former Gestapo colonel from the judgment of Israel's right to judge Eichmann on charges of having a major part in the mass murder of Jews under Hitler.

Defense counsel Robert Servatius declared: "Eichmann has a claim against the German state to protect him. If the state remains impassive, he can sue the state and he will do that."

WARNS COURT

Servatius warned the special Israeli court trying Eichmann that "intervention is still possible" by West Germany in the case.

The chief defense counsel made the statement as he heatedly contended that Eichmann should be tried by a German court. He asserted that appropriate German courts and laws are available to handle the case and denied that Eichmann came freely to Israel to stand trial.

But immediately after the court session, the West German government's observer at the trial, Dr. Hans Stercken, said West Germany will stick to its refusal to ask for Eichmann's extradition and will fight in the courts any suit in which he claims legal protection from the Bonn government.

FIFTH SESSION

Servatius' announcement came after he and Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner made their concluding arguments on the right of the Israeli court to try Eichmann with the prosecutor refuting the defense challenge.

The fifth session of the trial lasted only an hour and 45 minutes and then recessed over the weekend.

Supreme Justice Moshe Landau, who is presiding over the special court of three Israeli judges, announced that its decision—on whether it is competent to try Eichmann—would be delivered Monday.

Eichmann, wartime chief of the Jewish affairs section of the Nazi Gestapo, is charged with responsibility in the death of six million Jews during World War II and other crimes.

Labor Party Suffers

LONDON (UPI) — The dissension-torn Labor Party suffered serious reverses in the first day of county council elections throughout Britain, unofficial returns showed today.

One of the hardest blows, according to returns compiled by the conservative party's central office in London, was loss of control of the council in the important county of Middlesex, just outside of London.

The conservatives won 15 council seats — 10 more than the net gain they needed to wrest control away from the Laborites.

Voting Rights Suit

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—The Justice Department yesterday charged that Dallas County, Ala., has registered only 156 of the county's estimated 15,115 prospective Negro voters.

The suit, filed in U.S. district court here, was the first voting rights complaint by the Kennedy administration. It was the seventh filed against Alabama counties, however. The previous suits were brought by the Eisenhower administration.

The Justice Department asked a permanent injunction halting the alleged discrimination and demanded that Dallas County registrars surrender voting records for inspection by federal agents.

Tomorrow is Benton's 72nd birthday.

Aid From Bonn

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany has decided tentatively to provide about 2.5 billion marks (625 million dollars) a year in aid to underdeveloped countries, informed sources reported today.

The figure is roughly in line with the U.S. recommendation that the more advanced Western nations devote about 1 per cent of their gross national product annually to development aid.

Storm Dies Down

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather abated in the Northeast today but it was cool and wet across northern sections of the country from the Rockies into New England.

The violent spring snow, rain and wind storm which pounded the Northeast yesterday tapered off to drizzle, light rain, snow flurries and fog.

Tax Spread Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Supporters of a proposal to double the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District tax rate have agreed to spread the increase over two years.

Assemblyman Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) yesterday amended his bill which sought to raise the rate from one cent to two cents per each $100 of assessed valuation. The bill now provides that the rate would be 1.6 cents the first year and 2 cents the second.

Crewmen Rescued

BOSTON (AP) — All 35 crewmen were rescued today, apparently uninjured, from the Liberty ship Marine Merchant, which broke her back in rough seas last night 40 miles southeast of Portland, Maine, lightship.

The Coast Guard said the 8,294-ton vessel, en route from Louisiana to Portland with a cargo of sulphur, split in two after the rescue.

Nazi Meeting Raided

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A group of about 30 Jewish university students last night broke up a meeting of the local chapter of the American Nazi Party, but police insisted the neo-Nazis were within their rights and nobody was arrested.

Some students tried to enter the apartment where the meeting was being held but were forced out at gunpoint.

The students then called the police, blocked the doorway and surrounded the building to prevent the Nazis from escaping.

Anti-Castro Forces Linked To Store Fire

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's biggest department store was a blackened ruin today, destroyed by Fidel Castro's growing opposition in fiery answer ot his pledge to wipe out terrorism.

A blaze of "suspicious origin" also damaged a paper warehouse last night, and at least nine explosions rocked Havana suburbs during and after the two fires.

NO DEATHS

The fires resulted in no deaths, but 27 persons were hurt. Six of them were firemen whose engine overturned as it raced to the warehouse blaze. Three were in critical condition.

Government radio stations said U. S. central intelligence agents were responsible for the lightning-fast blaze that consumed the six-story nationalized El Encanto department store, estimated worth more than seven million dollars.

The night's incidents happened amid an atmosphere of anxiety throughout the island nation, whose leaders have been quietly mobilizing a huge military force against sporadic but growing armed resistance from within and an invasion threat from abroad.

NEW VIOLENCE

The anti-Castro terrorists struck anew less than 24 hours after armed forces minister Raul Castro urged increased vigilance against saboteurs. Prime Minister Fidel Castro, his brother, said a week ago that terrorists would be liquidated.

The flames leveled El Encanto in little more than two hours and firemen spent hours after that keeping the smouldering ruins from touching off nearby buildings.

Just a week ago saboteurs blasted the store's display windows. They were repaired within two days in an obvious effort to shield the explosion's effect from the curious.

French A-Bombs May Have Contributed To Fallout

WASHINGTON (AP)—New research indicates that the French contributed somewhat to world-wide radioactive fallout.

That was reported by a team of Arkansas scientists who said the tests may also have confirmed a tentative theory about atmospheric circulation in the tropics.

Researchers P. K. Kuroda, H. L. Hodges and H. E. Moore of the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, told about it in a report to the technical journal Science.

Hitherto, they said, it has been generally accepted that atom bombs, such as those detonated by France in the Sahara in February and April, 1960, inject their debris solely into the troposphere—with the fallout being largely localized or regionalized. The troposphere is that part of the atmosphere below the stratosphere and extends only about 90 miles above the earth.

But they said studies of radioisotopes collected in rain and snow at Fayetteville indicate that there was a small rise in the stratosphere's content of radioactive strontium after the French tests.

Four years ago, they said, a team of scientists suggested that there is an upward flow of air in the tropical region.

The fallout research, the Arkansas researchers said, would appear to bear out that theory. The evidence suggests that part of the debris from the French tests was carried into the stratosphere by this upward flow of air.

General Denies Feeding Birch Line To Troops

GEN. EDWIN WALKER
Says reports untrue

AUGSBURG, Germany (UPI)—The commanding general of the 24th Infantry Division today denied that his troops are indoctrinated under a program based on the principles of the controversial John Birch Society.

Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker also rejected as "untrue" reports that he had labeled former President Harry S. Truman, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Franklin D. Roosevelt "definitely pink."

AFFIDAVITS

The reports were published by the Overseas Weekly, an American-owned newspaper aimed at U.S. troops in Europe. John Dornberg, the paper's editor, said he had sworn affidavits from witnesses who attended a Jan. 24 Parent-Teacher Assn. meeting in Augsburg at which Walker allegedly made the remarks.

The newspaper said Walker told the meeting that "60 per cent of the American press and radio-TV industry are Communist controlled."

It alleged that the General named as "confirmed Communists" columnist Walter Lippmann, Edward R. Murrow, former Columbia Broadcasting System newsman and now director of the U.S. Information Service, and Columbia Broadcasting System commentator Eric Sevareid.

INDOCTRINATION

The Overseas Weekly, in an article yesterday, also said that Walker's program of indoctrination was based on the "philosophy of the controversial John Birch Society."

Walker, in a written statement today, replied that the allegations against his indoctrination program and about his statements at the P-TA meeting were "untrue."

"The program is not associated or affiliated with any organization or society," the General said. "It is designed to develop the understandings of American military and civil heritage, responsibilities toward that heritage, and the objectives of those enemies who would destroy us."

Bishop's Home Wrecked By Trujillo Mob

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Pro-Trujillo mobs have driven a Roman Catholic bishop to this capital after wrecking his diocesan residence 100 miles west of here. Nuns and priests are also fleeing the district.

Bishop Thomas J. Reilly, 52, in trouble before with Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo, said police and soldiers put him in protective custody for a while Thursday after terrorists ransacked his home.

"I am going to deal with the government over these acts of terrorism," the prelate from New Bedford, Mass., said after arriving in Ciudad Trujillo to take refuge in a Catholic school.

He said he will demand that the government guarantee the safety of priests and nuns in the western part of the country, where his diocese of San Juan de La Manguana is located.

The mobs smashed doors and windows, destroyed furniture and records and battered three automobiles at the bishop's office and residence. Police and soldiers ended the attack.

Arbor Day is American in origin and was first observed in Nebraska in 1872.

Senate Passes Rights Bill For Juveniles

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A "little bill of rights" for California youngsters who get into trouble has reached the halfway mark in the legislature.

The Senate passed the measure yesterday without a word or a vote against it. Widely supported by peace officers and Parent-Teacher Assns., alike, it now goes to the Assembly for expected final passage.

The legislation, sponsored by Gov. Edmund G. Brown and his special commission on juvenile justice, represents the first major overhaul of the juvenile court law in 45 years.

Sen. Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville) who introduced the bill, said it would collect ambiguities and contradictions in the present statute and set up a uniform juvenile court system throughout the state.

More important, he said, it would "restore traditional constitutional rights and guarantees" to all juveniles.

The governor's commission, in a three-year study, found it wasn't uncommon for a minor to be jailed for 30 days pending a hearing.

The bill would require a hearing within 10 days after a youngster is ordered held, within 21 days where he isn't held.

No minor could be taken into custody or detained without reasonable cause for believing he committed a crime, showed delinquent tendencies or was an abandoned or neglected child.

Arrest records could not be furnished federal and state crime agencies unless a petition has been filed and the case disposed of.

The bill further provides that juveniles must be informed of right to counsel and their parents served with notice of any hearing.

The law would apply generally to youngsters under 18, but 16 is established as the minimum age for transferring a minor to criminal court when he's deemed unfit for juvenile court.

Dead Man's Ashes Shown Lawmakers

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A dead man, the late "John Doe" of San Francisco, has made perhaps the strongest argument in the California legislature in favor of a dying man's right to have his remains disposed of as he pleases.

The late "John Doe," dead for nearly two years, was presented to the Senate Public Health Committee in his present form—the ashes of a man cremated at Home of Peace Cemetery, Colma, on Aug. 15, 1959.

He was presented by Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel), author of a bill to permit persons to have their ashes scattered to the winds, over the ocean, in a flower garden or any place else. Present law requires that cremated remains must be kept in a cemetery or taken out of state.

Whether it was legal to bring "John Doe's" ashes to Sacramento and scatter a few of them around the committee room was not discussed.

The committee heard 90 minutes of testimony on the bill, as the ashes of the late "John Doe" laid silently by in a four-by-six-inch box, then decided to vote on the issue next week.

Major opposition to the bill came from Monrovia City Attorney Homer H. Bell. "You're saying here that it's okay to throw bones out of an airplane on somebody's head," he told the committee.

"Do you want a dead body on your lawn?" he asked.

As Farr showed the ashes to the committee members, some of the dust of "John Doe" wafted from the box, hung in the air momentarily then settled on a highly polished committee room table.

No one said anything, or even seemed to notice, the scattering of the dead man.

"When all of the people of the cities become aware that people are going up in airplanes and dropping human remains in their drinking reservoirs, they're not going to like it," Bell said.

Dr. Ellis D. Sox, San Francisco public health director, told the committee that the late "John Doe's" ashes were sterile and in that form he presented "perhaps less of a health hazard than when he was alive."

Farr, who said he knew the name of the dead man, preferred not to identify him.

He said that it is illegal now to scatter ashes in California, but he said many people use the ruse of taking the ashes out of California, then they scatter them according to the request of the deceased person anyway.

Supervisor Redistrict Measure Gains

SACRAMENTO (AP)—County boards of supervisors would be required to reapportion their districts according to population under legislation approved by the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee last night.

Assemblyman Clark Bradley (R—San Jose), the author, said Santa Clara County has not redistricted itself in 75 years and one of Monterey County's five districts has 50 per cent of the population.

To make representation more equal, Bradley's bill would require districts to be nearly equal in population with no one district more than 25 per cent larger than the average in the county.

First reapportionment would be due by mid-January, 1962. Boards which fail to act would be required to set up redistricting commissions to get the job done by March 1.

New reapportionment would be due after each federal census.

Bradley's measure applies only to general law counties. He said he has a proposed constitutional amendment which would require redistricting in chartered counties.

Bill MacDougall, representing the County Supervisors Assn., said his group does not oppose the bill but thought it should be studied until the next regular legislative session.

Bradley said there was nothing to study.

Paint, Rags Fire Put Out In Sausalito

Spontaneous combustion yesterday in a box of paint and rags outside the house of Fred Hoffman of 675 Olima Street, Sausalito, caused $50 damage when fire charred an outside wall of the home.

Senate Group Approves Jail, Fines For Secret Meetings

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Legislation providing fines and jail terms for local government agencies which transact business behind closed doors was approved by the Senate Local Government Committee yesterday.

The approval came after the committee rejected a key provision prohibiting informal discussions by a majority of the government bodies.

The bill is designed to clarify the Brown Act barring secret meetings by specifying that a violation of the law is a misdemeanor and providing for injunctions against such meetings.

It originally would have prohibited informal discussions by a majority of members of government groups, regardless of the time and place, but was amended after strong opposition was expressed by cities and counties.

Honor Dinner Slated

The Grace Lutheran Church of Novato will hold a dinner in honor of new members of the past year, Sunday at 5:30 p.m. at the church. Rubin Kaehler is the chairman of the event and the pastor of the church is Rev. Arthur Koehler.

Form Is Needed For Tax Refund

Refund payments of federal income taxes withheld from wages are paid only upon filing of a proper federal income tax return, announces Joseph M. Cullen, district director of the Internal Revenue Service.

"While everyone whose income was $600 or more during 1960 must file a return, we find frequent cases of people apparently believing that because their tax withheld was greater than their tax owed, they will automatically get a proper refund," he said.

Large groups planning outings in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park are advised to make arrangements with the park office in McLaren Lodge.

Parenthood Group Plans Marriage Education Series

"Education for Marriage" will be offered by the Planned Parenthood Assn. of Marin County and the Marin County Council of Churches at lectures scheduled for May 2 and May 9 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael.

Both lectures will begin at 8 p.m., and will be open to the public.

The first lecture, "Relationships in Marriage," will feature Dr. John R. Bodo, professor of practical theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo. Dr. Bodo, who is widely known as a writer and lecturer in the field of counseling, will speak of the personal adjustments required in the transition to the married state.

Second lecture will be given by Dr. John W. Brinckley, chairman of the medical advisory committee to the local planned parenthood group, and director of the Planned Parenthood Clinic in Marin County. Dr. Brinckley's topic will be "Sexual Harmony in Marriage."

According to Mrs. James McNab, president of the Marin County association, the two lectures will be especially designed for young couples who are planning marriage or in their early years of marriage. "The discussions will be frank and to the point," she said.

Postal Rate Hike Asked Of Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration asked Congress today to increase postal rates, including a one-cent boost in first class regular aind airmail letters and postcards. The move was aimed at trimming the postal deficit of 741 million dollars.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day submitted a program which follows very closely the recommendations of the Eisenhower administration. President John F. Kennedy announced in his State of Union Message he would seek the increase.

If approved by Congress, first class letters would go from four to five cents an ounce; airmail letters would be increased from seven to eight cents an ounce; postcards would go up from three cents to four, and airmail postcards would be hiked from five to six cents each.

Day took action under his administration power yesterday to increase rates on mail sent abroad after July 1. These increases are expected to bring in an additional 15 million dollars annually.

SALOONS, SLOT MACHINES

Early Larkspur Days Recalled At Meeting

The days when slot machines were licensed in Larkspur and saloons did the biggest business in town were recalled at last night's meeting of Marin County Historical Society at E Street School in San Rafael.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Richard Keating and Florence Donnelly was built around the early days of Larkspur and Corte Madera. First speaker, Larkspur City Councilman Dan Allen, reported on the minutes of early council meetings. He said the policy then was to make taxes on improvements low and put bigger taxes on land on the theory that this would hasten building. He said the first city meetings were held in Lynch Hall where prize fighters, including Jimmie Britt and Battling Nelson trained.

The social life of the community was outlined by Helen Wilson, Larkspur librarian. She said two saw mills, one owned by the Baltimore Co. and the other by the United States government, operated in Larkspur so the population was predominantly male. At the Fourth of July celebration in 1851 entertainment was provided by bull fights and horse races. For the barbecue, beeves were roasted whole in pits. When Larkspur Woman's Club was founded in 1913, the town had 25 business houses and 11 saloons. The members of the club started to clean up the town, actually and in theory. They cleaned up the streets so the organization was derisively called the Ash Can Society.

The building of the Corte Madera tunnel for the Northwestern Pacific Railroad was the beginning of good transportation for the area, Roy Graves said. The tunnel was built by Chinese labor.

The Fall of the Bastille celebration was always a big event at Escalle's, Graves reported, and he told of the trainloads of celebrants joining Jean Escalle and his countrymen for the celebration.

Mrs. Lulu Horne, whose father was a caretaker on the Pixley Ranch (Owlswood), which was then in Corte Madera, told of a "land grab." She said that over the objections of Mrs. Frank Pixley, widow of the famous attorney-publisher, Larkspur, which had incorporated before Corte Madera, extended its boundaries to include the Pixley property (now Chevy Chase).

The program concluded with a talk by Mrs. Raymond Robson (Catharine Pixley), grandniece of Frank Pixley. Her grandmother was Amelia Van Reynegom, daughter of Captain Van Reynegom, who brought his wife aboard his ship, the Linda, to California. When the crew deserted to go to the gold fields, the Linda was beached at Ring's Point and the captain and his wife built a home in Owlswood. Many of articles in the captain's cabin furnished the home. Frank Pixley published the Argonaut in San Francisco and he and his wife lived on the ranch in Corte Madera.

His nephew, Morrison Pixley, published the Golden Hinde in a little house on the ranch. The Golden Hinde was printed on Chinese lantern paper. The type was hand set and no advertising was printed. The publisher dedicated the magazine to the preservation of Marin's natural beauty.

Falls Off Scaffold

Milton Miles, 49, of 52 Jewell Street, San Rafael, was treated in San Rafael General Hospital yesterday for bruises to his left hip and elbow after he fell six feet from a scaffold while painting a house under construction on Devon Street in Terra Linda. Miles, employed by J. L. Novak, Novato contractor, was released from the hospital after treatment.

County Plan To Survey Hospital Criticized

Sharp admonition for the Marin County Board of Supervisors to get on with the job of providing a new county hospital will be read to the board at Monday's session in a letter from Dr. Bruce R. Merrill of Belvedere, chairman of the hospital committee of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs.

Merrill takes strong exceptions to last Monday's 4-1 decision of the supervisors to conduct another survey of the present hospital. Supervisors Chairman William D. Fusselman stood alone Monday against further surveys.

The letter says the council's board has "unanimously instructed me to convey to you their complete disapproval of your action (in voting another survey) and their serious concern over what might be the results of a needless delay while you further 'study' this problem."

Studies of the hospital problem began in October, 1956, says the letter, and have been made by the state, by two county committees, by the firm of Crawford and Banning, by the council and "by numerous other individuals and agencies"—all these studies being matters of public record and available in public files of the county.

"To have familiarized yourself with these records long before now was your duty as supervisors," Merrill goes on, adding: "We consider your demand for further study a tacit admission that you have not so familiarized yourself.

"All of these reports have been quite specific as to the need for action—prompt action."

Saying that the county has already spent $115,000 for study and plans "for the so-badly-needed new hospital," the letter asks whether further study squares with pledges of "economy." It reinforces Merrill's initial letter of last month which spoke of possible "disaster" by saying:

"While you 'study,' patients' lives are endangered; while you 'study' building costs rise. It was your duty to have 'studied' before now."

Board action in applying for federal housing units which might lighten the hospital burden, a Fusselman idea, is termed "a commendable step, but one which must not obscure the crying need for a new hospital unit and rehabilitation unit . . . We urge you to delay no longer. You were elected to make decisions, not to evade them."

Organized last January in protest against Fusselman-instigated work stoppage at the civic center, the council has swung into being lined up with Fusselman for quick action on a new hospital. Fusselman finds this a logical situation because, he points out, his motive on the work stoppage was if possible to change administration building into hospital.

Supervisor Walter R. Castro protested today that his support of Supervisor J. Walter Blair's proposal for a new survey didn't mean that he felt the board should delay.

"I think the board should consider action for a new hospital," said Castro. "While I don't object to the survey to get us up-to-date, that in no way changes my mind about our need for space and safety. So we ought to make a decision as soon as possible and go ahead."

Supervisor George Ludy said he went along with the Blair motion on the theory that "if a doctor says you have cancer, you're likely to investigate what other doctors may have to say on such a serious matter."

Supervisor William Gnoss was not available as he had meetings in Ukiah both yesterday and today.

Paintings Exhibit To Be Continued

An exhibit of 15 paintings and lithographs by Alton R. Raible of San Anselmo will continue through April 30 at the Hidden Village Art Galleries in Monterey.

Raible, member of the College of Marin art department, is a former student and teacher at the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland. His works have recently been shown at Gump's Department Store in San Francisco and in Houston, Tex.

JOHN A. BUSTERUD

Young GOP Schedules Busterud

John A. Busterud, state Assemblyman from San Francisco, will speak Tuesday night at a meeting of the Young Republicans of Marin at Bermuda Palms Hotel in San Rafael.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. Gordon L. Ness, president of the Young Republicans, said that Busterud will discuss current government activities in Sacramento with emphasis on reapportionment.

Busterud is a San Francisco attorney. He was president of the San Francisco Young Republicans in 1953 and state president of Young Republicans in 1955. He was first elected to the Assembly in 1956. One of his chief interests in the Legislature has been constitutional reform. From 1959 to 1960, he was chairman of the Assembly Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

At the Marin Young Republicans board meeting on April 3, charters were granted to groups at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo and College of Marin.

Ness said all Republicans are welcome to meetings of the Young Republicans.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Tax Increase Vote Slated In Kentfield

Voters in the Kentfield School District will be asked on Tuesday to increase the general tax rate from the present $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation to a ceiling of $2.25.

The new rate, if approved at the polls, would go into effect for an indefinite period, but the board of trustees have pledged not to go beyond $2 for the 1961-62 school year. The present rate was set in May, 1957, but was kept at $1.61 until July, 1959.

Override taxes, set by the state and county for specific purposes, including retirement funds, building loan redemption, social security and bond redemption, will not be determined until July 1. This year the additional tax is 76 cents.

Also on the ballot will be the names of three unopposed trustees: John R. B. Ellis, George E. McKenna and Mary E. Bingham.

Ellis, of 225 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, is a chemical engineer with Standard Oil. He was elected to the board for a three-year term in 1957. A change in the state code, setting trustee elections every other year, extended his term by one year.

Ellis is the father of three children, Marilee, 17, Redwood High School senior; Richard, 14, attending school in Arizona, and Jan, 12, sixth grader at the Adaline E. Kent School. He holds a master's degree in chemical engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a master's degree in business administration from Stanford University, where he also took his undergraduate work.

McKenna is an administrative assistant with the Crown Zellerbach Corp. in San Francisco. He resides at 505 Los Cerros in Greenbrae and has two children attending the Wolfe Grade School: Jim, 11, and Jan, 8. A resident of Marin for the past 15 years, McKenna is also a graduate of Stanford.

Mrs. Bingham, of 29 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, is the mother of two children, Edward Jr., 15, Redwood High School sophomore, and Thomas, 13, Adaline E. Kent School eighth grader. A resident of Marin for 14 years, Mrs. Bingham is a graduate of Mills College.

The five members of the board were unanimous in urging the proposed tax increase.

According to Supt. Harold R. DePue, the operating tax is needed primarily to maintain the district's present educational program. Because deficit spending has been necessary this year, the purchase of instructional materials has been seriously curtailed, he said.

Increasingly large classes, which DePue calls the "bugaboo" of today's schools, is inevitable without operating capital, he said. Present Kentfield district classes go as high as 34 students for a single teacher.

DePue estimates some $101,500 would be raised by the $2 rate. Of this, $43,450 would go directly toward instructional materials and teacher salaries. And $30,000 would be set aside in undistributed reserve funds for the following year.

Of the remainder, $19,500 would go for books "to give us the beginning of the working library that should be the heart of an elementary school," plus a librarian to manage both the Wolfe Grade and Greenbrae libraries, and a clerk.

None of the tax money will go toward construction of the Wolfe Grade library-kindergarten to be built this fall, DePue said. This unit, part of the school's master plan, will be financed out of bonds authorized by the voters in May, 1958. It was for this purpose the trustees voted last February to sell $110,000 in bonds.

Books most needed by the district, DePue said, are nonfiction works to supplement and enrich classroom materials. Authorities place recommended library size at from 8 to 20 volumes per pupil, exclusive of kindergarten, DePue said. Kentfield currently has four and one-half volumes per pupil.

SAN RAFAEL'S NEW PG&E BUILDING

This is a sketch of Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s new office at Third and Brooks Streets, San Rafael, designed for service to the growing number of customers in PG&E's North Bay Division and Marin district. Construction will start this summer. Among design features incorporated by the architects, Gromme and Priestley of San Rafael, are a aluminum sun screen and wide use of glass, porcelain-enameled steel panels and Sonoma fieldstone. PG&E gas holders and the old gas plant on the site are being torn down.

Absentee Ballots Show School Vote Interest

Heavy interest in bond issues before Tamalpais High School and Mill Valley Elementary School District voters in next Tuesday's election is indicated by large numbers of absentee ballots.

No such surge of interest is indicated, however, in Dixie Elementary School District, where a big state loan proposal is on the ballot.

Yesterday was the final day for issuing absentee ballots for the election. Frank A. Cassou, director of business services for Tamalpais High School District, reported "at least 350" absentees had been issued by the district office. He noted that last October, when a similar bond issue failed to muster the necessary two-thirds approval for passage, only 75 absentee ballots were issued.

Tamalpais High School District is asking authorization to bond for three million dollars to build additions to the present three high schools (principally at Redwood) and purchase another school site.

In Mill Valley District, 134 absentee ballots have been issued, reported Supt. G. Robert McConnell. This compares with 38 absentees for the September, 1959, election and 44 for the May, 1959, election, he said. Bond issues failed of the necessary two-thirds "yes" votes in both of these elections.

Mill Valley is asking $550,000 bond issue to add 19 classrooms to various schools.

Dixie District seeks authorization to borrow up to four million dollars from the state to build three new schools and additions to four existing schools. But only four absentee ballots have been issued there, reported Joseph R. Goff, assistant superintendent.

Bay Crossing Study Bill Due Today

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) said he will introduce today a bill setting up a $500,000 appropriation for an engineering study of a second crossing from San Francisco to Marin County. Co-author is Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy.

The bridge is contemplated to stretch from a point between Battery and Stockton Streets in San Francisco to Alcatraz, to Angel Island, thence to Point San Quentin. McAteer said he is seeking a reversal of the federal decision against abandoning the federal prison on Alcatraz.

He said such a bridge would lead to appropriate development of both Alcatraz and Angel Island. Such a bridge, he continued, would be designed specifically for rapid transit and would eliminate the need for a Marina District freeway in San Francisco to connect with the Golden Gate Bridge.

McCarthy has his own bill in the hopper calling for continued studies of a bridge from the Russian Hill area to Marin. McAteer said McCarthy would drop his bill in favor of the new bridge study.

Meat Company Files For Incorporation

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced the Marin Meat Co. has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $50,000 in $100 par shares.

Directors of the company were listed as Robert S. Schenone, 143 Jewel St., John P. Mangini, Rt. 1, Box 724, Bayside Acres, and Willard S. Ward, 20 Warner Court, San Rafael.

PEAS, CARROTS REPLACE BREAD, WATER

Now it's nothing but peas and carrots for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

"They hate it," says State Prison Director H. G. Cochran. "Bread and water was nothing to this."

And the treatment apparently works, he says. In the old bread and water era, the prison usually had 140 to 150 convicts on the restricted diet on any given day.

Now the average is about 75 convicts.

Five Convicts Indicted By Grand Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury last night indicted five San Quentin convicts, three for escape and two for attempted escape.

Two of the escaped convicts are still at large. They are George Allen Brice, a San Diego burglar and rapist, and Frank Lee Jr., a Glenn County forger. Prison officials said the two men were working on the prison ranch outside the walls and vanished last Feb. 5.

The other convict charged with escape is Alex Martinez, a Los Angeles robber, who was found about a mile away from prison last Dec. 6. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, who presented the cases to the grand jury last night, said Martinez apparently climbed over a barbed wire fence while cutting a lawn outside the prison walls.

Two inmates who did not get as far are David H. Robinson and Joseph Arnold Steinaker, both robbers from Los Angeles. Prison officials told the jury they found the two hiding in a sewer hole near the prison laundry room last Dec. 30. They had cigarettes and bread stored in the hole when found.

Temporary City Planned Named

James R. Garrett, assistant to the city manager in San Rafael, this week was named temporary city planner by City Manager Dan E. Andersen.

Baker Claims Lehi Raft Was Burned

HONOLULU (AP)—DeVere Baker complained today that someone had burned his historic raft, Lehi IV, on which he floated from California to Hawaii in 1958.

Baker arrived Wednesday to claim his eight-ton raft for a museum. He said he found only a pile of ashes.

"My wife had sold her home and furniture to build that raft," the Redondo Beach man lamented.

The Lehi IV had been kept in a weedy lot near Honolulu International Airport, surrounded by old cars, buses and rusty machinery.

"It's the only thing in the whole storage yard that has been destroyed," he complained. "But they say they need the yard for other uses. There's nothing I can do. There was no agreement on paper."

He is planning another voyage on Lehi V, a larger raft financed by Redondo Beach. He plans to drift two years through the Indian Ocean, China Sea, Pacific Ocean and, he hopes, to Guatemala, almost 14,000 miles.

He hopes to prove a migratory theory that the Jews could have drifted from ancient Israel to Guatemala.

North Coast Water Plan Is Outlined

I-J Special Report

UKIAH—A massive program of water development in the north coastal counties was outlined here today by William E. Warne, director of the State Department of Water Resources.

Five major projects, involving construction of 15 to 20 dams, are being studied to provide all locally needed water and five million acre feet annually for export to other parts of the state, he said.

Warne gave this preview of a preliminary three-year study not due for completion until 1963, to a meeting of the Eel River Assn. here. The plan envisions adequate local water supplies, he declared, as well as flood control, fish life and recreational enhancement.

The projects, on the Trinity, Eel, Mad, Van Duzen and smaller streams, will become the major source of export water after 1990.

However, Warne went on, the North Bay Aqueduct still is being looked to by the department to provide new water supplies to the Marin-Sonoma-Napa-Solano area "at less cost, we believe, than any other alternative possibility."

The department at present, he went on, has "intensive work in progress now testing the present demand for service in that area."

"Whether we proceed, or continue to hold the project in abeyance, depends on the demand for new water supplies by prospective North Bay water users," he declared.

He said the department also intends to encourage local water districts, public utilities and others to undertake facilities compatible with their needs and the California Water Plan."

Also the department will urge the federal government and its agencies "to continue to expand and develop water projects in their sphere of responsibility."

INCOME TAX FACTS

More Withholding Can Be Arranged

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Do you have a big tax bill to pay this year in addition to what your employer had already withheld from your 1960 paychecks?

Peter J. Wikel

If you do, then consider making a written agreement with your employer to have a greater amount withheld from your 1961 paychecks so that you will not have a big bill to pay in 1962.

Withholding, at the regular rates, only covers the tax on your income from salary or wages and is inadequate if you have a large salary or earnings from sources not subject to withholding.

The law provides that you can agree with your employer to have him take more than the regular rate of withholding out of your paycheck so that you will have your taxes fully paid at the end of the year.

Your employer must be willing and you and your employer must make an agreement, in writing, in such form as your employer may require, to have your employer take a stated extra amount of withholding from your wages.

Your employer handles this just exactly the same way as other withholding and you also handle your reporting of this extra withholding on your tax return the same as any other withholding. This will let you pay your 1961 income tax in 1961, as you receive your income, and not all in a lump sum in 1962.

If this applies to you, then make such an arrangement with your employer now, so that you can spread the payment over as long a period as possible.

County Housing Group Approves Application

The Marin County Housing Authority yesterday unanimously authorized application to the Public Housing Administration for 300 low-rent housing units and for a preliminary loan with preference for the elderly.

"There is a need for low-rent housing for the elderly to meet needs not being adequately met by private enterprise," the resolution said. It also said "it is the intent of the authority to coordinate low-rent housing developed for the elderly with local health, recreational and community facilities essential to the needs of elderly citizens with low income."

The amount of the loan, according to executive director Bert Klahn, has not been established but will be set by the public housing administration. "If granted," he said, "it is direct to the housing authority and becomes no obligation to the county."

Incentive Payments Given 3 Marinites

Three Marinites were among 20 civilian employees of the Presidio of San Francisco who were awarded cash incentive payments by Col. Richard F. Zeoli, post executive officer.

Mrs. Beverley V. Balconis of 615 Locust Road, Sausalito, a clerk for the S-4 (supply) section, was awarded $100; Michael L. Girard of 525 Virginia Drive, Belvedere, electronics equipment inspector for the supply section, was awarded $20; and T. Lee Butler of 19 Monterey Street, San Anselmo, equipment inspector for the supply section, was awarded $10.

Transit Group Rejects Stand On Gate Plan

Director Harry L. Morrison of Contra Costa County brought the matter before the district directors. He suggested the district should take a stand before a State Senate committee hears the transportation commission bill in less than two weeks.

Marin Director M. J. Lamperti, chairman of the district's committee on rules and policies, reported his committee had discussed the matter for three hours and voted 3-to-2 to keep it in committee for further consideration.

The commission legislation "is in too unfinished a form to make a decision on it," insisted district president Adrien Falk. "We don't want anything to interfere with our timing. This could seriously interfere and delay getting our proposal before the supervisors and the voters."

Morrison wanted to know, "What are we trying to gag this for?"

Director Arthur J. Dolan moved that the meeting adjourn, and it did.

The problem facing the district is that it is included by reference in the commission bill. It is also negotiating with the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District for the right to cross the bridge with transit. Bridge directors are fighting the commission.

It was announced yesterday that the transit district's bridge committee would meet jointly with the bridge district's transit committee next Thursday at 10 a.m. in the transit district office to start formal discussions of transit-on-the-bridge feasibility.

The stride of the dinosaur was more than 12 feet, according to tracks discovered in the Navajo Reservation north of Phoenix, Ariz.

Projects On Display At Museum Tonight

Science projects ranging from a seismograph to two study skins of a rat and mouse are among exhibits entered in the Junior Museum's "Project Night," which will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the museum.

"Project Night," although it is aimed primarily at those who have studied at the Junior Museum, is open to all young people, according to Mrs. Diane Williams, acting museum director.

Awards will be given to the best entry from a member and a non-member in the physical science field and in the biological science field.

Judges will take the entrant's age into consideration in making the awards.

Judges for the project are S. Thompson Walker, former director of the museum, and Willis Evans, program chairman of the board of directors for the museum.

Badges will be presented to those who have completed the requirements for the ranks of apprentice, junior assistant and senior assistant.

Telephone Company Chief To Take Duties In City

J. E. Madrigali, Pacific Telephone manager for San Rafael, has been named to a new post in company headquarters at San Francisco.

Madrigali, business office manager for the Northern Marin region encompassing San Rafael, Corte Madera, Ignacio, Nicasio and Point Reyes for the past year, will serve on an accounting department task force team to study automatic equipment needs for certain engineerng and technical aspects of the phone company. He reports to his new assignment today.

He will be succeeded here by J. J. Nichols, currently a business office unit manager in San Francisco.

Madrigali, 31, has been with Pacific Telephone 14 years. He joined the company at the age of 17 in the Plant Department.

Madrigali, his wife, Grace, and sons, Mark, 6, and Jeffrey, 5, will continue to live on Redwood Avenue in Ross.

Nichols has been with Pacific Telephone five years, serving in the Commercial Plant and Traffic Departments.

Air Base To Take Part In Mock War

Hamilton Air Force Base will be part of a mock war this weekend.

A "tactical evaluation" of the 28th Air Division (Sage) with headquarters at the base will be conducted by officers from Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo. The "war" may mean increased jet plane activity around the base.

If you want a tip from me, I'd put my money into a FARDIN REALTY house, 340 Sir Francis Drake Blvd., San Anselmo, GL 3-3360.

Ross Woman Again To Head Marin TB Unit

Mrs. William W. Hoxie of Ross was re-elected president of the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. Wednesday night at the annual meeting held at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

Other officers, all re-elected for second terms, to serve with Mrs. Hoxie, were Richard S. Hahn, M.D., of Belvedere, vice president; John Gaidano of San Anselmo, secretary, and Clifford Bartlett of San Rafael, treasurer.

New members elected to the volunteer board of directors were Mrs. Theo Barron Sr. of Marin City, John C. Bettinger, M.D.; Leroy Rudolph and Rev. Bliss Bellinger, all of San Rafael.

Albert C. Daniels, M.D., of Ross, president of the Tuberculosis and Health Assn. of California, was guest speaker at the dinner meeting. Dr. Daniels' topic was "Tuberculosis 1960-1970."

Another highlight of the evening was the presentation by the winners of the association's high school speech contest. Finalists Lani Moore of San Rafael High and Joel Storss of Marin Catholic High gave their winning speeches for the members and guests. Their chosen topics were on tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Honored for their volunteer work at the association's offices were Mrs. William Phreanor of Corte Madera, Mrs. George Scott of Mill Valley, Mrs. George Gregory and Mrs. Hap Banfield, both of San Anselmo, and Miss Ada Thompson of San Rafael.

New Editor Named

A new editor has been named to succeed Richard L. Harcourt of 33 Redwood Drive, Larkspur, on the Foghorn, student newspaper at the University of San Francisco. Taking over as editor will be Edward Stephan of Paso Robles.

RESEARCH ENGINEER — Herbert Schuyten of 11 Circle Drive, San Rafael, has been appointed senior research engineer at the Richmond Laboratory of California Research Corp. He is engaged in developing the use of highly complex electronic computers.

Terra Linda Medical Unit Half Finished

When completed about June 1, the building will house four doctors and one dentist, Jacobs said. There is room for future expansion of three or four other medical offices, he said.

In addition, there will be off-street parking for 24 cars, Jacobs stated.

The modern functional building was designed by Harold Blewett of 405 Holly Drive and Peter MacGowan of Ranch Road, both Terra Linda, who have offices in San Francisco.

Marinite Helps Design Rubber Heart Valve

A Tiburon research engineer and sculptor has helped design and develop an artificial rubber valve to replace a defective aortic valve in the human heart.

He is David Moore of 1860 Vistazo West, who works for the University of California medical center research and development bureau.

Moore was co-designer and developer of the valve with Dr. Benson B. Roe, the heart surgeon who worked out the technique for implanting the artificial valve in the heart.

Because of their work, a 55-year-old Fresno man, Don R. Butts, is alive and healthy today. About a year ago he had no more than weeks or months to live because of a defective aortic valve.

Dr. Roe operated on Butts, stitched in the rubber replacement for the valve, and it worked.

Moore was assigned to work on the problem of the artificial valve shortly after he came to the research bureau about five years ago. His part was to do research into materials and test them.

He is now working on a replacement for the mitral valve of the heart, which is also subject to disease. The substitutes are being tested on experimental animals.

A native of San Francisco, Moore has lived in Tiburon about eight years. Sculpture is a "side profession" for him. He has exhibited throughout the United States. His wife, Claire, is a painter.

Painter 'Fair'

Owen H. Dittmore, bridge painter who fell from a scaffold on the Golden Gate Bridge, was reported still in "fair condition" at Franklin Hospital, San Francisco, today. His injuries were sustained from a 30-foot fall from the scaffold Monday.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Fleur d'Lys Has Champagne Dinner For Under $5; Other Dinners Less

Are you a $5 dinner patron? Then may we suggest that an excellent choice in this bracket lies in the $4.95 champagne cocktail dinner at Fleur d'Lys, San Anselmo. It's the most favored of all menu divisions with several selections, though there's a very good dinner for $3.75 and numerous a la carte items to choose from. And with spring, Fleur d'Lys is returning to one delectable dish—cold cucumber soup.

Now hosting at the San Anselmo haut dinery is vibrant Cherie Charles; husband Robert is still giving much of his time to the San Francisco house.

But whether you join Fleur d'Lys for an evening of it or just for a late nightcap, perhaps not enough has been said about the cocktail bar and its wide range of after dinner liqueurs, classically served by Aldo Di Pasqua, truly an expert, and who has more fancy glasses within reach to contain them than I've ever seen.

If you were one of those who said Fleur d'Lys won't last in Marin, be reminded that it will celebrate its second anniversary on the hill next month.

WHAT A CHANGE! We looked in on the Embers, Corte Madera spot being redecorated by Yolanda Apostoli for a possible opening in another 10 days or so, and found it vastly different from before.

This location was previously operated as Joe's Village Patio and later as the Captain's Room, but beyond a geographical identity there is a diminishing resemblance daily.

Walls and ceiling have been redone, floors are carpeted and the bar background is undergoing a clever metamorphosis with Sonoma flagstones and a live waterfall setting.

When ready, food will be in the line of good prime rib, steaks and chops. Yolanda says she has a chef coming from a well known San Francisco spot to take over the cuisine.

MARIN ARTIST Alfred Owles of Santa Venetia is currently displaying some of his paintings in the restaurant at the Napa Airport if you get up that way. Among them are many scenes from around Marin County.

Airplanes are among his favorite subjects. He probably has one of the most impressive collections of such paintings in the country — clear back to World War I.

IF YOU REMEBER Dorothy Dillinger, the Irish girl with the Spanish routine who appeared last year at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon, you can catch her singing act Friday and Saturday nights at Horton's in Palo Alto—a little restaurant with Mexican and Aztec atmosphere. She's teamed with the Gil Barnes Duo, guitar and marimba artists.

Dorothy still lives in Marin —works daytime at the Fairchild Ssemiconductor Corp.

NEW SUNDAY HOURS for Bellucci's Spaghetti House, Ignacio are from noon until 9 p.m. Closed Mondays.

WE NOTICE that a San Francisco paper recently extolled the virtues of a "millionaire's salad" which contains as its basic ingredient imported hearts of palm, and claimed it as a new discovery.

Maybe it is for the city, but Rancho Nicasio has been serving it for more than two years and we believe it's now on the menu of some other Marin County restaurants.

REOPENING of the Ranch House, San Anselmo is now set for Monday, April 24.

Bill Duthie, former owner of the Coffee Office in San Anselmo is slated to take over the dining room where, he says, the fare will be strictly American — fried chicken, steaks, prime rib and the like. Prices will be moderate—a complete chicken dinner will be featured at $1.95.

Since last November when Bill gave up the Coffee Office he's been managing the Senator Club in Carson City. He's had 10 years with Grisson's in San Francisco to his experience credits.

SOON to be on the menu at Ramona's, San Rafael is a small dessert tamale filled with pineapple, or lemon or strawberries. A few served at random have been enthusiastically received and are now being requested by regular customers. They'll be prepared to take out, too.

AND WHILE this is last on this week's report it is by no means the least in importance, for I have just come from an evening at the Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club honoring its new manager Fenwick (Bud) Witt who brings with him 14 years experience at the St. Francis Yacht Club in San Francisco and two years with the Green Hills Country Club in Millbrae—as manager at both places.

Best testimony on Bud's capabilities comes from chef Jean Joaquin who worked with him nine years and rates him high in qualities which should help to make the Marin Bay development a wide attraction.

From an outsider's viewpoint with a glimpse of the inside workings I should add that nowhere have I seen such enthusiastic teamwork in an organization bent on making it a success, stemming from James Lee representing the Latipac Corp. Terry Van Gorder who has carried the management on his shoulders these last several months, through Jean Joaquin, golf pro Harry Lawrence down to every waitress and other employee.

If you have not already included this place on your dining or luncheon schedule, be sure to do so. Dinners Saturdays and Sundays, lunches daily—closed Mondays.

FILM FARE

Pat Boone Heads Cast In Musical

By LES DARD

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Singer Pat Boone and comedian Buddy Hackett head the cast of "All Hands on Deck" (CinemaScope, DeLuxe Color), a new service farce with music which comes to the Hub screen Sunday.

Boone portrays a Navy lieutenant whose ship is captained by Dennis O'Keefe, with attendant problems. And True Love is represented by the very pretty Barbara Eden. Hackett is cast as an oil-rich Indian, a sailor at that, and provides this film with its best moments.

In the manner of all such films, there are plenty of songs, some of them pretty fair, and one semi-production number.

RAFAEL T HEATER

Oakland's Steve Reeves, wearing more clothing than usual, is the star of "White Warrior," a blood and thunder tale about an uprising of Caucasian villagers against Russia's czar (around 1850). It opens Sunday.

The former Mr. Universe portrays Hadji Murad, who escapes the Czar's troops, conquers opposition among his own people and leads them against the foe.

Reeves is absolutely heroic in this tale. He's stabbed in the back with bayonets, but is up and at 'em the next day. He also survives torture with hot irons and whippings.

In his struggles, Reeves is helped by two leading ladies. One, Scilla Gabel, is the wife of Prince Sergei, an evil, effeminate man. The other is Georgia Moll, as a tribeswoman who, like most of the other woman in the cast, wear pantaloons, very sheer.

NOVATO AND SEQUOIA THEATERS

Once upon a time there was a rich witch who hungered for a coat made of Dalmatian pelts. Her name: Cruella de Vil.

And there were two purebred Dalmatians, Pongo and Perdita, who produced a litter of 15 beautiful pups. Cruella sends a pair of dognapers after the 15, and they join 84 other puppies in captivity.

The dog world rallies to rescue the 99 innocents.

This, basically, is the story of "101 Dalmatians," which opens Sunday on the Novato and Mill Valley screens.

LARK THEATER

"Never On Sunday" has been held over on the Larkspur screen.

A roaring comedy in its best moments, it is also a philosophical fable about an American do-gooder (Jules Dassin) who tries to reform a virtuous prostitute (Meline Mercourt). He considers her the symbol of Greek decline and reasons that if he can save her, he can save the world.

Homer, our hero, initiates his reforms. But the final disenchantment is his, for he learns there is more satisfaction in the simple job of living than in search for absolute truth.

Note: An "Oscar" nominee. For adults.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Facts of Life" is a better than average comedy which pokes fun at middle age and country club life.

Bob Hope and Lucille Ball star as a pair wed to Ruth Hussey and Don DeFore, respectively. The couples are suburban neighbors who decide to vacation together in Mexico.

Hope and Ball tumble for each other and, once back home, try to continue the flirtation on a more serious level. Trouble is, they're rank amateurs, incapable of deceit.

The idea isn't new, but what is important is the way it's presented. Miss Ball is a delight from start to finist, Hope expert.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Esther and the King" (color, CinemaScope) stars Richard Egan and Joan Collins in a retelling of the biblical story. It is showing this weekend in San Rafael.

Miss Collins portrays Esther, the woman who wed the Persian King Ahaseurus to save her kinsmen. Egan plays the monarch who rescues Esther's Uncle Mordecai (Dennis O'Dea) while his own evil henchman Haman (Sergio Fantoni) is properly dispatched.

This Old Testament story was filmed in Italy by Hollywood veteran Raoul Walsh, who also had a hand in the sex-and-sand script.

Estimate: Plenty of spectacle.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"Suddenly Last Summer," starring Elizabeth Taylor, Katherine Hepburn and Montgomery Clift, is a strange brand of mystery and horror.

Among the questions it raises:

What was it that drove Miss Taylor insane, suddenly, last summer?

What is the terrible secret Miss Hepburn wants cut from the girl's mind by surgery?

What was the real character of Sebastian, the young man with whom this story deals?

This adult film is now showing.

MASCOT—The turkey is a mascot in "All Hands On Deck," with Barbara Eden and Pat Boone in the film that opens Sunday at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo.

Rhubarbians In Tam Valley Are Great

By BRUCE COLEMAN

The thing about the Rhubarbians is that they are all people—people you would like to get up on the stage and join.

But, according to a new law in Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club hall if you don't live there you must sit in the audience, eat your popcorn at the long tables and laugh in your beer.

Rhubarb Revue of 1961, showing tonight and tomorrow and next weekend, is a take-off on the 1930s, with Guy Lombardo and his orchestra, gangsters, the Andrew Sisters, Major Bowes, NRA and Little Orphan Annie.

Bernie Healey directs the revue and also wrote a lot of the laughs for it. His take-offs on Jeanette MacDonald (Cathy Radke) and Nelson Eddy (Joe Allen) singing "Sweethearts"; Karl Zipf as Shirley Temple; Lois Snow as Ma Barker, and Nick Monteleone as Trigger Noonan are excellent and have more than a touch of satire. The players are great.

The Rhubarb folk, as always, give you some red hot numbers with professional material such as Shirley Taldo. She is an excellent mime in "School Days" and, likewise, as Charlie Chaplin.

Our finds also include Kim Badger and Art Crebassa, comic dancers; hilarious Glad Baker presenting a liquid cooking school on the air; Bob Glessner as Ted Lewis; Morrie Batz as the mad medic; Leo Jones as the homey philosopher, and Karl Zipf in "One for the Road." And to all the others, God bless you.

The unusual is represented by the movie "Love Is A Simple Thing." Very special, it is professionally done by Milt Kerr.

Spade Cooley Found Responsible In Death

BAKERSFIELD (AP)—"You're going to watch me kill her, Melody. If you don't I'll kill all of us."

Spade Cooley's daughter, Melody, 14, on the verge of tears, so testified at an inquest yesterday in the slaying of her mother, Ella Mae Cooley.

Cooley, 50, onetime Western bandleader star of television, is held on suspicion of murder. A coroner's jury of nine men took only 11 miutes to find Cooley responsible for the April 3 slaying.

Cooley, sitting in a wheelchair, bowed his head and shuddered as his daughter told how she saw her father pull the nude body of her mother from a shower at the Cooley ranch home.

Melody said she watched in terror as her father pounded her mother's head against the floor, stomped on her stomach and put out a burning cigarette on her mother's flesh, saying: "We'll just see if you're dead."

Melody said she ran from the house after her father made improper advances to her.

Cooley has been held in the prison ward hospital for a heart condition. After the brief hearing, his attorney, Morris B. Chain, said: "He was definitely insane at the time of the crime."

Kennedy Less Red Captive Than Ike, Says Welch

"Kennedy has done many things considered soft on communism in a political way, such as his speech as a U.S. senator in support of the Communist-controlled Algerian rebels. I was sorry to see anyone in our government take such a stand," Welch said.

Welch appeared on a local TV panel show to end his Southern California stay. He refused permission to have the taped program shown on networks. He said the society would have no control over fragments taken out of context.

There are 17 scientific and educational departments in the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park.

MOCK ATTACK ON U.S. SET FOR APRIL 28

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will undergo a simulated attack at 1 p.m. Pacific Standard Time April 28.

At that hour, a Conelrad radio alert drill will silence all normal television and radio broadcasting for 30 minutes. Sirens will be sounded in many areas, traffic will be halted and take-cover exercises will be carried out in some states.

This will be part of the Civil Defense annual training exercise, Operation Alert 1961, defense mobilizer Frank B. Ellis announced Thursday.

Laos Army Pulls Paratroops Back

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The royal Laotian army has evacuated some 500 paratroopers it dropped northwest of Muong Kassy April 5.

Moscow Radio had reported the paratroopers were encircled a few days ago and it was believed they found their position untenable.

Spitework Seen In Cuban Kidnap Plot

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. E. Baughman, chief of the Secret Service, says four Cubans who were questioned about the reported kidnap plot against Caroline Kennedy may have been victims of spitework.

Baughman said it appeared that the four suspects, one reportedly a woman, were telling the truth when they denied hatching any plot against Caroline. Baughman said the four were questioned "somewhere near Miami" about a week ago and denied everything.

Baughman said the four were kept under close surveillance by the Secret Service.

A reported remark of a Cuban employee in a Miami garment plant touched off the alarm while the Kennedy family was in Palm Beach, Fla.

U.S. security officials were told the worker had said: "We ought to abduct Caroline Kennedy to force the United States to stop interfering with Cuba's government."

Disability Retirement Payments Questioned

San Francisco's City Retirement System has received reports that some former policemen and firemen are receiving disability pensions they are no longer entitled to, Daniel Mattroce, secretary of the system, said yesterday.

One of the disability-retired is Frank VanDervort, former police inspector who is now city sales manager for the Regal Pale Brewing Co. He lives at 12 San Gabriel Court, Fairfax.

He left the police department two years ago because of a bad back, and reportedly receives a city pension of $442.25 a month. This amount is three quarters of the pay he would have had if he had remained on duty.

Under the city charter a disability-retired employee may not receive jointly from his pension and private employment more than the pay he had been getting while a city employee.

VanDervort said he didn't think his income was the city's business. His salary is put into a corporation, he said, and almost all of it is paid out in dividends to his wife.

He was in the police department 13 years, had four meritorious citations, 21 captain's commendations, and was in four shootings, VanDervort said.

BROWN

a shakeup of education's high command, Brown said he was opposed to legislation to give the governor power to appoint the school chief.

"I believe public education should be completely out of politics," he said.

Brown said the proposed business manager in the Department of Education should be a "top-flight purchasing agent."

Brown said he has asked President Clark Kerr of the University of California to study a proposal that U.C. faculty members write elementary textbooks for publication by the state.

He said the authors still would get royalties, but big royalty payments to publishing houses would end.

Asked if this would strike at private enterprise, Brown said:

He said he has no intention of seeing the state printing plant closed down. Until last year, the plant had printed all the state's texts from plates leased from publishers.

The governor reiterated his opposition to provide for multiple adoption of state textbooks in which districts are given a choice of several books approved by the state.

But he declined again to say whether he would veto the proposal if it reaches his desk.

He said that when he blasted off, he thought of the Communist Party, "about our Socialist mother country, love for the glorious party, for our heroic toiling people."

He thanked Khrushchev, dedicated his flight to the forthcoming 22nd party congress and ended with "glory to the Soviet Communist Party and to its Leninist Central Committee headed by Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev."

and 18 volunteers—had the blaze under control at 10:49 p.m., 37 minutes after they received the call.

Volunteer George Gnoss, who is deputy county clerk, slipped on the hillside while feeding water to the blaze. He was taken to Novato Medical Center where his bruised ribs were taped. He was to have X-rays taken today.

O'Coy told firemen he had gone to bed about 9 p.m. while two visitors remained in the front room. When he was awakened by the blaze he said the two friends were not in the house.

Cavallero said five trucks poured more than 3,300 gallons of water on the fire before any of the hydrants in the area were used.

Cavallero voiced much concern over water shortage in the Black Point area. "There are a lot of trees in the area which could have caught fire and there is not much water in the main lines," he said.

Cavallero said the house was insured but O'Coy told him the contents were not.

Dentist Jailed After Break-In

A San Francisco dentist was jailed today on suspicion of breaking into his ex-wife's home in Mill Valley and attacking her after an argument.

James Leon Fuller, 35, of 3254 Pierce Street, San Francisco, was held without bail on suspicion of assault, battery and burglary.

Fuller's former wife, Elizabeth Blanche Aldrich, 30, a secretary, began screaming for help about 3 a.m. when Fuller climbed in through the bedroom window at 990 Redwood Highway, Damon C. Burris of 19 Knoll Lane, a neighbor, called the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Boyd Burnham made the arrest.

granted since 1950, although there have been "three or four" commuter and cash toll cuts since that time.

He said that bridge traffic engineer Arthur Jenkins has under study "three or four plans" for other toll cuts. He said the proposals would be completed before the next finance committee meeting Thursday, April 27, and a recommendation would be presented to the full board at its meeting on the 28th.

One plan under study is a 15-cent toll for all automobiles, casual or commuter. Hadeler said this might "cost the bridge" as much as a million dollars a year. Another plan, proposed by Murphy, was for a 10-cent toll for commuters and a possible reduction to 20 cents for cash toll payers.

Oakland Man Leaps From Span

An Oakland man of Chinese racial origin jumped from the mid-span of the Golden Gate Bridge early today to become the 208th known suicide from the structure.

The California Highway Patrol said witnesses observed the man hobbling briskly to the railing at 6:45 a.m. and throwing himself over before anyone could take action.

Coast Guard searchers recovered the body from waters near the bridge at 7:10 a.m. Papers in the clothing identified the suicide as Joseph L. Fong, 39.

The reason for the victim's peculiar gait then became evident. He had an artificial right leg.

Governor Asks Tam Youth To Plan P arley

Stewart Hindley, 18-year-old Tamalpais High School senior, was named today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown as one of a 25-member committee of young Californians to plan a youth conference Nov. 6-7 in Sacramento.

The committee will work with the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth in connection with service projects to make their communities better places to live.

Brown said the conference would seek to develop ways in which youth of California could meet President John F. Kennedy's challenge of "ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country."

Hindley, son of Mrs. H. H. Hindley of 48 Carmelita Avenue, Mill Valley, is on the executive board of the governor's advisory committee and chairman of its subcommittee on "the image and internal structure." He will attend a committee meeting Thursday in Los Angeles to plan for the conference.

He took part in the weeklong White House Conference on Children and Youth last spring in Washington, D.C.

Hindley was student body president at Tamalpais High School for the 1960 fall semester, president of his junior class and sports editor of the Tamalpais News, the school paper, in the spring of 1960. He was a representative to California Boys State in Sacramento to last June.

Hearing Slated On Ross Plan

Planning consultant James M. Campbell showed a proposed Ross master plan to the Ross Town Council sitting as a planning commission last night.

After discussion of his work and required procedures, the members set for 8 p.m. April 27 a first public hearing on the plan.

There must be a total of three hearings, of which the first two will be of the council sitting as planners and the third will be in the normal capacity as city council.

Subsequently revised zoning will be taken up, with one hearing as planning commission and another as council.

The meeting adjourned to 8 p.m. Monday, when the group as town council will consider action on recommendations made by former Berkeley Police Chief John Holstrom concerning the Ross police force.

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing*—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a far costlier car.

AND JUST ONE JET-SMOOTH RIDE WILL SHOW YOU WHY!

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

Marin's Top Prep Athletes Named

Two outstanding, all around athletes from each of the six Marin County Athletic League schools for 1960-61 were announced today in an annual poll conducted by the Radio KTIM Sportsmen's Club.

The 12 heroes will take their bows next Wednesday night at the sportsmen's club's annual banquet at Bermuda Palms Hotel in San Rafael, KTIM Manager Hugh Turner announced this morning.

Johnson of Drake was a Marin League winner of a National Hall of Fame Football Foundation award for all-around outstanding ability in sports, school activities, scholarship and outside school interests.

San Rafael's Petrini and Tam's Kreuter and Dornbach were All-League selections in two sports.

Wilt 'The Stilt' Performs In Marin Cage Feature Tonight

Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain, of the Philadelphia Warriors, greatest scorer in the history of basketball, leads his barnstorming all-star squad into Marin County tonight to take on the popular San Francisco 49er hardwood team at Redwood High School gymnasium.

With advance ticket sales going fast, indications are for a sellout crowd of approximately 2,000 fans for Chamberlain's first performance in Marin starting at 8:30 o'clock.

This is one of 12 exhibitions between the Chamberlain squad and the 49ers scheduled in northern California. The tour has been arranged by Don Barksdale, former college and pro great himself, who served his basketball apprenticeship at College of Marin several years ago. He'll play on Wilt's team tonight.

Tonight's exhibition has been arranged by the Redwood Benchwarmers Club.

According to Bob Troppmann of Redwood High School's athletic department, tickets have been scaled at $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for teen-agers and $1 for children 12 and under.

SCORING CHAMP

Chamberlain, fabled 7-foot 2-inch giant of the Warriors, is the leading single-season scorer and rebounder in the history of the National Basketball Assn. During the season just concluded he broke both records he set himself the previous year.

Other members of Chamberlain's squad include Harold Perry, a regular and great outside shooter on USF's NCAA championship teams of 1955 and 1956; "Jet Stream" Smith and Charlie Hardy of the Oakland Raiders, both of whom were basketball regulars in college; Barksdale, promoter of the series, who was a seven-time AAU All-American, a member of the 1948 United States Olympic team, and for three years with the Boston Celtics; and the fabulous Gardere brothers, Joe, Harold and Lulu, of Oakland. Joe, a standout at St. Mary's until declared ineligible, is an amazing jumper. He can dunk the ball deep down into the basket with two hands despite the fact he's only 5-feet-9-tall.

49ER STARS

At least three of the 49er gridders were outstanding collegiate basketballers. They are R. C. Owens, whose basketball background includes stardom at College of Idaho and in AAU competition, plus a tour with the Harlem Globetrotters; John Thomas, leading scorer of the California Basketball Assn. during his playing days at College of Pacific; and Clyde Conner, Thomas' teammate at COP. Other members of the 49er cage squad are Capt. Gordy Soltau, Bob St. Clair, Ed Henke, Y. A. Tittle, John Brodie and Matt Hazeltine.

The game will be played according to pro rules, which means the 24-second rule and four 12-minute quarters will be in force.

PLENTY OF TICKETS

Plenty of tickets are still available for tonight's basketball game and will go on sale at the Redwood gym starting at 7:15 o'clock, it was announced this morning.

Tamites Down Marin; Redwood '9' Also Wins

Sophomore Fred Mack of Tamalpais High School and Redwood High's Mike Cooney each went the distance yesterday in pitching his team to victories in non-league competition.

Mack twirled the Indians to a 4-2 victory over Marin Catholic at Tam while Cooney also was a 4-2 winner over San Francisco's Washington High at San Francisco's Washington High at San Rafael's Albert Field.

Tam opened its scoring fast in the first inning when Bob Melbern doubled, Norm Kreuter walked and Dave Perlis drove them home with a double for a 2-0 lead.

In the fifth Tam made it 4-0 when Russ Adams singled home Ed Collins, who had singled, and Melbern, who was on via a fielder's choice.

Marin Catholic ruined Mack's shutout in the seventh inning when an error, a bloop single and a walk loaded the bags and pitcher Hank Ryan drove home one run on a sacrifice fly and Chris Ahearn singled home the second marker.

Mac, who also had a double to his credit (half of Tam's six hits went for doubles), struck out six, including the side in the seventh, and walked three. Tam thus completed its practice schedule with five wins and five losses. The indians have won three of their last four.

Ahearn had two of Marin's five hits. Marin's pitchers were Ryan, who gave up two runs in four innings, and Ken Bowerman, who gave up two in two.

At San Rafael, meanwhile, Cooney was striking out 10 Washington batters and walking only two. Washington took a 2-0 lead early, but then blew it when three errors and singles by Jim Troppmann and Don Simons highlighted a four-run third inning rally by Redwood. Coach Al Endriss of the Giants gave everyone on his squad a chance to see action.

Don't Get Too Sold On Giants Yet; Remember Flops Of '59, '60

CONNOLLY

When a sports writer makes a guess and misses, he is wrong.

You've read where a movie critic, reviewing a new picture, declares, "This is a masterpiece; it'll probably win the Academy Award." So pretty soon the public stays away in great numbers, and the picture is withdrawn as quietly as possible, and the studio writes it off.

That happened to Abie's Irish Rose as it swung into its fifth year, AFTER the critics said it wouldn't last two weeks.

The baseball critics got all hot and bothered about the S.F. Giants in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

So I say do not get too sold on the 1960 Giants. At least not yet, although right now they're hotter than a .45.

TOM HALLER is hitting and catching well; Chuck Hiller is playing second base and looks set; Jim Duffalo, the rookie pitcher, is looking like another Christy Matthewson.

So all the sports writers get a breezy slant in their writing. I'm just hoping nobody, including myself, says they are a shoo-in for the pennant.

For example, let the sports writers remember that none of the starting Giant pitchers has yet finished a ball game. So it took the reserve or the bullpen staff to save the aces, they guys who get most of the money in salaries.

That good?

LET'S FIGURE Haller makes good as a catcher.

Imagine Duffalo working in relief the rest of the year as he has done the first two games he pitched.

All the critics got hot and somewhat disgusted when Sam Jones, didn't last out the opener. Likewise they were squelched when Mike McCormick got charged with his first defeat on a one pitch homerun.

I'D SAY that if the season continues as it has so far Dark is a 100 to 1 shot for an ulcer clinic. He is nervous, too devout, too sensitive to stand the rigors of the action packed game of big league managing. I hope I'm wrong.

If you saw him as I did after the opening game, his chin hanging on his knee and his voice sounding like a radio out of order, you'd wonder what you could say to make him feel happy. I had a lot of questions I wanted to throw at him but I'm too old to run and too fat to fight, so I let the other youthful critics needle him.

THE ONLY reason I second guess Dark is that the time element in a ball game differs on an afternoon paper. There is no use of an afternoon paper telling you how the Giants lost. It is much better to try and analyze why they lost and leave the morning papers to give you the horrifying details of the game itself.

The gossip in baseball is much more interesting than the story of how the game was played or how the game was won or lost.

Al Dark, The 'Mad Scientist,' Batting 1.000 In Strategy

They're calling Alvin Dark the "Mad Scientist" and, boy, does he come up with some startling effects.

The quiet rookie manager's internal computing system was batting a thousand yesterday when his San Francisco Giants beat the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates 6-5 in 12 innings at Candlestick Park.

The Giants won the season's initial series, two games to one, and each of the three battles was decided on a single run.

You could hardly select one hero yesterday, but most of the players expressed admiration for 24-year-old Jim Duffalo, a rookie right-handed pitcher who spent last season with Springfield in the Class A Eastern League.

Duffalo, who came on in the 11th with two Pirates on base and one out, walked over a run before he struck out Bob Skinner for the third out.

But Hobie Landrith, batting for the first time this season, smacked a home run on the first pitch Roy Face threw him in the bottom of the 11th and tied the score for the third time at 5-5.

That shot matched Hobie's entire home run output last season.

Shortstop Eddie Bressoud belted a three-run homer over the right field fence in the fourth inning and put the Giants ahead 3-2.

Duffalo, the youngster who preserved Billy Loes' victory Wednesday, got through the 12th without giving up a run. Then Dark sent him up to lead off the Giants' 12th.

"The kid's a good swinger," Dark said, "and I liked the way he was pitching."

Duffalo swung so good he won his own game. He lashed a double to the right field corner, then was taken out for pinch runner Ernie Bowman.

There were other moves by Dark. With two out in the eighth and the Giants trailing 4-3, Willie Mays beat out a single to shortstop. On the first pitch to Willie McCovey, Mays stole second and continued to third when Pirate catcher Smoky Burgess threw the ball into center field. With the count 1-0 on McCovey, Dark yanked his cleanup batter for Joe Amalfitano, a singles hitter. So Amalfitano singled, scoring Mays with the run that sent the game into extra innings.

There were 12,474 fans at Candlestick Park, including 1,837 women for the first Ladies Day. And there were a lot of late dinners after the three hour, 38 minute game.

The Philadelphia Phils move into Dark's windblown laboratory tonight. Right-hander Art Mahaffey is scheduled to pitch against southpaw Mike McCormick, the only Giant robot who has failed to obey the Mad Scientist.

McCORMICK AGAINST PHILS

Mike McCormick, a potential 20-game winner who currently sports a 27.00 earned run average gets a chance to do something about it tonight when he starts for the San Francisco Giants against classy Art Mahaffey of the Philadelphia Phillies in the first night game of the season at Candlestick Park, 8:15 o'clock.

Candlestick Park patrons will recall Mahaffey as the rookie right-hander who mortified the Giants with a two-hitter in his initial appearance against them last season.

McCormick only has thrown one ball so far this season, and that was a home run pitch to Bill Virdon which ruined the Giants' opener in the ninth inning last Tuesday.

Deaf Athletes Need Helping Hand; State Semi-Pro Tourney Dates Set

Ever hear of the World Games for the Deaf? Well, they exist and will take place in Helsinki, Finland Aug. 6-10 and two young athletes with local connections will be participating.

They are Susan Pier of San Anselmo, an outstanding swimmer, and Ronald Wood of Newark, nephew of Mrs. Anthony Iacopi of San Anselmo. Wood is a star runner for the California School for the Deaf in Berkeley. His best times are 9.8 seconds in the 100-yard dash and 51.3 in the 440.

Miss Pier, 20, a graduate of Drake High School and daughter of Mrs. Emily Knapp, 31 Bayview Avenue, currently attends Gallaudet College in Washington, D. C., the only college for the deaf in the world. She formerly attended the Berkeley school and has developed into a fine swimmer.

What brings the subject up today is finances. To transport each contestant to the International Games costs $1,350. A fund to help pay the expenses of the California team has been set up at P.A. Box 5044, Berkeley 5, and your donations will be gratefully accepted.

One interesting thing about this world event: There is no language barrier; theirs is an international language.

S. L. "Brick" SWEGLE, the man in charge of the Californit State NBC Baseball Tournament, has announced dates for the 1961 championships to be played again in San Rafael this summer.

The tournament has been divided into two halves, the first running from June 30 to July 11 and the second half from July 28 to Aug. 9.

Swegle said the Hatzell Radio team of El Cerrito, the 1960 champion, and San Jose Nesbig-Masonry, runner-up, will return along with representative clubs from throughout the state.

Marin once again will be represented, Swegle said, with the Tiburon Pelicans, Ongaro Plumbers, Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders and a new San Rafael club under the direction of Charley Pinza scheduled for action.

LEON ADAMS of 51 Montemar, Sausalito, who has authored books on the habits of striped bass, recently practiced what he preaches and hauled in a 12-pound striper off Pt. San Quentin. He picked up a Schenley Sportsmen's Club prize for the effort.

IRVING CHAPMAN, the San Rafael shoe merchant and avid sports fan, including (or especially) golf, said last Sunday's Ames Invitation Golf Tournament at the Marin Club was "the best conducted tournament I've ever seen."

Chapman said the remarkable thing was that all 46 of the "celebrity" guests showed up on schedule — not one "scratch."

Sponsor Doug Cowan of Ames Ford and tourney chairman Fred O'Bannon did a magnificent job, and all hands agreed the tournament was a big boost for Marin golf. One of the guests, San Francisco's Bob Roos, was among those who praised the smooth function of the tournament.

IF SOMEONE had hollared, "Hey, Williams" at the Marin Athletic League baseball tournament last weekend, it would have caused all kinds of confusion. There were three of 'em on the rosters . . . Steve and Robert of Marin Catholic and Tom of San Rafael.

A COUPLE of Marin County high school graduates are currently listed on the athletic rosters of the University of California Santa Barbara Gauchos.

Michael H. Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Watts of 25 La Cuesta, San Rafael, is on the frosh track team. He's a graduate of Redwood High and is a mathematics major.

Dodgers Errors Costly; Braves Nip Cardinals

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National League moves into its "second openers" today with Cincinnati's unbeaten Reds in first place after the Philadelphia Phillies managed to take advantage of Los Angeles mistakes and hand the Dodgers their first loss.

The Phils, scoring four runs in the last two innings, three of them gifts, salvaged the final game of their three-game set at Los Angeles last night, winning 8-7. That left the Reds, who rapped the Chicago Cubs again, 5-2, alone on top.

San Francisco made it two in a row over the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, winning 6-6 in 12 innings for the Giants' first decision over relief ace Elroy Face in three years. The Milwaukee Braves went 11 innings before downing the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4.

The Cardinals, who split the two-game series at Milwaukee, open their home schedule tonight against Cincinnati with Curt Simmons facing Jay Hook of the Reds. The Cubs open their Wrigley Field season in an afternoon game against Milwaukee as Bob Anderson opposes the Braves' Bob Buhl. The Giants and Dodgers swap foes.

A. L. WASHED OUT

The American League's expanding schedule, so far restricted to just five games because of bad weather, counted another complete loss yesterday with rain, snow and cold barring play. Only three games are scheduled today. Cleveland moves to Washington and Minnesota to Baltimore for night games with the Chicago White Sox at Detroit this afternoon.

After blasting from behind on two-run homers by Pancho Herrera and Tony Gonzalez, the Phillies dropped back again in the seventh at Los Angeles when the Dodgers scored three for a 6-4 lead. The Phils then moved ahead again with three in the eighth on a double by Tony Curry and a single by Gonzalez.

The Dodgers tied it 7-all in their eighth on an unearned run. The Phils then put it away when winning reliever Dick Farrell singled and scored on a two-out error by losing reliever Ed Palmquist in the ninth. It was the first decision for each.

SNIDER HOMERS

Duke Snider drove in the first three Dodger runs off Phillie starter John Buzhardt with a home run and a double. The homer was the Duke's 369th, giving him a tie with Ralph Kiner for seventh place on the all-time list.

Lindy McDaniel, the Cards' relief ace, forced in the winning run at Milwaukee by walking pinch-hitter Mel Roach on a 3-2 pitch with the bases loaded in the 11th. Seth Morehead was the winner. Ken Boyer and Joe Cunningham, who drove in three runs, homered for the Cards.

Tacoma Finally Beats Springfield On Rhodes' Homer

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—The Tacoma Giants of the Pacific Coast League yesterday finally edged their little brothers from the Class-A Eastern League.

The Giants won out 7-5 after having lost three straight to Springfield.

The colorful veteran, Dusty Rhodes, unloaded a three-run homer in the fifth to decide the issue.

Despite their difficulties with Springfield, Tacoma has had a good spring season, with 13 wins in 19 starts.

Small Boat Skippers Launch Racing Season This Weekend

By ALFRED MATSON

Lake Merced Sailing Club gets top billing this weekend as the sponsors of the first regatta of the season for the many classes of diminutive windjammers that race under the aegis of the Small Boat Racing Assn.

Needless to say, Lake Merced will be the locale of the naval warfare and, as programmed, the action will be in evidence both tomorrow and Sunday. Divisions Three and Four will have the honors of drawing first blood with races at 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. tomorrow and Divisions One and Two being withheld from the fray until 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Being the initial contest of the season, there should be a heavy turnout of the multitude of sailing buffs with the itchy tiller fingers who have just emerged from their long winter hibernation.

JUNIOR HONORS

As an added attraction, the first race for the Delmas Perpetual Trophy will be held tomorrow at high noon. Marinites Peter and Len Delmas, a yachting duo of long standing and a father and son combo, donated the trophy to the SBRA with a covering deed of gift that it is to be a seasonal award for junior skippers, boy or girl, who will not attain their 18th birthday until after Sept. 1.

There are six sets of races scheduled through May 28 and the top contenders will be eligible to participate in the eliminations for the bay representative in the Sears quarter finals for the North American junior sailing championship race.

The Belvedere Sailing Society's colors will be carried by Jim Davies, skipper, Bob and Bill Ferguson as crew and Steve Taft, the alternate.

HONOLULU ENTRY

Prior to shoving off for San Pedro at the end of May, MacAnnan plans on getting the Pursuit into racing trim as a participant in local races starting with the Vallejo wingding on the weekend of May 6-7.

Hamilton Rod-Gun Club Meet Monday

Col. Roundy said the club has initiated a class in skeet shooting, under the direction of Col. Waddell Smith. The next class is scheduled Saturday, April 29, 12:30-4:30 p.m.

The FISHIN' FOOL

I-J Fish and Game Writer

Anglers Chased Back Into Port By Wednesday's Rough Weather

STEVENS

Wednesday was a wet, windy and white-capped day. The many hopefuls who decided to stock their larders with freshly caught striped bass in the China Camp-Santa Venetia area of San Pablo Bay were forced back to the barn, cold and grumpy. A few, a very few, who braved the elements and were on the job early proved, however, that the fish are still around. Grace Quan of China Camp told me one chap came in around 11 a.m. with two beautiful 15-pound bass and a 54-inch sturgeon.

Asked about thte results of Tuesday out of China Camp, Grace repeated her statement that most anglers made the grade with the fish taken running much smaller in the morning than in the afternoons.

JOE NERVIANI of Santa Venetia reported 15 boats out on Tuesday and fair to good results in the morning with the wind coming up in the afternoon. "Not so good as Monday, Ralph," said Joe, "and the fish ran much smaller, from just legal to about 18 inches. All boats had fish but not all had limits." He snorted when describing the weather and water Wednesday. "Very rough and very foolish to try fishing," he lamented.

I TALKED with Nadine Lessley of Dowrelio's Harbor at Crockett. Wanted the lowdown on what has been doing in the upper San Pablo Bay. As I stated in Tuesday's column fishing has been, to say the most for it, spotty. During the middle of last week it has been good, then it fell off. One party boat came in with nine bass to 10 pounds and another party boat only had six fish on Sunday. On Monday it was no faster nor yet on Monday and Tuesday. However there is good reason to believe the schools of bass are moving upstream and in the very near future the picture may change radically.

I UNDERSTAND the party boatsmen have inaugurated a sort of contest. The angler getting the largest fish in a two-week period wins a prize. Ralph Gutierrez won the last one with his 18-pounder caught aboard the Milielin.

The report that the Crockett boats had been fishing the China Camp area was in error it appears. Nadine said it was not so. "Too far for our boats to travel," she explained.

THERE IS evidence that the back country bass fishing has come to life in the past week. Joe Navarro of the Sportsmen's Center in Castro Valley reported Pete Martin and friend, along with Cliff Torres taking limits from four to eight pounds off Blind Point; Tony Nunes and two buddies accounted for four bass to 14 pounds off the Venice Island Sounding Board; Carl Wuchterer had a 12-pounder from Frank's Tract; Ed and Diana Allen came home with 24 catfish from old river and Charlie Weimer and son, Bud, limited with black bass at Berryessa. Black bass ran to a pound and a half, and Charlie reported that weighed over a pound, on catching an 11-inch bluegill, the trip.

SALMON TROLLERS, according to the talk over my radio, are annoyed over the sea lions grabbing off fish from their hooks. If it isn't jellyfish it has to be something else, eh?

DOWN SANTA CRUZ way, the Stagnaros report the average salmon per troller has picked up to two to the rod. Mostly taken from three to eight miles southeast of the Santa Cruz Whistling Buoy. Salmon are running quite fair as to size. Rock fishing out of Santa Cruz has been fair in the New Year Island long distance trip and equally so in the local waters. Not too many ling but an abundance of assorted rockfish.

SALMON trollers working the waters near the Farallones were having a field day Wednesday. "Market" fish and lots of them!

Sifford Sets Early Pace At Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Charlie Sifford carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $22,500 Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament, and if the Los Angeles Negro professional continues his daily improvement pattern over the Sedgefield Country Club course he will be hard to catch.

Sifford shot a three under par 68 to lead a field of 115 by a stroke in yesterday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament. Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., was next at 69.

SNEED FIFTH

Six pros carded par 71s to tie for fifth place. Heading the lot was Sam Snead, defending champion from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and seven-time winner here. Tied with him were Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif.; Carolinas PGA champion Avery Beck from Kinston, N.C., and Don Messengale, Jacksboro, Tex., and Bob Shave, Willoughby, Ohio.

Sifford, the first Negro to play a major PGA tournament in the Deep South is 38 and has been a part-time touring pro since 1953. A sturdy 175-pounder, he takes great pride in his long drives, but his short game was the key to his first round success. He had 12 one-putt greens, matching the year's low in PGA circuit play, and used only 24 putts.

Playing in 19 PGA tour events last year, he won $8,800, missing the money only once and the 36-hole cut only once. This year he picked up $4,000 in six California and southwest tournaments early in the year before dropping out for six weeks when the caravan headed into the Deep South.

MACHEN FUTURE ALL SET: WIN TITLE, RETIRE

Machen, resting in Redding after winning a unanimous decision over Mike DeJohn in San Francisco last Monday, said he wants to fight world heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, win the title, defend it four or five times and retire.

"I want to get enough money to live a comfortable life, set myself up in business and see that my family is taken care of," Machen said yesterday.

He plans to wait and see if he can get a fight with Patterson before scheduling any more bouts.

In New York yesterday, Patterson was quoted as saying Machen now has a better chance of getting a title fight next September than Britain's Henry Cooper.

Machen said he started bearing down on conditioning about five months ago.

"I wanted to really give myself a chance to get in shape. You have to work a long time to get in shape and stay there," he said.

Roaring 20s Golders Join Hall Of Fame

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three great golfers of the Roaring Twenties have been voted into the California Golf Hall of Fame, Nelson Cullenward, president of the California Golf writers Assn., announced today.

Named were Willie Hunter of Santa Monica, who won the 1921 British Amateur; Jack Neville of Pebble Beach, who captured the California Amateur crown five times; and the late Macdonald Smith who was runnerup twice for National Open and British Open titles.

Hunter and Neville will be presented with plaques at a banquet Monday night at the Los Altos Golf and Country Club.

Others to be honored at the banquet include Vern Callison of Sacramento as Amateur of the Year and Barbara Williams of Richmond as Woman Amateur Golfer of the Year.

Brunswick Fails To Take ABC Lead

DETROIT (AP)—Stroh's Beer of Detroit breathed easier today as leaders in the classic division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Brunswick of Miami, Fla., failed to dislodge Strohs in a challenge last night. Brunswick, working on 3,036 from the night before, hit onl 2,837 for an overall six-game count of 5,873 for seventh place. Stroh's leads with 5,978.

Stroh's has to sweat out the performances of 29 more teams before it can claim the title and $4,000 first prize.

Little League Meeting Set At Santa Venetia

The Gallinas Valley Little League group will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at McPhail School in Santa Venetia, announces Barbara Walker, secretary of the group.

Mill Valley Golfers Play Tourney Sunday

Members of the Mill Valley Men's Golf Club will compete Sunday in the Vice President's Day tournament at the Mill Valley Municipal Course with the vice president's cup up for grabs.

This marks another in a series of tournaments conducted by the busy southern Marin club. Last Sunday the Mill Valleyans as a team scored an 18-point victory over the Ukiah Golf Club team at Mill Valley in a special match.

Mill Valley shooters winning prizes for low net scoring were Andre Hahn, Keeler Nash, Charlie Price, Frank Terriault, Gary Johnson and Hugh Corthell.

Tryouts Tomorrow For Pony League

Tryouts for the Twin Cities Pony League baseball teams will be held tomorrow, 1 p.m. at Redwood High School, it was announced today by Dick Jewett, president of the Twin Cities Boys Club.

Jewett said there is still room for more players and that managers are needed for the teams.

San Rafael's Fred Stoke Races At Fremond Sunday

Fred Stoke, with the Stoke and Azevedo B-Open gas dragster from San Rafael, drives a speedy 340-inch supercharged Chevy engined machine that is a frequent winner.

Roger Harrington, wheeling the Harrington and McFall A-Open gas dragster from San Pablo, uses a 352-inch Olds engine to travel the quarter-mile in near record time. Bob Bales and Len Freitas of Salinas take turns driving their B-Open gas machine through the clocks.

The dragster is powered by a 292-inch Chevy engine, that is blown (or supercharged).

A gas dragster uses service station fuel, rather than the slightly more potent rocket-types, but can attain speeds only a little lower than the fuel dragsters turn. Fremont Drag Strip has a large turn-out of these speedsters every week, since drivers have found that the bite off the starting line, and the accurate and dependable timing are unmatched anywhere.

Sunday will again see dozens of drivers of stockers in competition for the cash awards given to class winners the first and third Sunday of the month. The only requirement is that there must be 10 or more in the class to qualify for a cash award.

Racing for time runs in the morning hours at Fremont gets underway at 9 a.m. The dragsters often make runs as early as possible, since many drivers feel that the early morning damp air gives them an advantage. Eliminations start at 1:30 p.m. Spectators have large viewing, parking and grand stand areas available at Fremont.

College All-Stars, Trotters Clash In S.F. Tonight

Doug Moe and York Larese, North Carolina's "one-two" punch that has been surprising the famous Harlem Globetrotters, hits the Cow Palace tonight at 8 o'clock when the hoop magicians resume their cross-country tour against the College All-Americans.

Moe and Larese, as their North Carolina coach, Frank McGuire, predicted are outshining the stars while keeping comic Meadowlark Lemon and Trotters cohorts playing desperately to protect a 6 to 4 series lead.

Bolstered by a galaxy of All-American cagers, namely St. Mary's Tom Meschery, Indiana's Walt Bellamy, Gonzaga's Frank Burgess, Houston's Gary Phillips and California's Bill McClintock, the Tar Heels twins have proved the Globetrotters' "nemesis."

Also cavorting with the most formidable team in the classic's 12-year-run will be William & Mary's Jeff Cohen, UCLA's John Berberich and DePaul's Carl Nowie.

Tryouts Tomorrow At Marin Diamond

Tryouts for Kentfield-Greenbrae's Pony League varsities are scheduled for tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock on College of Marin's baseball field in Kentfield.

More than 70 boys have signed up for berths on the four Pony League teams that Kentfield-Greenbrae will field this year. Two of the teams will participate in the major division of the Southern Marin Pony League along with teams from Mill Valley, Tiburon, Sausalito, Strawberry and the Twin Cities of Larkspur and Corte Madera.

109 BROADWAY – FAIRFAX GL 3-4410

International Dinner Planned By Marin Junior Red Cross

Plans for the third annual Red Cross International Dinner on April 26 at 6:30 p.m in the San Rafael High School cafeteria are being formulated by a committee from Marin Junior Red Cross County Council.

Mrs. Kenyon Spalding is in charge of the dinner preparation. Decorations will be keyed to the theme "Around the World in 30 Minutes," with the following countries being represented in table decor provided by participating schools:

Panama, San Rafael High School; Greece, Sir Francis Drake; Spain, Terra Linda; Turkey, Tamalpais; Belgium, Marin Catholic; France, Dominican; Fiji Islands, Novato; Africa, Redwood, and Japan, San Rafael Military Academy.

Honored guests will be foreign exchange students who are in Marin County under the auspices of American Field Service, living with families and attending local schools.

OPEN FRIDAY EVENINGS

Marin High School Senior Girls Will Be Feted At College Tea

Plans for the annual College of Marin Fashion Show and Tea to be given in honor of graduating senior girls of Marin County high schools on April 19 at Olney Hall, are complete and the Associated Women Students in charge of the event are adding the final touches that will carry out the theme of "A Fashion Bouquet to Remember."

Particularly busy are the 12 models: Bonnylin Adami, Drucilla Brown, Joy Ivancovich, Eleanor Jensen, Marilyn Kinsel, Charlotte Pennington, Ellen Scott, Barbara Simontacchi, Shirley Tietjen, Sally Wilder, Elizabeth Yore and Kitty Yore. They will present clothes from a San Francisco store.

Six men on campus also have been chosen as models: Barry McGough and Thomas Schulz, ASCOM president and vice president; El Cartie Barnes, Rally chairman; and Bill Rude, Scott Zimmerman and Roger Hermsmeyer.

The models have been selected and trained by Jan Siemens and Karen Hirst, both of whom are graduating sophomores and Alpha Gamma Sigma academic honor students who gained experience in last year's fashion show. They have planned a program of fashions to illustrate the daily social, academic and recreational life at the College of Marin. The high school spectators will see what is worn to classes, club meetings and campus social events. Also featured will be appropriate dress for off-campus activities from play clothes and beachwear to date dresses and formals. The climax will be the presentation of the wedding gown, symbol of every college girl's future.

The bouquet theme of the event will be carried out through a stage trimmed in banks of flowers cut from the beautiful gardens of the College of Marin and by nosegays carried by some of the models. These touches will be coordinated by Rita Sturm, decorations chairman.

Coordination behind scenes is being worked out by Carolyn Graefe, stage manager. Karen Hirst will cue the models in with the commentator, Lynne Farmer, and Jan Siemens will direct the fitters, Beverly Dismukes, Mary Bennett and Nina Wachs.

The big event of the year for the Associated Women Students will be attended by several hundred girls graduating from Tamalpais, Drake, Redwood, San Rafael, Novato, Tomales and Marin Catholic High Schools.

Brunch In Athearn Home For Show Antique Dealers

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Athearn in Mill Valley was an appropriate setting for the brunch given today for the 27 antique dealers present at this year's Marin County Antiques Show and Sale, opening today in Sausalito.

Co-hostessing the traditional "dealer's brunch" with Mrs. Athearn were the Mesdames Leslie Wellington and Jay Chilton. All are members of the committee of women of the Church of Our Saviour, Mill Valley, sponsors of the ninth annual show.

The appropriateness of the Athearn home for this affair stems from the fact that these men and women who deal in heirlooms and antiques will have an opportunity to examine and admire the many examples of early Americana handed down from the families of both Mr. and Mrs. Athearn.

Mrs. Athearn's great-grandfather was Dr. Hugh Glenn, after whom Glenn County, where he first settled in 1848, was named. The original family home is "Jacinto"—an estate a few miles outside the town of Glenn. The house, low and rambling, was brought around the Horn on shipboard in two parts. Originally built in Virginia, it is still well kept, although not now owned by a member of the settling family.

An Empire sofa, a Queen Anne coffee table, and some silver are Mrs. Athearn's remnants of that original home. Other antiques that will prove of interest to the visitors will be those from Mr. Athearn's family, for his forebears traveled to California in covered wagon days, settling in southern California.

The Antiques Show, now at the IDESST Hall in Sausalito, will continue through Sunday, is open from noon until 10 p.m.

Mrs. James Pike Will Address Episcopal Women

Mrs. James Pike, wife of the bishop of the Northern California Episcopal diocese, will be the guest speaker at the April 18 meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Nativity in Marinwood.

Mrs. Nancy L. Brousseau of Mill Valley and Engelbert R. Sellmann of Palo Alto were married in a simple ceremony Monday, April 10, performed by Judge David R. Baty at his office in San Rafael.

The bride wore a green flower patterned print sheath for the double ring rites.

After a honeymoon spent at Monterey, the Sellmanns will move, in May, to San Jose, where they have bought a new home.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janisen of Mill Valley, was graduated from Tamalpais High School and worked for insurance companies in San Francisco. She has a daughter, Ann Brousseau, by a previous marriage. Her brother is Lee F. Janisen of Sonoma, and her sister is Mrs. Jerry Shabica of San Rafael.

The bridegroom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sellmann of Mill Valley, is a graduate of Tamalpais High School. He served four years with the U.S. Air Force and is employed as a film processor with the Kodak Film Company in Palo Alto.

He has two children by a previous marriage, Theresa and John Sellmann. His brother is Werner Sellmann of Mill Valley.

Mrs. Sheldon Dahl Hostesses A Tea

Thirty guests were invited to tea Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Sheldon T. Dahl of Tiburon. A reading "At the Foot of the Rainbow," was given by Mrs. Byron White of Corte Madera, who is a drama teacher and life-long friend of the hostess. Mrs. Dahl also entertained her guests with piano selections.

The Dahls live in the Red Hill Apartments, where they recently moved from a home in Little Reed Heights. They are planning to build in the Tiburon area.

Rehearsals For Play

Picking Up Sticks is the English country dance selected and being taught by Bill D'Alvy of Mill Valley for presentation in the Mountain Play.

Folk dancers have been asked by Dan Totheroh, director, to participate in "Robin Hood", this year's production, to be given on Sunday, May 14 and 21.

Additional couples are needed to fill out the sets. All folk dancers, with or without partners, who would like to dance are urged to contact D'Alvy for further information. Rehearsals are scheduled for April 24 and May 8 in the girls' gymnasium of Redwood High School.

Tennis Club To Hear Designer

Mill Valley Tennis Clubwomen will hear a talk on "You and Your Home" by Lorette Galvin Larson of San Rafael, nationally known color consultant and interior designer, at their April luncheon Tuesday.

Mrs. Irvin Vickers, general chairman for the luncheon, will be assisted with decor by Mrs. John Mann, and others composing the committee for the day are Mesdames Steven Cook, Robert Randolph, William Barber, John K. Bloom, Donald Gallagher, Phillip Seymour and Eugene Aureguy.

Party punch will be served at 12:30 p.m. before the 1 o'clock luncheon.

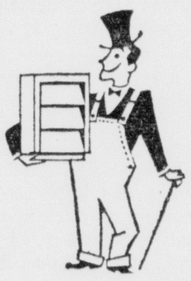

Reservations are to be made with Mrs. James Stephenson or Mrs. Warren Erskine.

Miss Murphy Engaged To Wed

Capt. and Mrs. William C. Murphy, stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn Terriberry, to Dr. John E. Crisp, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Norman W. Crisp of Nashua, N.H.

Miss Murphy was graduated from Mountain Lakes High School, Mountain Lakes, N.J. in 1957, and from the Roosevelt Hospital School of Nursing, New York City in 1960.

Dr. Crisp was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1953. He is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity and the Dragon Senior Honor Society. In 1957 he was graduated from Vermont Medical College, and is now chief Resident General Surgery at the Roosevelt Hospital, New York City.

Joyce Gross
HOUSEWIFE — CIVIC LEADER
Candidate For
Mill Valley Elementary School
BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Mrs. Gross, as a Candidate for the Board, What Concerns You Most?

The fact that in ten short years today's sixth grade children will be voting. In those ten years, the home, the school, and Mill Valley have an obligation to provide an education that will enable these children to find a way to a peaceful world and to live a full and productive life. These goals can only be achieved through well-balanced education. We cannot overlook a single child.

An America of technicians and specialists is not enough. There must be training in the arts and humanities, in public affairs, and in the science of teaching itself.

How Important Are the 3 Rs?

A child not well grounded in these essential tools is a handicapped child. But—let us not confuse the learning of the 3 Rs with the true meaning of education. A truly educated person is one for whom the 3 Rs are a stepping stone, not the sole objective. Let us teach reading so that we inspire our children to read. Let us teach writing, but encourage our children to write thoughtfully and creatively. Let us teach arithmetic to promote imagination and scientific thinking which is so important in the world today.

Should We Attract and Keep Good Teachers?

We should strive to employ and retain the best qualified personnel we can. Our Mill Valley School District has and should keep a high standard among its teachers.

With 85% of our budget composed of salaries, obviously wise planning must be employed in maintaining standards. A beginning teacher must have an adequate income to live decently, and the maximum salary must be enough to encourage a good teacher to remain with our district.

Where Do Our School Dollars Go?

Decisions and policies concerning class size, teachers' salaries, transportation, and materials determine our Mill Valley School District budget. Public-minded Mill Valley people should be aware of budget figures and should help the Board of Trustees to determine alternatives if enough money is not available.

It is not efficient or economical to budget from crisis to crisis. The Board cannot meet its financial obligations by wrestling with current budgets and hoping costs will go down.

How Do You Feel About Unification?

Unification is the operation of elementary and high schools in a given area under a single administration and board. There is no doubt that this is the most efficient and economical method of operating schools and I think the citizens of Mill Valley should have these advantages as soon as practical.

What Is the Most Important Function Of a School Board?

It is policy making—forming general rules that apply to all foreseeable types of situations. They should be worked out carefully and impersonally before the crisis or problem arises. They should involve long-range planning, and should allow the Superintendent to handle administrative decisions and details of execution.

Is This Enough?

No, the members of the Board of Trustees must not merely set policies—they must see that the policies have been executed properly, and they must determine how effective they have been.

A major responsibility of the Board is providing for an exchange of inquiry and report between the staff, the Board, and the community, thus maintaining a healthy atmosphere of mutual information.

Tam District Voters Should Approve Sensible Bond Plan

On Tuesday all voters of Marin go to the polls to vote on school matters. There will be trustee elections in every part of the county. (San Rafael, which elected its high school and elementary trustees last Monday, will vote on College of Marin trustees.)

In addition, most of the voters will be asked to decide one or more of three bond issues, a state loan or four tax rates.

Affecting the most Marin students is the $3,000,000 bond issue proposed by Tamalpais Union High School District. Nearly two thirds of the county's population live in this district.

The reason for the bond issue is obvious—too many students. Tamalpais High, already handling more than capacity, would add 12 new classrooms, including a new six-room science building, increasing its capacity by 254 students.

Drake High, only one of three not now at capacity, will be overcrowded if the expansion of Redwood is not carried out. It will be forced to take the overflow. No new classrooms are planned here, but an electric shop and a teachers workroom would be added.

Remodeling is planned for Tamalpais, oldest (1909) of the three schools. Both the science facilities and the main building are scheduled for major overhaul, long needed.

Each of the three schools will have improved luncheon facilities, a snack bar at Tam and Redwood and a covered eating area at Redwood and Drake.

These major improvements, plus purchase of two sites for needed new schools of the future, make up the great majority of the bond issue.

Three million dollars sounds like a lot of money, and it is. But because the Tamalpais district is such a huge one, it doesn't cost each taxpayer much. To the owner of a home with a $25,000 market value, the cost would be only $4.60 per year; for a $40,000 home, just $7.36 in added taxes.

Certainly that isn't too much to pay for improved educational facilities for most of the county's children.

Last October a similar bond issue won 60 per cent of a small voter turnout, but failed to pass because it needed 66⅔ per cent. We hope the other 6⅔ per cent turn out to vote this time.

And while they are voting, we hope they vote also for Dr. John Siemens for a seat on their board of trustees. He's one of the 11 candidates seeking four vacant seats. He's also an effective, hardworking, dedicated man who'd do a fine job.

Mill Valley School District

Mill Valley School District, which has failed with four construction bond issues in the last four years, goes to the voters Tuesday with a $550,000 "classrooms only" proposal.

It's a simple proposal, made on the recommendations of the district's "Committee of 40," to build 19 new classrooms at Alto, Edna Maguire, Marin Terrace, Tamalpais Valley and Old Mill Schools. No new additions would be made at Park and Strawberry Point, but the new rooms should relieve some of the crowding there too.

It is hard to understand opposition to such a minimum program. There is nothing that could be called a frill; there's an obvious need for new school rooms. We hope Mill Valley has finally found the combination which will authorize needed construction.

San Anselmo District

Back in 1957, San Anselmo school trustees began to tell residents of the district money was needed to run their schools. But that year, the voters said No to a proposal to raise the tax rate from $1.35 to $1.90.

The following year in May, the trustees were even more concerned, but sought only part of what they thought necessary. They asked for an increase to $1.45. Again the voters said No, but by only six votes. So the trustees tried again in November 1958 with the same request—"Brother can you spare a dime?" They won by 42 votes.

In October 1959, the trustees tried again. This time they asked for an increase to $2.00. It was resoundingly defeated.

Now they are asking for an added 35 cents, to make the basic tax $1.80. This would raise approximately $65,000 more each year for school operations. It would allow hiring of two needed new teachers plus some parttime help; improved salary schedules for all teachers; added supplies for more children; needed ground and building maintenance, and an adequate reserve fund.

It certainly seems like a realistic request.

Dixie School District

Largest request on the ballot is being made of the Dixie School District voters. The district seeks authority to borrow up to four million dollars from the state as the need arises.

Constructed with the funds would be three completely new schools, additions to four others over a period of years, and purchase of two new sites.

Dixie, because it grew from a one-room school to an enrollment of 2,300 in less than five years, has had to look ahead. Thus far the voters have supported this kind of planning.

It looks as though the next five years will be just as hectic for the school planners as the last five. This plan would not add to the tax rate but would extend the time of the district's indebtedness. A neat solution for an exploding population.

Kentfield District

A 50 cent increase from Kentfield School District's $1.75 tax rate is being sought on Tuesday, but the trustees have pledged not to spend more than 25 cents of it next year.

Under the district's plan the funds would be used entirely for the educational program, including an increased teacher salary schedule. But it also includes a beefed-up curriculum which could include such subjects as foreign languages and economic education in the schools' offerings.

Decision to guarantee not to use the whole total next year was reached because more study is needed before some of these additions are made. It seems like a sensible way to approach the problem.

Tomales Bay District

Tomales Bay Union School District is asking passage of a $100,000 bond issue but allowing a lowered tax rate to stand.

The bond issue of the recently-formed district would be to finance addition of at least three classrooms on the present Tomales School.

Tomales and Marshall districts went together to form the new unionized district, a move we applauded at the time. Tomales had had an 88 cent tax rate; Marshall had had an 85 cent rate including override taxes. The trustees are allowing the 80 cent basic rate to stand. The override will be more than 5 and less than 8 cents more.

They hope the people will approve the bond issue. So do we.

FBI Must Hear Of 'Reds In School'

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have received a letter from P. J. Rowland of San Anselmo, a self-styled "real tax economist" who is president of a group known as the Marin County Taxpayers Association.

Rowland apparently feels it necessary in his letter to defend a recent newspaper ad opposing the Tamalpais Union High School District bond issue at the April 18 election.

Although he signed the ad as president of the MCTA, his letter opens with the comment that "at the time you spoke to me I had not yet seen the ad you referred to." This admission makes it difficult for you to give much credence to the rest of his letter.

After plowing through an undocumented mass of figures, I was astonished to read this statement by Mr. Rowland:

"I also take this opportunity of stating to you in black and white that Marin County is one of the hotbeds of communism in these United States where it has infiltrated into all classes of our society — schools, elementary, high and college, lawyers, doctors and dentists, etc."

He then elaborates:

"I am seriously alarmed at the insidious penetration into our school system of communistic inspired literature and publications, as well as actual infiltration, in some cases, of personnel (sic) itself." The emphasis are mine.

If P. J. Rowland is a responsible person, I suggest it is his immediate duty to disclose to the FBI the complete details of these cases of "actual infiltration" of Communists among the "personnel" of our Marin County school system.

Mr. Rowland has made a grave accusation. Let him prove it. If he does not—or will not—then I can only assume that the other portions of his letter attacking our schools and the forthcoming school bond issue are completely unreliable and irresponsible.

Don't write or call me again, Mr. Rowland. Write or call Mr. J. Edgar Hoover or your nearest FBI office at once.

Why One Man Favors Bonds

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It has been brought to my attention that there is a prevailing impression that I am against the Tam district bonds. I would appreciate it if you would allow me this opportunity to inform your readers that I am unalterably in favor of the bonds.

Possibly the misconception arose because I did indicate that I favored a "pay-as-you-go" program in preference to bonds because of the interest cost involved in bonding. However, it is now too late to consider a "pay-as-you-go" policy for the Tam District and bonds are our only solution . . .

About 10 years ago the Tam board informed the people of the district that at that time it was possible to finance all future needs without bonds by increasing the tax limit to $2.25. The board was careful to point out that the full amount need not be necessary, but there might be occasions when unforeseen circumstances might necessitate such a rate. The voters of the district rejected that program.

It is now too late for any such method for solving the district's financial needs. We have no time leeway left within which to accumulate funds. We are already within a few students of total capacity for the district and by this September we shall exceed present capacity for all three high schools, and most seriously at Redwood. It would take about 15 to 18 months to complete any expansion at Redwood, so any further delay simply compounds the seriousness of the situation . . .

Hence, I am unalterably in favor of the bond issue.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

She was purchasing her first life insurance policy and found a few of the questions thrown at her a bit baffling. "What's your maximum weight?" She answered easily enough with "About 150 pounds," but the next query, "What's your minimum weight?" stopped her. After some hesitation, however, she brightened. "think," she said, "it was seven pounds, four ounces."

Slouched over a bar, a disgruntled race track patron confessed he couldn't even pick the kind of drink he desired. "I'd order a pony of brandy," he explained to the bartender, "but I know it would come in last."

Union School District

Trustees of the Union School District in North Marin are asking an increase from 80 cents to $1.10. There won't be many votes cast and there won't be many taxpayers affected.

There are only about 20 families in the district, mostly, ranchers. There are only 18 students in the school. Yet the cost of school operation goes up anyway. The teacher needs a raise, the school building needs a roof and tuition is needed to help pay for district students attending Petaluma High School.

Every district has problems.

Bolinas-Stinson District

The Bolinas-Stinson Beach Union School District is setting a tax rate for the first time.

The voters are being asked to approve a $1.20 rate. If it does not pass, the rate will be 80 cents, the state-set rate.

Last year Stinson Beach could have set a $1.40 rate; instead it set $1.25. Bolinas could have set $1.10, but it set just $1.09 cents.

Everybody's A Tax Economist Looking At Bonds In Own Way

Well, here it is school bond issue time again in Tamalpais Highlands and come next Tuesday, old acquaintances won't be forgot at the polls, that being the only place many of the voters ever get a solid chance to spit in one another's eye.

"Hmmph, you again? Don't you ever give up?" a childless lady, about to vote No, will hmmph to her Yes-voting neighbor, the mother of three teen-agers.

The non-mother will often be accompanied by her elderly, retired aunt who came to Marin County last year from Muncie, Ind., where she voted "No" on every school bond issue for 28 years.

"YOU AND YOUR bond issues will bankrupt us all!" the childless lady will shout, waving a page of irrefutable figures in the face of Mrs. Yes.

"These irrefutable figures were drawn up by a friend who is a tax economist," she will say with assurance, as she licks the stub of her pencil, preparatory to voting No.

"Tax economist indeed," will hmmph her neighbor, hinting darkly by her tone that just because one says he is a tax economist, it is not necessarily so.

Which I think is most unfortunate. Because tax economists are all about us these days, even lurking in the garb of garage mechanics, real estate salesmen, gardeners and unemployed wood-butchers. In fact, I am somewhat of a tax economist myself, almost always getting a slice of my tax bite back from uncle along about the middle of May.

AND IF I EVER run for school trustee, I am certainly going to list myself as such. Just compare the authoritative ring of the titles "tax economist" and "writer." Like "chocolate eclair" and "mud pie."

"Writer," he will probably snort to himself. "What does a writer know about good old-fashioned education!" Promptly he votes for my opponent, a tax economist who pulls weeds as a sideline.

Only the other day a tax economist friend of mine, who dabbles as a housewife when not economizing on taxes, told me she and her husband were going to vote Yes on the bonds.

"I HAVE IT ALL figured," my tax economist friend said, wiping her hands on her apron so as not to soil her computing machine with meat loaf drippings.

"If the bonds pass, it will only cost John and me $4.60 a year to keep the kids from going on double sessions."

Being very mathematical, in the manner of all of us tax economists, she quickly converted this sum to nine martinis and a 10-cent tip for a bartender, luxuries she felt her John could well do without during the next 12 months.

But, being a form player (as well as a tax economist) six won't get you five that the bonds will pass.

IT'S A MATTER of simple arithmetic. For every No-voting lady and her aunt (some aunts have been known to retire to Marin from as far away as Pawtucket, R. I.), it takes four Yes votes to pass the issue, the house rules calling for a two-thirds majority.

Judging on past performance of the district voters, all four of the would-be Yes votes do not hustle down to the polls. At least one of them stays home and listens to "Queen For a Day" or curls up with "Peyton Place."

So, like I say, six won't get you five . . .

Political Peace Corps Could Help Assure Fair Elections

WASHINGTON — We have still to tighten the election laws against fraud and carelessness and, even more important, to provide for real enforcement.

There are two essential ingredients for this reform.

The first is for Republicans and Democrats to quit pointing at each other as the guilty one. Both should recognize that better enforcement of the election laws will benefit everyone by insuring that every vote will count.

There is no doubt that over the years both parties have engaged in illegal and unfair practices at the polling booths, voting dead men and counting out the living.

BUT NO PARTY has had a monopoly on these evils. Obviously when a national election is as tight as last fall, the fact that some 3,000,000 Americans were deprived of their ballots, undermines confidence in the democratic process and underlines the need for reform.

Interparty recrimination, however, will get us nowhere. The assumption that one party is more culpable than the other will simply delay reform. Richard Nixon might have picked up strength if all the votes had been secure, but it is also true that President Kennedy might have won by a greater plurality.

The second ingredient for election reform is for the Republican and Democratic parties to recruit and train adequate manpower to guard the polls. Rep. William B. Widnall (R, New Jersey) has a helpful suggestion. He says:

"It appears to me that a tremendous service could be performed by some of the colleges in providing watchers and challengers for election day."

THIS GOES TO the heart of the problem. The greatest protection to the integrity of the ballot—safeguarding both the right to vote and the fairness of the count — comes from the ability of the two parties to put competent, voluntary workers at every polling place in every district in every state.

In areas where one party is weak, adequate watchers are unavailable. Often they are untrained, do not know the laws, are quite useless.

It seems to me that a right and workable answer is staring us in the face:

Why not a political peace corps of volunteer college students? They would gladly give their services in at least one election. They would serve the better functioning of democracy in the U. S. the way the international peace corps is preparing to help build democracy in other countries.

On the basis of conversations with undergraduates on many campuses, I am sure that large numbers of college students would be willing and eager to volunteer if given a significant job to do.

The Country Parson

Stinson, Bolinas Vote Tuesday On Proposed School Tax Increase

Bolinas and Stinson Beach residents will go to the polls Tuesday to vote on a proposed $1.20 tax rate for their newly formed Bolinas-Stinson Union School District.

The election is necessary because the district is new, having been voted in overwhelmingly Dec. 13, 1960, to combine Bolinas and Stinson Beach school districts and go into actual operation July 1.

It is also necessary because, if the tax rate is not changed, the rate reverts by law to 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The increase is not an increase over the present separate district maximums voted by residents which are $1.40 for Stinson Beach and $1.10 for Bolinas. The $1.20 is proposed as a maximum for the combined district, according to Arthur L. Carpenter clerk of the interim board. "In proposing this, we will have brought the rate down 20 cents at Stinson Beach and raised it 10 cents at Bolinas," said Carpenter.

Bolinas school district has now a $1.01 basic tax rate with eight cents override to total $1.09.

Stinson Beach has a $1.19 basic with six cents override to total $1.25.

"Essentially the purpose of the tax rate is to keep the school plants in repair," Carpenter said, "and to pay our personnel reasonable salaries."

He added that "the proposed tax rate does not increase the income of the district but rather, keeps it where it was. Neither district has been able to operate on 80 cents for many years, and to do so now would cut about $13,000 off our income with no place to take it out of the expenses."

Carpenter said that a $1.16 tax rate has been set by the interim school board with an extra four cents included so that if additional expenses should arise, it would not be necessary to hold another tax election in the near future.

Bolinas has a lower tax maximum at the moment than Stinson Beach, the clerk said, because the radio corporation of American Communications, Inc. transmitting station is located at Bolinas.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, April 14, the 104th day of the year with 261 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the first abolition society was organized in Philadelphia with Benjamin Franklin as president.

In 1828, the first edition of Noah Webster's dictionary was published.

In 1890, delegates of 18 republics of North, Central and South America met in Washington to adopt a resolution creating the first International Bureau of American States, which came to be the Pan American Union.

A thought for today: Benjamin Franklin said: "Remember that time is money."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Critics Find Faults Galore With Today's Parents, But Don't Worry

We're bad parents. Did you know that?

I've been reading what our critics are saying. Never have so many people been so busy telling us parents what not to do.

They say we're bad because we love our children. We are guilty of "momism," and "popism," whatever they mean. But we're bad also because we don't show our children enough love. Our kids grow up insecure and lonely, starved for affection. Confusing, isn't it?

We're terrible because we spank, raise our voices, and yell. At the same time we're failures because we are too easy. We don't lay down the law and aren't strict enough.

It's our fault if our kids get poor grades. We haven't helped them. We didn't provide a proper place for them to study. But also we should be ashamed if they get straight "A" grades. The high grades prove we've pushed them too hard!

We are to blame when they catch cold. But if we keep them indoors, we're making softies out of them. We can't win, can we? We can't win if we take the critics seriously.

Who are the critics? A surprising number of them are childless. They've no real understanding of parenthood.

Many of the others are oldtimers. They think in terms of grandchildren, or great-grandchildren rather than in terms of real live kids of their own.

The critics have to be spectacular. They can't sell their articles if they don't dig up some horrendous new complaints about us.

So? So don't worry. Keep on loving your children. Rely on your own good judgment. Give them the wisest mixture of affection and guidance, freedom and discipline you can arrange. They'll get along.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Should an 8-year-old have an allowance? If so, how much?" L.S.

(A) Yes, an 8-year-old should have an allowance. It is best to give children about the same allowances their friends receive. Not much more, and not much less.

Sausalito Youth Given Fellowship

John Wilkinson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilkinson of 93 Cazneau Avenue, Sausalito, has just won a three-year fellowship under the National Defense Education Act to continue studies at California Institute of Technology.

Young Williamson will graduate this June with a mathematics major. A 1956 graduate of Tamalpais High School, he won a merit scholarship to Cal Tech that year. The new fellowship means he gets about $6,600 plus tuition during the next three years.

CINDERELLA AND CAT RETURN TO STAGE

Marin Teacher Named Winner For TV Use

A Novato school teacher has been named by the National Education Assn. as the winner of a travel award for imaginative use of television as a teaching aid.

Howard O. Doughty, a Santa Rosa resident who teaches a sixth grade class at Novato's Olive School, has chosen a two-week tour of the Rocky Mountain area with a $100 expense grant over a two-week trip through historic New England.

Doughty was one of but two Bay Area winners in the nationwide competition. Mrs. Blanche M. Striker of San Francisco was awarded a special plaque.

Winners were selected from among 1,640 finalists on the basis of their imaginative use of the ABC television public service series, "Expedition," seen in this area on KGO, plus their ability to bring to their students "a better understanding of the world they live in and a belief in the value of educational travel."

Doughty has been at the Olive School for only one year. Prior to that he taught at Greenbrae and in Sonoma County.

He is a graduate of Chico State College and holds a Master's Degree from San Francisco State College. He is married and the father of three children.

Formal announcement of award winners in the competition will be made tomorrow at a luncheon in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C. where Ewald Turner, president-elect of the National Education Assn., will be the keynote speaker.

Ross Valley Teachers Assn. Names Officers

William Hartley, assistant principal of the Adeline E. Kent School, has been named president of the Ross Valley Teachers Assn., it was announced today.

Committee heads and officers also elected are Dave Raffo, Isabel Cook School, professional and public relations; Merle Conant, Manor School, social and welfare; Val Travaglini, Sleepy Hollow School, legislation and finance; Mrs. Joy Cowan, Deer Park School, recording secretary; Enid Schapiro, Adeline E. Kent School, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Corinne Giampaoli, Greenbrae School, treasurer.

The association is made up of teachers in the Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax school districts.

Protest Meeting On Gate Plan Set

A public meeting, protesting the creation of a proposed Golden Gate Transportation Commission, will be held at the San Rafael High School auditorium Friday at 8 p.m.

Sponsor of the session will be the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

"The Golden Gate Bridge has not cost the taxpayers of the district one cent since the day it was opened for business," Philip J. Rowland, president of the taxpayers group, said. "This proposed Commission would take the profits, retain the power to tax—all without a vote of the people."

On the median line of Pacific Coast population, industry and finance, the San Francisco Bay Region is the hub of the Western market.

Landmark Unit Seeks Railroading History

Any historical material on railroading hidden away in your attic?

The Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society is looking for such material, including old photos, for exhibit during the weekend of May 6 and 7. Mrs. Robert Bastian of 19 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, is collecting the material.

Scene of the exhibit will be old St. Hilary's Church, built in 1888 when Tiburon was a new railroad town. The church was purchased by the Landmarks Society in 1959 and rededicated last fall as a historical monument.

In connection with the event, the society will sponsor two round trips from Tiburon to San Rafael on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Both trips are scheduled for the afternoon of May 6, with one planned especially for children.

Also on the program will be a color moving picture of a trip by ferry boat and train from San Francisco to Marin, to be shown through courtesy of the Pacific Coast Chapter, Railway and Locomotive Historical Society.

All events will be open to the public. The exhibit also will be open by appointment for classes of school children during the week of May 8.

George Morrison, vice president and general manager of Northwestern Pacific, also is cooperating with the society in collecting material for the exhibit, Mrs. Bastian said.

Included will be a memorial exhibit of the photo collection of Walter Howe, retired railroader who died in January. It is said by railway hobbyists to be one of the best in existence of old locomotives. Other collections to be seen include that of P. H. Kane of Mill Valley.

Marin Girl, 11, In Theater Role

Eleven-year-old Susan Howell of San Rafael will be seen in the role of Berry in the San Francisco Children's Opera Co. production of "Sinbad the Sailor" April 23 at 2:30 p.m. in San Francisco's Marine Memorial Theater.

The San Rafael girl has been with the opera company for more than two years.

Reserved seat tickets for "Sinbad the Sailor" are available at the Sherman Clay box office in San Francisco, or can be obtained by writing the San Francisco Children's Opera Assn., 245 Tenth Avenue, San Francisco.

Kiwanis Club Rodeo Queen To Be Chosen

A queen for the fourth annual rodeo of the San Rafael Kiwanis Club, set for June 4, will be chosen April 30 in a contest to be held at the Smith Brothers' Circle V Ranch at Fairfax.

Competitors must be girls aged 12 through 18, Marin County residents and able to ride a horse. They will be judged on riding ability, western attire and care of their mounts.

Proceeds from the rodeo will be used in the club's work for children in Marin County. N. A. Ballantine is chairman of the rodeo and Dr. Virgil Hollis is chairman of the queen committee.

KTIM Schedules Job Office Talk

Miss Esther Weeks, longtime employee of the San Rafael office of the California State Department of Employment, will be heard on Radio Station KTIM tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. in a broadcast explaining "Temporary Extended Unemployment Compensation."

Miss Weeks was heard last night at 6 p.m. on the station, and the broadcast is being repeated for morning listeners during Saturday at Barron's Place.

FADED... WEAK... "SNOWY" TV Pictures usually mean
YOU NEED A NEW ANTENNA

DON'T BLAME YOUR TV SET for poor reception... have your antenna checked first. After 3 years, your antenna is probably over-aged. You may not see anything wrong, but its original power has been lost due to corrosion and weather damage... resulting in faded, weak, or "snowy" reception.

If you have any of these problems, then it's a good idea to have your antenna replaced. But this time install an antenna that you can rely on to provide more years of peak performance. The antenna we recommend is the famous Channel Master T-W. No other antenna is so ruggedly built to give you extra years of trouble-free viewing pleasure.

For the best reception on any TV set...
